The state treasurer shall invest funds in the University of Wyoming permanent land fund account in a bridge loan to the University of Wyoming which shall not exceed a total of four million three hundred thousand dollars ($4,300,000.00) or the amount of binding commitments from donors which have been secured but not yet paid, whichever is less. (a) The Wyoming transportation commission shall administer a program, in conformity with the standards prescribed in 49 C.F.R. 222, for the establishment of quiet zones or the installation of wayside horns to minimize the sounding of locomotive horns in populated areas.

(b) Funds appropriated by the legislature for the program created by this section shall be maintained in a subaccount within the account established pursuant to W.S. 37-10-101 and shall be used only for the quiet zone and wayside horn program, but may be combined with other state and federal funds when a quiet zone or wayside horn is included as one of the safety devices to be installed in a grade crossing improvement project.

Upon receiving the reports, the state treasurer shall transfer from funds available in the abandoned mine land funds reserve account to the general fund an amount equal to the amounts of the expenditure reported.

(i) Forty-four million eight hundred twenty-six thousand six hundred sixty-seven dollars ($44,826,667.00) for direct distribution to cities and towns;

(ii) Sixteen million nine hundred thirteen thousand three hundred thirty-three dollars ($16,913,333.00) for direct distribution to counties;

(iii) Four million one hundred thirty thousand dollars ($4,130,000.00) for revenue challenged cities and towns;

(iv) Four million one hundred thirty thousand dollars ($4,130,000.00) for revenue challenged counties;

(v) One hundred million dollars ($100,000,000.00) for county block distribution for capital projects.

[CITY AND TOWN DIRECT DISTRIBUTION ALLOCATIONS]

(b) Funds appropriated in paragraph (a)(i) of this section are to be distributed to cities and towns in two (2) equal distributions on August 15, 2008 and on August 15, 2009, subject to the following:

(i) From these distributions each city or town with a population of thirty-five (35) or less shall first receive two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) and each city or town with a population over thirty-five (35) shall first receive five thousand dollars ($5,000.00). From the remainder each city and town shall receive amounts in accordance with a municipal supplemental funding formula as provided in this paragraph with each city or town receiving amounts in the proportion which the adjusted population of the city or town bears to the adjusted population of all cities and towns in Wyoming. The municipal supplemental funding formula shall be calculated by the office of state lands and investments as follows:

(A) Calculate the per capita distribution of sales and use tax revenues for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006 and ending June 30, 2007 to each county, including distributions to each city and town within that county, under W.S. 39-15-111 and 39-16-111, but excluding the distribution exclusively to counties under W.S. 39-15-111(b)(iii) made from an amount equivalent to one percent (1%) of the tax collected under W.S. 39-15-104, and excluding the distribution exclusively to counties under W.S. 39-16-111(b)(iii) made from an amount equivalent to one percent (1%) of the tax collected under W.S. 39-16-104;

(B) Arrange the counties in ascending order by the per capita distribution calculated;

(C) Following the arrangement of counties in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, list the population of each city and town within the county;

(D) Apply the appropriate adjustment factor determined in subdivisions (I) through (V) of this subparagraph for a county to each city and town within that county:

(I) Beginning with the county with the lowest per capita distribution, an adjustment factor of one and one-half (1.5) shall be applied to each county listed under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, so long as its incorporated population plus the incorporated population of each county with a lower per capita distribution is within the lowest tenth percentile. The adjustment factor shall be applied for each of these counties by multiplying the incorporated population of the county by one hundred fifty percent (150%);

(II) An adjustment factor determined under this subdivision shall be applied to the county with the next higher per capita distribution not qualifying for the adjustment factor under subdivision (I) of this subparagraph. The adjustment factor for this county shall be determined by:

(1) Multiplying by one hundred fifty percent (150%) that portion of the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest tenth percentile;

(2) Multiplying by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest twentieth percentile and at or above the tenth percentile;

(3) If applicable, multiplying by one hundred percent (100%) the incorporated population of that county which is at or above the twentieth percentile;

(4) Dividing the sum of the products of subdivisions (II)(1) through (3) of this subparagraph by the incorporated population of that county.

(III) If an adjustment factor has not been applied under subdivision (I) or (II) of this subparagraph, an adjustment factor of one and one-quarter (1.25) shall be applied to each county listed under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, so long as its incorporated population plus the incorporated population of each county with a lower per capita distribution does not exceed the twentieth percentile. The adjustment factor shall be applied for each of these counties by multiplying the incorporated population of the county by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%);

(IV) An adjustment factor determined under this subdivision shall be applied to the next higher listed county not qualifying for the adjustment factor under subdivision (III) of this subparagraph. The adjustment factor for this county shall be determined by:

(1) Multiplying by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) that portion of the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest twentieth percentile;

(2) Multiplying by one hundred percent (100%) the incorporated population of that county which is at or above the lowest twentieth percentile;

(3) Dividing the sum of the products of subdivisions (IV)(1) and (2) of this subparagraph by the incorporated population of that county.

(V) An adjustment factor of one (1) shall be applied to the remaining counties.

(E) Distribute the remainder of the revenues under this paragraph on a per capita basis using the total adjusted population for all cities and towns and the adjusted population for each city or town as calculated under subparagraph (D) of this paragraph;

(F) As used in this paragraph:

(I) A county's "incorporated population" means the population of all cities and towns within the county;

(II) "Percentile" means that portion of the incorporated population as listed in the arrangement of cities and towns under subparagraphs (B) and (C) of this paragraph.

[COUNTY DIRECT DISTRIBUTION ALLOCATIONS]

(c) Funds appropriated in paragraph (a)(ii) of this section are to be distributed to counties in two (2) equal distributions on August 15, 2008 and on August 15, 2009. From these distributions each county shall receive the following:

(i) An equal share of fifteen percent (15%) of the total amount to be distributed; and

(ii) Of the remaining eighty-five percent (85%), an amount to be distributed to each county in the proportion each county's population bears to the total population of the state.

[CITY AND TOWN REVENUE CHALLENGED ALLOCATIONS]

(d) Funds appropriated in paragraph (a)(iii) of this section are to be distributed to eligible cities and towns in two (2) equal distributions on August 15, 2008 and on August 15, 2009, subject to the following:

(i) Each eligible city and town shall receive amounts in accordance with a municipal supplemental funding formula as provided in this paragraph. The municipal supplemental funding formula shall be calculated by the office of state lands and investments as follows:

(A) Calculate the per capita distribution of sales and use tax revenues for the period beginning July 1, 2006 and ending June 30, 2007 to each county, including distributions to each city and town within that county, under W.S. 39-15-111 and 39-16-111, but excluding the distribution exclusively to counties under W.S. 39-15-111(b)(iii) made from an amount equivalent to one percent (1%) of the tax collected under W.S. 39-15-104, and excluding the distribution exclusively to counties under W.S. 39-16-111(b)(iii) made from an amount equivalent to one percent (1%) of the tax collected under W.S. 39-16-104;

(B) Arrange the counties in ascending order by the per capita distribution calculated;

(C) Following the arrangement of counties in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, list the population of each city and town within the county;

(D) Apply the appropriate adjustment factor determined in subdivisions (I) through (V) of this subparagraph for a county to each city and town within that county:

(I) Beginning with the county with the lowest per capita distribution, an adjustment factor of one and one-half (1.5) shall be applied to each county listed under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, so long as its incorporated population plus the incorporated population of each county with a lower per capita distribution is within the lowest tenth percentile. The adjustment factor shall be applied for each of these counties by multiplying the incorporated population of the county by one hundred fifty percent (150%);

(II) An adjustment factor determined under this subdivision shall be applied to the county with the next higher per capita distribution not qualifying for the adjustment factor under subdivision (I) of this subparagraph. The adjustment factor for this county shall be determined by:

(1) Multiplying by one hundred fifty percent (150%) that portion of the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest tenth percentile;

(2) Multiplying by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest twentieth percentile and at or above the tenth percentile;

(3) If applicable, multiplying by one hundred percent (100%) the incorporated population of that county which is at or above the twentieth percentile;

(4) Dividing the sum of the products of subdivisions (II)(1) through (3) of this subparagraph by the incorporated population of that county.

(III) If an adjustment factor has not been applied under subdivision (I) or (II) of this subparagraph, an adjustment factor of one and one-quarter (1.25) shall be applied to each county listed under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, so long as its incorporated population plus the incorporated population of each county with a lower per capita distribution does not exceed the twentieth percentile. The adjustment factor shall be applied for each of these counties by multiplying the incorporated population of the county by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%);

(IV) An adjustment factor determined under this subdivision shall be applied to the next higher listed county not qualifying for the adjustment factor under subdivision (III) of this subparagraph. The adjustment factor for this county shall be determined by:

(1) Multiplying by one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) that portion of the incorporated population of that county which is within the lowest twentieth percentile;

(2) Multiplying by one hundred percent (100%) the incorporated population of that county which is at or above the lowest twentieth percentile;

(3) Dividing the sum of the products of subdivisions (IV)(1) and (2) of this subparagraph by the incorporated population of that county.

(V) An adjustment factor of one (1) shall be applied to the remaining counties.

(E) From the adjusted population of a city or town as calculated in subparagraphs (A) through (D) of this paragraph, subtract the actual population of the city or town to determine the resulting population adjustment. Distribute the funding under this paragraph in the proportion which the population adjustment of the city or town bears to the population adjustments of all cities and towns in Wyoming as calculated under subparagraph (D) of this paragraph;

(F) As used in this paragraph:

(I) A county's "incorporated population" means the population of all cities and towns within the county;

(II) "Percentile" means that portion of the incorporated population as listed in the arrangement of cities and towns under subparagraphs (B) and (C) of this paragraph.

[COUNTY REVENUE CHALLENGED ALLOCATIONS]

(e) Funds appropriated in paragraph (a)(iv) of this section are to be distributed to eligible counties in two (2) equal distributions on August 15, 2008 and on August 15, 2009. The office of state lands and investments shall calculate the amounts to be distributed to eligible counties as determined by this subsection as follows:

(i) Multiply each county's total assessed valuation for tax year 2007 by twelve mills (.012). This amount shall represent the county property tax available;

(ii) Calculate the sum of the following to determine the county funding need:

(A) Nine hundred thousand dollars ($900,000.00); plus

(B) The product of the county population from zero (0) to five thousand (5,000) multiplied by one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00); plus

(C) The product of the county population from five thousand one (5,001) to twenty-five thousand (25,000) multiplied by one hundred twenty dollars ($120.00); plus

(D) The product of the county population above twenty-five thousand (25,000) multiplied by eighty dollars ($80.00).

(iii) Calculate the property tax shortfall for each county by subtracting the property tax available as determined by paragraph (i) of this subsection from the county funding need as determined by paragraph (ii) of this subsection. If the amount is greater than zero (0), the county shall be eligible for distribution of money under this subsection;

(iv) The amount distributed under this subsection to each eligible county shall be in the proportion that the county's property tax shortfall bears to the total property tax shortfall of all counties eligible to receive a distribution under this subsection.

[COUNTY BLOCK ALLOCATIONS - CAPITAL PROJECTS]

(f) Funds appropriated in paragraph (a)(v) of this section shall only be expended for the purpose of grants for capital improvement projects and subject to subsection (g) of this section shall be allocated for each county as follows:

(i) To each county an amount equal to the amount allocated in paragraph (a)(v) of this section multiplied by eighty percent (80%) divided by the total state population and multiplied by the county's population; plus

(ii) To each county, an amount equal to the remainder of the amount allocated in paragraph (a)(v) of this section multiplied by each county's inverse per capita assessed valuation factor computed as follows:

(A) Divide each county's tax year 2007 assessed valuation by that county's population to compute county assessed valuation per capita and the total state tax year 2007 assessed valuation by the total state population to compute state assessed valuation per capita;

(B) Divide the state assessed valuation per capita by each county's assessed valuation per capita to compute an inverse ratio for each county;

(C) Sum all the county inverse ratios computed in subparagraph (f)(ii)(B) of this section for a state total inverse ratio;

(D) Divide each county's inverse ratio by the state total inverse ratio to compute each county's inverse per capita assessed valuation factor.

(g) Funds subject to subsection (f) of this section shall only be expended for capital projects including capital projects constructed by special districts. To be eligible for the grants, the board of county commissioners and the governing bodies of the cities and towns within that county that comprise at least seventy percent (70%) of the incorporated population shall certify to the state loan and investment board that they have reached agreement on the projects for which the funds will be used.

(h) For purposes of this section, population is to be determined by resort to the latest decennial federal census as updated by the bureau of census.

(j) Any political subdivision which impedes the establishment of any necessary cellular tower or other equipment site required for the WyoLink interoperable public safety communications system on any property owned by that political subdivision shall not be eligible to receive monies distributed under this section.

The "industry average calculated by the department" means the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code for 3318 bakeries, 4451 grocers, 4452 specialty foods, 4471 convenience stores, 4521 department stores and 4529 general merchandise.

[CITY AND TOWN DIRECT DISTRIBUTION ALLOCATIONS]

The assistance available under this section shall supplement district resources for its at-risk program strategies by providing resources for tutor instruction, allowing one-on-one instruction by certified teachers to struggling students and expanding its total continuum of district learning support services addressing at-risk children. Expenditure of financial assistance under this section shall be limited to tutor instruction only.

(b) Each school district may apply to the department of education for financial assistance under this section on or before April 15, 2008. Application shall be on a form and in a manner prescribed by the department and application review and selection shall be in accordance with a process established by department rule and regulation. At minimum, the application shall include documentation of the following:

(i) Evidence of employment of certified teachers as tutors at the school level for provision of one-on-one student instruction;

(ii) Evidence of a research-based approach to the use of tutors as part of the district's overall at-risk strategy;

(iii) A plan for evaluation of the tutor instruction program over time.

(c) The department shall notify each district of its eligibility to participate in the financial assistance program on or before May 1, 2008, together with any estimated amount to be made available to the district for this school year. The department shall distribute assistance to each eligible district on or before August 15, 2008.

(d) Financial assistance under this section shall be based upon prior year school level attendance and configuration reports submitted by each eligible school district pursuant to W.S. 21-13-309(m)(iv). Amounts shall be computed by the department for the eligible applicant district as if the education resource block grant model contained the following component for tutors, prorated up and down from the FTE position level specified for each prototype for the minimum FTE computation under paragraph (ii) of this subsection, similar to computational operation of other components within the block grant model:

(i) One (1.0) FTE certified teacher position for every one hundred (100) at-risk students;

(ii) The amount computed under paragraph (i) of this subsection shall be subject to a minimum of one (1) FTE certified teacher position for each prototypical elementary, middle and high school within the qualifying district;

(iii) "FTE" and "ADM" as used in this section shall be as defined in ATTACHMENT "A" to 2006 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 37, as referenced in W.S. 21-13-101(a)(xvii).

(e) Financial assistance to each qualifying applicant school district shall be made by the department from amounts appropriated by the legislature to the foundation program account for purposes of this section and shall be in addition to the foundation program amount computed for that district under W.S. 21-13-309(p) for school year 2008-2009. If there is an insufficient amount within the foundation program account from amounts appropriated by the legislature for financial assistance under this section, the department shall make a pro rata reduction in financial assistance payments among all qualifying districts for school year 2008-2009. District expenditures of amounts distributed under this section shall be solely for district tutor instruction in accordance with the program documentation submitted by the district under subsection (b) of this section. The department may withhold a portion or the entire amount to be distributed to any district under this section for noncompliance with program documentation submitted by the applicant district.

(f) Each district shall report to the department of education on expenditures of amounts distributed under this section together with additional information required by the department on at-risk strategies employed by the district, the impact of tutors on student performance and an evaluation of the effectiveness of tutor instruction as a component of the at-risk strategies employed by the recipient district. The department shall compile the information reported by districts under this subsection and report the compilation to the joint education interim committee.

2008 BUDGET SESSION
MARCH 7, 2008

Mr. President, members of the Senate for the State of Wyoming, I appreciate the opportunity to greet you and to bid you farewell.

As you know at this stage of the session, we look back and there are bills that everybody's worked on, some of which made it, some of which didn't. We all have some degree of disappointment. There is some disappointment I have as chief executive in terms of the CBM discharge bill, some health care bills, property tax relief, but those disappointments are dwarfed by what I believe to be a substantial body of work accomplished during the last 20 legislative days.

Our first mission when we gather here pursuant to the constitution is to concentrate on the adoption of a budget, and we did that - a fairly substantial budget and one which was adopted largely premised on a presentation of a budget in which we included all of the funding items. And I think that's an important step. Where we included all of the local government funding, all of the transportation funding and all of the other categories because it set us in context. If one wanted to add money to highways, they had to take it from somewhere. If you wanted to add money to local governments, you had to take it from somewhere. And so you were placed in the context that a budget process accounted for the relative speed and dispatch with which the budget was adopted as much as anything. In addition to that, the Appropriations Committee under the leadership of the chairman spent a great deal of time educating themselves as to the requests that you as individual members would hear from agencies or interest groups to come and add money. And each of those then could be discussed - not in the context of an individual bill, not in the context of an individual proposal - but in the context of an overall budget that we're prepared to live with for the next two years.

The other thing that's important to realize is that we will return here next session - most of us will return here next session to confront what will be additional available revenue. I report to you that the price of natural gas today at Opal is $8.96 which makes me an incredibly good governor and makes you incredibly good representatives of the state of Wyoming. The point being that as you go home and you think about what we confront in the next session, there are two things that are important. One is that there will be revenues, but revenues that now become focused on the question of: How do we no longer make up for 20 years of no revenue, but how do we use these revenues to continue to advance us on a path of excellence and advancement for the citizens of this state?

In prior years, a lot of the funding was really making up for things that we weren't able to do when we didn't have the funding. We've established the base in this budget, and next session we will have the opportunity to take that base funding and to go from there to excellence.

I also know that there are a number of lobbyists - I've heard from them - who have talked about how incredibly dull this session has been, that there's nothing to do. I think part of that is simply because they don't have anything to bill their clients for. On the other hand I think it also reflects the fact that what this session has been - it's been relatively quiet, but it has not been unproductive and in fact the session really is, is that still waters run deep. If you look at the breadth of legislation that you considered and the breadth of budget items that you considered, there is much that has been done for the state. Obviously the initial attention will go to the efforts that have had to do with carbon capture and sequestration - that seems to be the one that captures the national eye, in part because this is in fact the first body to substantively address the issue. Most of the bills that have passed I refer to them as having no effect during the life and begin of the current politician in office. They talk about what they're going to do in 2020. What this legislature did is talk about what we're going to do now and how we're going to act to actually implement the efforts. I commend you for that.

But there are also other bills, all of which you saw come through, bills that both in terms of change of language and change of attitude afford the recognition of the human dignity of every citizen in the state. We took steps that understand the importance of education, which is fully funded. We took steps to understand the importance of property rights, the proper role of counties. I think it's been a pretty remarkable session. And remember, you did it all in 20 days.

So, one of the reasons the session was relatively quiet is when you have a lot of work to do, you don't have a lot of time to do anything else. And I watched people struggle over the bills, try to understand what it is you are voting on, and I commend all of you for those efforts.

It is a session which will be reflected upon as time goes by as a session in which we put the capstone on the efforts to build a budget framework that addressed the needs of the past and began to lay the framework for where we go in future years.

Because as public servants we have an obligation, and that obligation to the people who elected us is that we have to put aside the sort of temporary disappointments or the penchant for the speaker to be wrong and for me to set that aside and understand that at the end of the day we owe the citizens who elected us a collegial relationship in which we work to move things forward.

Two other items: one is contained in the budget and some of the other legislation are some steps that I think are going to turn out very important with regard to the management of the state's resources. We've talked about some of them in terms of CO2, but the others are those things we did with regard to sensitive species, wildlife, and game and fish. If you think about it, at least when I first came into office, we were confronted with a series of threatened and endangered listings with regard to species. We spent literally hundreds of thousands of dollars dealing with that, doing research and really trying to take care of a problem, as we used to say, after the horse is out of the barn we were trying to close the door. One of the things that you've done in this session is establish the proposition that we're going to be proactive with regard to looking at sensitive species going forward, so that in fact in the context of a properly structured state regulatory framework, we're going to be able to participate and try to make sure that those decisions at the federal level are considered properly. It is not a small thing for us to have done that, for ultimately those decisions which affect the resources of the state, ripple through and can undermine the very economy on which we rely, an economy which allows us to fund education at phenomenal levels, do things like the Hathaway scholarship, fund the Wildlife Trust Fund, put money in the Cultural Trust Fund, have a funding level for mental health and substance abuse which is the envy of states all around us. It is a remarkable circumstance that we have, but it is not a circumstance that will be maintained without continued diligence, and I appreciate the work of the Legislature in trying to make forward-thinking decisions about how to protect us as citizens and to protect our economy.

The second issue is to simply thank you for just the human courtesies that this body affords to myself and to my bride in that, whether it's when you arrive at the house for the dinner or when we see each other in the hall or when we gather, frankly to disagree, I appreciate the fact that in Wyoming we do that in a way that is both civil and constructive, recognizing that not all of us are going to always agree. In fact, those of you who know Nancy and I know that she and I don't always agree and in that case, I'm the one who's wrong. When you and I disagree, you're the ones who are wrong. But we have something that they do not have in some other states and they certainly do not have in the nation's capital, and that is the capacity to recognize that our obligation to the people who elected us and our obligation to those that will follow us includes maintaining a degree of civility, a degree of substance to our discussions, and a degree of rejection of the siren call from each of our political parties to bash the other side, not because of the substance but because the opportunity exists. I appreciate what you do for the state. I appreciate the courtesies that you have shown to my wife and me. I am delighted that you have all shared this time with us. I am also delighted that you're leaving and please don't take offense by my next comment that it won't bother me a lot that I won't see you guys for a while. God bless you.
