FIRST DAY
GENERAL SESSION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
SIXTY-FOURTH STATE LEGISLATURE
JANUARY 10, 2017

House Chamber

The Joint Session of the Sixty-Fourth Wyoming Legislature, General Session was called to order by the House Sergeant-at-Arms at 12:00 p.m.

The Honorable Karen Wheeler, Deputy Secretary of State, escorted by Representatives Baker and Kirkbride.

The Honorable Ed Murray, Secretary of State, escorted by Representatives Olsen and Pownall.

Secretary of State, Ed Murray called the house to order and the Sergeant-of-Arms announced the Honorable William Hill, Wyoming Supreme Court Justice, escorted by Representatives Walters and Loucks.

The Natrona County High School Jr. ROTC posted the colors, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance by the body.

The prayer was given by Father August Koenue, St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

OPENING ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE
EDWARD F. MURRAY, III

Good Afternoon. It is a great privilege to welcome you all to the opening of the 64th Wyoming Legislature, House of Representatives General Session. To you, the esteemed elected, soon to be sworn in as members of the 64th, and to your family members and your friends, to Justice Hill, Father August, and other distinguished guests, to my wife, Caren, and to all citizens of Wyoming here present or watching or listening from across this Great State - I extend to you all a warm Wyoming welcome.

How blessed we are to live in Wyoming, the greatest State in the Nation! We are the 10th largest State in total area, but the least populated. Our population makes us unique, in fact, remarkable. And all of you know what it's like to meet someone when you're outside Wyoming who says to you: "You're the first person I've ever met from Wyoming." And you're instantly notable and remembered. And that's because in Wyoming we are family, and we convey that in good times and in bad, through floods, fires, loss, any adversity - economic or otherwise - no other state comes together or stands strong like Wyoming. That is why Wyoming, as big as we are, is called a small town with very long streets.

God has blessed Wyoming abundantly, just as He has the lives of our citizens and especially each of you who will be having the opportunity to serve this Great State in these chambers. To you, the 20 new members beginning your term, I believe you'll find this opportunity one of the greatest honors of your lives.

And to you, the seasoned legislators - including new leadership: Speaker Harshman; Floor Leader Miller; Speaker Pro Tern Burkhart; Majority Whip Sommers, Minority Floor Leader Connolly; Minority Whip Pelkey; Minority Caucus Chair Freeman: as well as to all new committee chairmen-congratulations! The leadership that you'll provide will be invaluable. And your mentorship in and of itself is a gift, not only to those you help nurture along their ways but to you. What a gift it is to help another.

Now each of you, all 60 of you present, I believe are being called to one of the highest callings expected of us as humans- service to our State and to our country. Scripture has it: "To whom much has been given, much is required."

Thomas Jefferson said it this way: "There is a debt of service due from every man to his country, proportioned to the bounties which nature and fortune have measured to him." For Thomas Jefferson and our countries founders "the pursuit of happiness" as contemplated in the Declaration of Independence meant those feeling of "self-worth" and "dignity" you acquire by "giving of yourself" and contributing to your community and its civic life. So the "pursuit of happiness" was about an individual's contribution and service to society rather than pursuits of self-gratification.

And this service that each of you give extends to each of your families who love and support you, and their sacrifice while you are away from home. They deserve daily our thanks for all that they do for us while you are working so hard. Let us take a moment to show our appreciation to your spouses, children, parents and loved ones present.

Ladies and Gentlemen, Wyoming is at very important and historic crossroads. The question is: How will Wyoming engage this opportunity? Make no mistake: Wyoming's future hangs in the balance. During this legislative session, you have the ability to take decisive action to strengthen Wyoming and begin a bold new chapter in our State's history. And I know that you will seize this opportunity and help chart a course for this generation and for generations to come.

I do strongly believe that the youth of Wyoming should be the center of our approach to the future. And I'm convicted in my belief that they, our children, are "Acres of Diamonds." We must recognize the value and importance of our youth to the future prosperity of our State. And I know each of you do. Wyoming's youth are departing our State at a rate depriving us of our greatest resource. Over 60% of our youth between the ages of 18 to 29 are leaving for opportunities beyond our borders. We must find a way to allow our children to remain here to have good jobs, and live and raise their own families here in Wyoming.

Above all, we must never forget where we have come from in order to determine where we are going. Wyoming, as we know it now, simply didn't come to be. It's been over 126 years of hard work, grit, perseverance, leadership and love that created this State. In Wyoming's storied history, there are many examples of strong and industrious men and women, fighting to secure a role for all. But one person's pioneering spirit stands out in my mind today. A person who faced great hardship in her life, she was the wife of a saloon owner on the continental divide in South Pass City. A person of incredible fortitude and talent, who stood up for all pioneering peoples: Esther Hobart Morris. She stood firm for her entire life for what she knew to be right - "a woman's right to vote" and she made a difference; in Wyoming and in this nation. She is an example that one person, cloaked in truth, can change the world.

And this same spirit with which Esther Hobart Morris lived during her life, lives on in the people of Wyoming today. We have it in our blood, we have it in our State, we have it in our people, and we have it here in this body - the 64th Wyoming State Legislature! Now is your time to add to the course of Wyoming's history!

And never let yourselves think for a moment that you are not capable of making a significant impact on this body, on this State, and in the lives of your constituents. Your passion and energy are exactly what this State needs over the next 40 days. And the experiences you bring from every walk of life, from all across Wyoming, will add value, and each of your legislative successes will reverberate across this Great State.

You have every opportunity as you begin your work today to be one of the most impactful legislatures in our State's history.

May God Bless you, may God Bless the 64th Legislature, and may God Bless the Great State of Wyoming!

ELECTION OF TEMPORARY SPEAKER

Representative Nicholas nominated Representative Jerry Paxton for Temporary Speaker. The motion carried on a voice vote. Representatives Kinner and Bovee escorted Temporary Speaker Paxton to the chair.

ELECTION OF TEMPORARY CHIEF CLERK

Representative Sommers moved that Wendy Harding be appointed Temporary Chief Clerk. The motion carried on a voice vote.

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT

Representative Paxton appointed Representative Walters to serve as chairman of a credentials committee consisting of Representatives Zwonitzer, Wilson, Lindholm and Allen. The committee will convene in the office of the Majority Floor Leader. This committee shall report its finding as to the credentials of the membership of the House pursuant to Article 3, Section 10, of the Wyoming Constitution.

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE REPORT

Representative Walters reported that the credentials committee has received from the Secretary of State a certified list of the members elected to the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth Legislature of the State of Wyoming, according to the Certificates of the State Canvassing Board as filed in the office of the Secretary of State. We have reviewed that list and find it to be accurate. I move the adoption of this report.

Justice Hill was asked to come to the rostrum to administer the oaths of office to House members.

STATE OF WYOMING

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, Ed Murraray, Secretary of State of the State of Wyoming, do hereby certify that the attached is a full, true and correct list of the members of the Sixty-fourth Legislature of the State of Wyoming duly elected at the General Election held on the eighth day of November 2017 according to the Certificates of the State Canvassing Board, as filed in this office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Wyoming. Done at Cheyenne, the Capital, this 16th day of November A.D., 2016.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE
STEVE HARSHMAN

Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Speaker Pro Tem, Mr. Majority Whip, Madame Minority Leader, Mr. Minority Whip, fellow legislators of the 64th Wyoming Legislature, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen: I want to begin my first words as your Speaker by saying Thank you. Thank you all, each and every one of you for your support and encouragement it is an honor and I pledge do my very best. I especially want to thank the people of Casper and Natrona County who have entrusted me to represent them.

Father, thank you for being here today and delivering the invocation. We trust that you will pray for us as we do this work for the next 40 days.

Thank you to the Natrona County Jr. ROTC cadet corp for their presentation of the colors. We have the two oldest cadet corps in the country right here in Wyoming. The oldest is here in Cheyenne and the 2nd oldest is in Casper. This is the Mustang Battalion's 103rd year. They are mentored by my friends and colleagues Colonel Scholtzer and First Sgt Riggs.

Thank you to the Natrona County Jazz Ensemble for your beautiful rendition of the world's greatest song, our National Anthem. It is an honor for me to have you here today. Their teacher is my colleague Steve Grussendorf who is a master teacher, a Wyoming boy who has enriched thousands of young lives over the decades of service in Wyoming.

Justice Hill, thank you for being here today. As we all know, in Wyoming we are all connected and I recalled as your escort a few years ago for this ceremony we visited when you were in Mustang Stadium in 2005 for a Semi-final playoff football game between the oldest rivalry in the state, the Cheyenne Indians and the Casper Mustangs and on the last play of the season on 4th down in OT your son Brian pushed the ball over the goal line to break our hearts in Casper. I said to Justice Hill, "you know I can still see Brian go over the goal line" and he smiled and looked at me and said, "me too."

Thank you to my Family that is here today: I have my niece Kristen and her husband Ian and their 3 children John David, Isabella and Addie. Thank you for being here. I am the youngest of 5 boys. I think my Mom was hoping I was a girl. Instead her and my Dad gave us the best upbringing imaginable in the middle of Wyoming. As the youngest boy I seemed to get the most bloodied noses and have the most "accidents." My brothers and I epitomized the phrase multiple-use of the land. It was classic small town Wyoming where we lived everyday outside, experienced all the goodness of our community and our state. To my mom June Harshman who was a teenager when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, thank you for the life you gave me and for all your love, looking back you were the perfect Mom for the five of us. To my older brothers who are here, Mike and Gary, thank you and to my Dad and brother Brian who are watching from the balcony way above thank you as well. In the end all we have is family and I LOVE you and I appreciate your love and support.

I have four great kids. Thankfully they have taken after their mother. They have all served as pages in these chambers. Sara was in 6th grade when I was first elected, she shares my love for history and politics and graduated from the University of Wyoming and lives in Sheridan. Sara also served as a Congressional Page one summer in D.C. Megan is finishing up college in Casper studying to be a teacher. Josh is a sophomore at the University of Wyoming and is a pre-med student and Jesse who we call Big Jess is a junior at Natrona County High School. Jess was 3 years old when I was first sworn in. We have a lot of great memories of them spending time in Cheyenne, having fun at the Hitching Post. It has all gone fast. I estimated that I have spent a year and a half away from home the last 14 years while you were growing up. My hope is that somehow we have all learned that you build a life not by what you earn but by what you give. We are all prisoners of the English Language because it is hard to say what you really mean and what you really feel. I just want to let you 4 know how much I appreciate you and how proud I am of you for what kind of people you are, I appreciate how hard you work and how much you care. Thank you and I love you.

Lastly, my wife BECKY. We are all lucky if we can have a best friend in our life. We are even more lucky when that person is our spouse. She is my life partner and we have had a blessed life together. She has always supported and protected me and lined me out when I needed it. She has been the rock of our family making this service in the Legislature possible. Thank you, Becky. Not only have you given me your love but you have given me everything.

It is with a humble heart and an attitude of gratitude that I stand before you as your Speaker. Many who have helped me through the years are no longer here, yet they are not forgotten. As the last member of the 57th legislature I was one of 3 "30 somethings" as we were the youngest members back then. Today we have 4 in their 20's and 8 in their 30's. This infusion of youth will serve our state well.

My advice to you young members and to all of us, is that we should never forget that our time here is very fleeting.

Our state is built on over 125 years of history. We open this legislative session as only the 64th legislature to sit in this state. There are less than 2000 people in our states history that have served. We are unique as we are the only legislature that will serve our entire term outside of our Capitol. Our forefathers knew the importance of architecture' and its impact on history, debate and the work that is done for the people of our state. We will not have the benefit of their work as we will be conducting the people's business in these temporary chambers. In doing so we are doing what our predecessors did—leaving a legacy in the form of a remodeled capitol, that will serve the people of the state of Wyoming well beyond our lifetimes. It will look much like it did after its initial construction. Our people will be able to walk into the original territorial chamber where our founders looked out the North windows toward Fort Laramie as we debated and became the first government in the world that granted women the right to vote. It is important that we finish this work and become engaged in it. As the tenants of the temporary Capitol we need to continue to observe the decorum and the dignity that the House Chamber imposed on us. We need to continue the openness to the public that the Capitol granted. Again we would do well to remember those who went before us and appreciate our founders and what they built and left for us. Now it is our turn.

As we walk the halls of this temporary Capitol take time to reflect on the historic pictures, on our predecessors who have labored before us. Who toiled on the same issues we will work on. They lost sleep, had butterflies, worried and worked....They experienced the same emotions, they experienced joy and frustration, they got mad and they got over it, except perhaps the 12th Legislature in 1913, the only time Republicans and Democrats would not have their pictures in the same portrait. They are all on the walls, most of them have left this world. Now it is our turn to continue this work for our brief period of service. Always remember that the wisdom of the group is more powerful than any of our individual goals. Our differences are what tend to be emphasized, but it is this common work that moves our state forward. We are wise to reflect on this, and commit ourselves to do the hard work that will be focused on the next generation.

This is the people's house and it is essential for us to act in a way that brings credit to the people of the State of Wyoming. We will do this by observing the decorum, and process produced by over 125 years of experience. We are all duly elected, we will all have a chance to put our best ideas forward. Then they will be refined, improved and perhaps rise to the top. Other ideas will be left behind to rise another day.

Truly the CORE ISSUES OF THE STATE remain unchanged since statehood. I want to visit with you about 4 of them specifically, the first being: OUR BUDGET.

As the appropriations branch of government. Our budget is divided into two major parts, first the General Fund side of the budget. Adjusted for inflation our budget is the same as it was in 2005. We are getting close to a balanced budget on the GF side. More work needs to be done but we are close. The other side of the budget, is the School Foundation side of the budget. I want to talk about Education for a few minutes: the last fifteen years has seen the University of Wyoming develop into a Tier 1 university. The wealth of our state and the generosity of private donors has been transformational. This similar development has occurred at our Community Colleges. If you have not been on one of our University or College campus lately you should go and walk around, feel the energy. These institutions are where the next generation of Wyoming leaders are being developed, where our economy is being diversified, where our state's future is being built.

This amazing transformation has taken place in our K-12 system as well. Most of our knowledge of how schools operate in Wyoming is limited to what we experienced 10-20-30-or 40 plus years ago. However, the world has changed and so has K-12 education. The challenges are greater, the level of learning is greater and the expectations are greater than ever before. Wyoming now has the highest graduation rate in our state's history. Just last week we were ranked 7th in the U.S. in quality of K-12 education. The highest state west of the Mississippi. We have the smartest kids in the history of our state and we are now faced with the greatest funding challenge in the history of our state. Our education system is more dependent on mineral development than any other segment of our government. 65% of the funding for the daily operations of our schools comes from the taxes paid by mineral producers. No other segment of government service is that dependent on mineral production. We have faced downturns before. But, this time is different because the drop was so sudden and so drastic that we are facing a 25% loss in revenue for the day to day operations of our schools. This of course does not include major maintenance and construction which has been 100% dependent on mineral extraction and faces a total loss of funding with the end of federal coal lease bonus payments.

Our schools are our first Constitutional priority.

This is arguably the biggest fiscal challenge the state has ever seen. To solve this problem we must get creative and get to work on a solution. When you have a problem this big it is too big to cut and too big to tax. I think the outline of a plan that we all read in the Education White Paper is a great starting point. We have 8 weeks to figure it out. Should we fail to do so, I have a bill that would create a 'Super Committee' tasked with addressing our education shortfall in a special session. But I say, "failure is not an option." We have the right people, right here, in this room to tackle this challenge. I want ALL OF US to be the 'Super Committee.' We can do this in the next 8 weeks.

Next I want to touch on Economic Development.

When it comes to economic development, there are pockets of greatness in local communities across Wyoming. On the state level, we need to sharpen our work. We have had executive branch initiatives and legislative initiatives, but none of these stands the test of time as leadership changes and progress is lost. Our goal should be to unite our existing efforts, refocus on identifying our strengths, make the contacts, have a big dream and work to build on and leverage our amazing resources. This is a multi-faceted goal. It involves good jobs, livable communities, opportunities for kids - all of which starts with our people. I will be working with you to bring coordination and staying power to these efforts.

Another major topic of discussion this session will be public lands, and specifically, Federal Mineral Royalties. Nearly half of Wyoming is owned by the federal government as well as 67% of the minerals. When Federal minerals are produced we as a state receive half of the royalty payments called Federal Mineral Royalties. Unfortunately, we are one of the slowest permitting states in the country. Decades for grazing leases, decades for mineral development to proceed. We have to get common sense and local people helping regulate and guarantee access and the multiple use of our federal lands. The law of multiple use is slowly, methodically and continually being eroded away. My concern is that once development of minerals and livestock grazing is pushed out, the attention of federal regulators will turn to recreation, hunters and anglers as the next to be kicked off the land. This is real. This is our families. This is our jobs and the revenue that educates our kids and provides for our university and makes our state run. We will work with our federal partners to bring common sense and local people back into the decision making and management of our public lands. We will not go away quietly, this is foundational to our future as a state. This issues has become muddled quickly...ownership is not the key issues, it is management. We need to unite Ag, Minerals and Recreation users of our public lands. We all want the same thing...open, multiple use.

Finally I want to talk to you about our Young People: In 1981, the year I graduated from Midwest High School, there were 104,000 students in our K-12 system. By 1991 we had lost over 20,000 students and our enrollment was 83,000. Last year Wyoming reached 94,000 students, but we have never regained the young people we lost. Today, 60% of our 18-25 year olds leave Wyoming to find opportunity outside their home state. Wyoming continues to have many firsts, we are ranked the best state to retire in, the best state for military families, the most business friendly, the lowest crime etc...I think we should make it a clear goal that we want Wyoming to be the #1 state in the country for young people to live and raise a family. It is crucial to get the word out...we have great schools, vibrant downtowns and livable communities. We are a state filled with opportunity. Our young people are out most precious resource, our future. Wyoming is such a wonderful place, the best place for young people to build a future and raise a family. To live the American Dream.

As Governor Sullivan said, Wyoming is a small town with long streets. We all know each other or we know someone that knows each other. This is a tremendous advantage for us and for our children. This connectedness allows us to come here and accomplish a tremendous amount of work in 40 days. Let's not forget what a blessing this is and what a blessing it is to serve this precious state that we all love.

In conclusion, I ask that God Bless those in uniform who allow us to continue this uniquely American experiment. God Bless all of you, God Bless the State of Wyoming and God Bless the United State of America.

ADDRESS BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER OF THE HOUSE
DAVID MILLER

Secretary of State Murray, Justice Hill, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker Pro Tem, Madam Minority Floor Leader, Majority and Minority Whips, Members of the 64th, our distinguished guests and the people of Wyoming, it is an honor to stand before you today as your Majority Floor Leader, thank you for your vote of confidence and I promise to serve you to the best of my ability and to do the best for the people of Wyoming.

First off I want to thank my wife, Wendy, of nearly 40 years to allow me to pursue this political life for the last 16 years, thank you and I love you. My four grown children all endured my absence during January and February each year, thank you for helping out and supporting each other. Today I do have my son, Brett and his wife Joyti here to celebrate this occasion.

The 64th Legislature faces a big challenge, however I know this body, the 64th Legislature will raise to the occasion and come up with solutions to the many issues facing us. Fellow Legislators thank you for stepping up to help Wyoming, with our varied backgrounds, our life experience and the support of our families and communities back home we will get the job done.

These are not easy times, both internationally, nationally, and here in Wyoming we face many problems. In Wyoming our issues are clear, we do live in a boom and bust cycle, that is a fact, and that is not going to change. I will say THANK GOD FOR THE BOOMS, Wyoming has done well by them. We have spent a lot, we have saved a lot, and we have built a lot, but now we must tighten our belts and live within our revenues.

I will address three issues today.

First Revenue and Spending

Over my tenure in the legislature our revenue has increased by 260%, interesting enough our spending has also increased by 260%. We have grown state government jobs by 2,000 and local government jobs by nearly 10,000.

Just looking at those two facts in government job growth that explains our current shortfalls, the 2,000 jobs in state government equates to 200 million in spending, local government over 1/2 billion!

Second Education

When I entered the legislature, Wyoming school teachers were among the lowest paid in the nation, now they are in the top 10. We did a good thing, we attracted many new, highly qualified teachers during these boom years to fill in for the retiring good teachers from the last boom. We have also addressed our school facilities, we as a state can be proud of all of our new schools in nearly every community across the state. We did well!

Third Revenues and Taxation

Members of the 64th, we tax minerals, that is the source of our income. Diversifying the economy will not diversify the tax base! In fact every non mineral job is a further drain on our limited revenues. Minerals can support Wyoming in perpetuity, however that requires access to the minerals. We can diversify the economy by diversity mineral extraction, but it must be allowed to operate.

Permitting delays, lawsuits, and slow walking of approvals is death to our minerals business. Taking 10 years and longer is insanity and a recipe for fiscal disaster. Image if the high tech businesses had to wait 10 years for approval to do anything, they would be left in the dustbin of history. That is what we face if we do not get a handle on this problem. We love to say this is a Federal issue, but some of our own state agencies are part of the problem. We must address these delays to energy and mineral development or Wyoming will slowly die a death by a thousand cuts.

With that Mr. Speaker, I thank the body for the confidence in me as Majority Floor Leader, let's get to work!

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM OF THE HOUSE DONALD BURKHART

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Majority Whip, leadership of the minority party, my brothers and sisters of the 64th Wyoming Legislature. It is with humility and pride and honor that I stand here before you. You've bestowed on me a great honor to serve as your Speaker Pro Tem. I thank you for that.

First let me thank our armed forces. We are here and we can do this because we have the freedom protected by them, my sincere thank you to all of our armed forces, especially those Wyoming service people who are currently serving overseas. I want to thank the people of my district of Rawlins and Sinclair for sending me here to serve them in their place.

Especially want to thank my family, my wonderful wife Mary, who is sitting over here, who have supported me all these years. In some ways, I guess you can say she has put up with me. I think all of us know that feeling, thank you.

Wyoming is the greatest state in the country. I think all of you have seen that bumper sticker that says "Wyoming is what America was." And we are here to protect that. We are truly blessed to live here. If you look at all the other states in the country everyone wants to live here. Ask the visitors.

This is the people's house, and for the next 40 days and yes maybe 40 nights we advocate for the people of our districts and for the people of this state, for those who are the greatest asset to this state, the people. We have great challenges before us, you have heard the other speakers talk about the current state of the state and the governor will address this tomorrow. With those challenges come great opportunities and we do have great opportunities. Think about that vision you have for the state and to set Wyoming on a path for a better and greater future. I believe we have the right people with the right ideas, the right ideals, and the right place at the right time to seize those opportunities and achieve that greatness for the state. To make us what we really want to be. Those opportunities set forward for us a path to achieve economic development, to achieve economic goals, to stop federal overreach, to provide great education for our children, to right size this state government the way we all want it. We will solve those issues for Wyoming in the Wyoming way. We will do it ourselves. We will take that on ourselves and we will work hard and do it. I would ask that you remember what it means to be a Wyoming legislator, as the good speaker said "there are very few people who have ever sat in these chairs." You belong to a very special group of people. I heard the number one time was actually less than 1700 people who have ever sat here and done the people's work. We are a citizen legislature and that's what we want to stay. People are amazed that we leave our families, our homes, our communities and come to Cheyenne and spend the time doing the people's work then go back to our businesses, our families, our homes and continue to do that work there. So I would ask that we all be leaders and that is not a choice we have. We were all elected to these positions. We can't look around and say "who else is going to do this?" It is us! We are required to do it. We want to do it and we can. We must lead with those things, actually we talked about in this room for the new people just the other day, with integrity and courage even if that's hard at the times and it's not an easy path to follow with responsibility. Yes we will cast some votes that will make us unhappy at home, but that is our job. We have to be responsible for those. We have to lead with justice and at the same time with empathy for other people. We serve the people and we must remember that continually. We have to lead with humility and speak the truth from our hearts. And sometimes that's a difficult path. We must do the right thing and what is right is not always easy, you have to use that internal compass of your own principles and morals. When we leave this institution, I would hope we leave it better than when we got here. If we go away in 40 days and say we are not better off than when we were when we started we probably haven't done our job. We have to say that we have improved the state and made the lives of its citizens better than it was. I remind you of some advice my wife Mary gives me once in a while and it kind of keeps me on the good path which is be firm, be tough when you have to, but remember to be fair and kind.

I pledge to you to do my best efforts in serving the people of my district, my brothers and sisters in the 64th, the great state of Wyoming and this great country. I would say God Bless to all of you and your families. God Bless Wyoming. God Bless America. Thank you very much.

ADDRESS BY MINORITY FLOOR LEADER OF THE HOUSE
CATHY CONNOLLY

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Justice Hill, statewide leadership, distinguished guests, and colleagues of the 64th. Let me introduce my wife, Julie, and son, Lucas, who are here with me today and thank them for their love, patience and humor. And let me recognize my chosen family who have also loved and supported me, some for decades. I am thankful to have them in my life and heart, my extended family in Laramie, Buffalo and Seattle and especially to Melanie and Aimee. I am humbled to be here before you.

To be honest, on Sunday I had a completely different speech. It was full of data and statistics on oil prices, prisons, mental health, tax policy and it even had a quote from the President of Liberia - it still does. But, after reading it out loud to my son, he told me in the most annoyingly but helpful way that it was "Mom...seriously...sooo boring," and "where is Lithuania?" - which as the good professor and mom, I huffed that Liberia and Lithuania are two different countries and made him "google it". But then I took his advice to let you know a little bit about me because as we all know; the work here is all about relationships with each other.

Over two decades ago I moved my family here from Buffalo, NY for a great job as a professor at UW. Let's face it, I was scared to uproot my family and start again and so was Lucas who was six at that time. For some reason, he believed that behind every prairie cactus was a frightening "Gila Monster" out to get a boy who knew nothing of them much less jackalopes, and I simply thought I would bomb as a professor, that I would fail, that I might not be good enough. The first time Lucas saw a cactus he cried and demanded "to go home." Of course we didn't. And the first time I felt like I wasn't connecting to my students or wondered what had I gotten myself into moving to Wyoming, I realized that just like with the imaginary Gila monsters, that I could work through it and probably like Lucas just needed some ice cream. I have loved my career at UW and still do, I believe in UW's mission, its commitment to our students, and its commitment to excellence. As a UW professor, you are expected to make a difference not only with your scholarship but also in your classroom - in the lives of your students, in your community, and in your state. It's the Wyoming way. When something needs to get done - you gather the horses, rally the troops, and simply do the work, and I loved it.

So about 9 years ago, I was asked to consider running for an open seat in the legislature, "Seriously? I thought!? A New York transplant, an unapologetic boringly gay, progressive Democrat ... In Wyoming?" The answer had to be yes!

Wyoming had given me so much- in a career, in a home, and in a community for my family. I didn't take the ask or the ultimate responsibility lightly. I knew there were things to be done. My experiences as a board member of our anti-domestic violence program in Laramie showed me that our criminal laws regarding assault imagined two guys in a bar fight, not battered intimate partners. Our laws needed to reflect that violence as unacceptable, as deplorable. I worked daily with young men and women who needed access to reproductive health, and both my parents had recently died of cancer and so I joined our community board at our reproductive health center to work on access to cancer screenings and birth control. It wasn't enough to be an advocate for high quality education, who isn't ... but instead we need to recognize that all kids don't learn in the same way nor have the same lived family experiences when they walk through their school house doors. We need to consider the teenage drug addict, the pregnant girl, the hungry kid as well the whiz kid. We need an understanding that quality education for each and for all is a whole lot harder to accomplish than a one size fits all model. As the first openly gay UW professor, the one called upon to talk publicly, about the impact of the murder of Mathew Shepard on those of us who are gay, including so many of our young people, I knew I would need to confront the policies needed not only for our survival but also for us to thrive. So, when I was asked to run, I did. And now it's 8 years later, I couldn't be more honored to serve with you, to be asked by my fellow Democrats to serve as the Minority Floor Leader, to work with them to be the voice of the 50,000 Democrats in the state.

So, of course my story isn't your story, unless you're gay transplanted New Yorker who teaches GWST, but you too have a story and we share a core value and vision that brought us here today. We each have a commitment to public service, a love for our state and its people, a desire to do the work of making a difference. So let me turn now to that work. I want to talk briefly about our role in three topics: the budget, economic security for our people, and governing.

The budget. These ARE hard times. John F. Kennedy once said, "Let us not seek to fix the blame for the past. Let us accept our own responsibility for the future." I agree. We need to open up our books, peek into those coffee cans, and examine carefully our savings and spending policies, our tax structure, our revenue streams. Band-aid solutions for the next biennium will not suffice. Our revenue streams for education have virtually ground to a halt. We cannot simply cut our way out, nor can we tax our way out. We surely can't wait our way out. We must and will develop a solution. Our kids, our future deserve it. We need to recognize the value of risk-taking and innovation that may require investments today that will pay off for generations to come. Opportunities abound. We just need to have faith and take action. Imagine heightened public safety through community corrections including aggressive "proven programming" where offenders pay restitution instead of getting new prison beds. Imagine our neighbors who are suicidal, or with mental illness and substance abuse problems getting help before getting placed in hospitals or worse.

Imagine economic security for our families. I have been going door to door and I've talked with the people in my district. They are struggling. They are scared. Their future looks bleak. There are no clear paths to long lasting jobs that pay fair competitive wages with health care and retirement and provide safe working environments. They are ready to leave the state. I was very moved by this one young man who's working in Wyoming as a chemical engineer. He had a great experience at UW, earned a degree, got work in state but he was going to tell his younger brother to look elsewhere for his education and his career, because he didn't believe that his brother had the same opportunities that he had. He challenged me, "What could I do for his brother?" I pleaded with him to wait, that he, his family, his friends, that they are our future. I had ideas, but I had zero promises because these are all bipartisan efforts and I like you, don't work alone. So, what do we do?

I think we begin by recognizing that we have a lot to be proud of: Wyoming is beautiful with its wildlife and public access to wide open spaces; we are one of the most business-friendly states in the nation; we have an enviable sovereign wealth fund; we have one of the highest labor force participation rates of the nation. Our people, both men and women, work and work hard; our median household income is above the national average; we've invested in education and its paid off with great test scores — virtually all of our high school graduates have access to higher education if they choose to use it.

But, there are some glaring faults: we have one of the worst wage gaps between men and women in the nation; 50% of babies born in Wyoming are born into families receiving Medicaid; the recent Bloomberg evaluation placed Wyoming as the most economically troubled in the nation. So, what do we do? We must support efforts to recruit new businesses: we need to show them not only our open spaces and low taxes, but our commitment to thriving communities - award winning schools and students; and a high quality, educated workforce ready and able to work. We need to show them strong anti-discrimination protections for all our citizens that we, like them value a diverse workforce with a commitment to fairness that is demanded by their customers. We show them that even in hard times, we have vision and we are invested in our people.

Finally, the Equality State needs to live up to its motto. Last night I thought to myself, equality should have been on the top of that list that we did for Mark Quiner on our shared values! Dignity and opportunity are not rhetoric to be espoused then ignored, especially when it comes to policy decisions. Young families are struggling and they are our future. We need to give them access to high-quality child care and early childhood education. We cannot step back from our commitment to invest in education regardless of budget cuts. We have options for the funding of school as well as other capital construction including using our AAA- bond rating, that should be considered rather than deep cuts to needed programs and services. And finally, we must be willing to be bold in our vision, and ready to take risks, and here comes the quote I couldn't cut, the President of Liberia in an address at Harvard said, "The size of your dreams must always exceed your current capacity to achieve them. If your dreams do not scare you, they are not big enough."

So, let's bring it on. We are the elected officials in government. We are tasked with that role. We are tasked with implementing that vision. We are tasked to do that hard work. We will govern with passion and humility, and nothing off the table. We will continue as Dems and Republicans, ranchers and railroaders, teachers and miners to get the work done today and to govern for generations into the future. We have the most exciting and fabulous job in the state today and one that your minority caucus, JoAnn, Jim and John, Charles, Mike and Andy, Debbie, Stan and I are ready to take on with you. Thank you.

President Bebout presented his Excellency, Governor of the state of Wyoming, Matthew H. Mead.

THE STATE OF THE STATE
GOVERNOR MATTHEW H. MEAD
SIXTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE GENERAL SESSION
JANUARY 11, 2017

Mr. President, Mr. Speakers, members of the 64th Legislature, Secretary Murray, Auditor Cloud, Treasurer Gordon, Superintendent Balow, Chief Justice Burke, Members of the judiciary, members of the military, veterans, citizens of Wyoming. Carol, Mary, Pete, glad to have you here as always. As you probably noticed walking in, I am quickly becoming the shortest member of my family, and there's nothing to be done about it, but I'm always proud to have my family here.

Good morning to all of you. I'm privileged to give my seventh State of the State address to the joint session of this new legislature, Wyoming's 64th.

There are new leaders and new faces. There's a new energy that comes with adding new people to the mix.

To first time legislators, welcome. You have joined a very distinguished group. To returning legislators, welcome back.

As always, I look forward to working with this body in important work ahead.

State of the State.

On the State of the State I'm pleased to report that though we face challenging times, Wyoming remains strong. Our state has prepared well for times of lower revenue, and our citizens continue to do great things, contributing to Wyoming's strength and success.

Preparation for leaner times has two hallmarks, conservative budgeting and savings. Past and present leaders have wisely done both.

Regarding savings, the State has $1.59 billion in the LSRA, the rainy day fund, and nearly $7.4 billion in the Permanent Mineral Trust Fund. These funds have grown substantially during my time in office.

The rainy day fund, of course, is named for rainy days like those we've been experiencing these last couple of years. It's raining. This fund has allowed us to get through a rough revenue patch, and can do so in the future. Last session our spending from the rainy day fund helped smooth our budget and provide necessary services.

Questions, however, remain about the rainy day fund and its use, continue to exist.

I continue to believe we need additional guidelines on the use of this fund that would set parameters and provide our citizens of local governments a better opportunity to refine their budgets by knowing what is the rainy day fund for, and when will it be used.

Certainly we know that cautious use of some rainy day funds allow to us to fill the revenue gap in tough financial times. For example, the '17-18 biennium, this body tapped $221 million from the LSRA for use, leaving the fund healthy. This was important to do because it's continued to make Wyoming strong. Because we see, despite the energy bust, which is going on for about three years now, Wyoming has kept high national rankings. These are indicative of our State's strength.

For example, Wyoming has maintained a AAA credit rating from Standard & Poor's. In 2016, Wyoming has ranked the best state to start a business, the best state to make a living, and the best state to retire. That's in 2016, that difficult year that we just went through.

Wyoming continues to be ranked No. 1 among states by the Tax Foundation, for having the most business friendly tax climate.

In 2016, Wyoming was ranked first in the Mountain Region for Workforce Development, and was also rated third for new business start-up activity, and sixth best state for business.

So despite being the most difficult budget year in my time in office, Wyoming stayed proactive and forward-looking: The Capitol construction project; with the important work of renovating and modernizing our state facilities like the Wyoming State Hospital, the Wyoming Life Resource Center, and the Wyoming Veterans Home.

We had groundbreaking at the University of Wyoming for the McMurry High Altitude Performance Center, and the Engineering Education and Research building last fall, and groundbreaking with the Integrated Test Center last spring.

At the University of Wyoming, in addition to new facilities start, we opened the Enzi STEM facility in March 2016, and the High Bay Research Facility is opening soon.

We have had incredible opportunities with the wealth created by our many businesses and great citizens.

We are grateful for so many partnerships. We're grateful for the partnerships that we have with the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapahoe Tribes. We are partners and friends to each other, and look forward to continued good relations with the Tribes. Sergio Maldonado, tribal liaison for the Northern Arapahoe Tribe is here today. Leslie Shakespeare, with the Eastern Shoshone is also here. Leslie has kindly agreed to continue as tribal liaison in an informal capacity until a new person is chosen.

We appreciate the work of those liaisons, which strengthen ties and improve communication.

If the Tribal members, all Tribal members that are here and liaisons would please stand, we would like to welcome you to the State of the State.

None of the prosperity we have enjoyed will be fully realized without the safety and security provided by our law enforcement and first responders. We see nationally sometimes law enforcement getting painted with a broad brush, and they are often vilified. In Wyoming we don't do that. We continue to be extremely proud of our law enforcement and first responders.

It's time Wyoming, as we continually do, to once again, thank law enforcement, first responders for the incredible work they do.

We know firsthand we would not have a Wyoming quality of life without men and woman who serve in the Guard. Our Guard helps fight the global war on terrorism, and assists here at home with firefighting, flood control, and storm damage. Last year our Guard performed air medical evacuation missions in Afghanistan, helped fight wildfires in Idaho, filled sandbags in Saratoga and Hudson, helped prevent a fire in the Big Horn Mountains from becoming a much larger wildfire. That's just a few of the things the Guard did in one year.

General Luke Reiner, the Adjutant General of Wyoming is here today representing the Guard. Thank you, General. We are grateful for your service and the service of all Guard members.

General, please stand so you may be recognized.

Luke, it's great to have you here, and as always, you look very sharp in that uniform, so thank you for being here.

As we celebrate our Guard members, we remain grateful for all military members, our veterans, and those who serve our veterans.

I've asked today for two distinguished veterans to be here with us; Lee Alley and Larry Barttelbort. Lee is vice chairman of the Wyoming Veterans Commission and Larry is the director. Both, unfortunately, have indicated they're going to be retiring early in 2017.

Lee is a Wyoming native and graduate of the University of Wyoming. In 1967 he went to Vietnam as an Army lieutenant, and served as reconnaissance platoon leader for an infantry battalion. His list of military decorations include the Distinguished Service Cross, the Soldiers Medal, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, two Air Medals, two Purple Hearts, and a Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry. He was nominated for the nation's highest award, the Medal of Honor. Upon his return from Vietnam, the Casper Star hailed Lee as Wyoming's Audi Murphy, alluding to the highly decorated World War II vet.

Lee was instrumental in reshaping the Wyoming Veterans Commission so that it serves all generations of our veterans. His leadership ensured the Commission's work was professional and relevant. He previously served as chairman of the Commission and served ten years in all. Lee's book, Back From War - a Quest of Life After Death, has been used by countless vets and their families to better understand how they can adjust to life after serving in combat.

Colonel Barttelbort took the oath of an Army ROTC scholarship cadet in 1975, his military and government service spanning more than 40 years, began then. He served on active duty with the 4th Infantry Division for five years, was selected for the Active Guard and Reserve Program for the Wyoming Army Guard in 1985, and retired in 2000.

He was re-called to active duty in 2000, serving as Wyoming Army guard Chief of Staff, and was responsible for airport security augmentation for ten Wyoming airports following the 911 attacks.

He retired from the Army again in 2004, became director of Wyoming Veterans Commission in 2007, and since then has worked tirelessly to improve benefits, services, and programs for Wyoming veterans.

In my budget message, I discuss one benefit, the veteran's tuition waiver, which suffered from last year's session cuts. To address the issue in the interim, I moved money to fix the program during that interim period but it's just a short-term fix.

I favor a long-term commitment to those who joined the Guard on the promise of tuition assistance was in place.

I also favor some form of support for new recruits. I hope you'll favorably consider these matters.

We -- and I mean our state -- nearly 50,000 vets and all those who work with the Commission, including me, will miss Larry and Lee. Our communities, our state, our country are better places because of men like Larry and Lee, who step of up to serve in the US military and keep on serving in a civilian capacity.

With their work and the outstanding work of this Wyoming legislature Wyoming is recognized as one of the very best states for veterans to retire in.

Larry, Lee, we couldn't thank you enough for all the service you provided to state and country. Please stand so we could recognize both of you. Thank you.

In Wyoming we are enriched by our great ag, tourism, and, of course, minerals. We know for those industries to remain strong we need the University of Wyoming to be great. A great university starts with great leadership. And we have a great leader in Laurie Nichols, UW's 26th president. She started in May 2016 when Dick McGinity retired. She came at a challenging time. It's hard enough to be a university president let alone during the time of budget cuts. It's great to have her at the helm. We are proud of the new facilities at the University of Wyoming which will strengthen Wyoming's representation as a leader in education, technology and innovation. We are proud of the academic research and athletic achievements at UW. Speaking of which, how about that Cowboy football team?

They gave us some great memories, and we appreciate that. And, Laurie, we thank you for your leadership at a critical time. Thank you for being here today.

Please stand so we may recognize you and the University of Wyoming.

We are keeping the competitive edge, and that's a wise thing to do at all times, especially during a time of constrained revenue. In 2016 we pressed on with efforts to promote and diversify our economy. I'll give a few examples. We are now and shall always be a proud ag state. Ag puts food on the table. Ag provides great open spaces. We have great wildlife in Wyoming. We have great respect for the Second Amendment. And when you combine all these assets together, it's no surprise that hunting, firearms and shooting sports are part of Wyoming's history and heritage.

We want to keep these traditions and pass them on to future generations, and we want to share an enjoyment of sporting life with others. With this in mind I announce a new initiative for public shooting ranges and shooting competitions, including the first annual Magpul-sponsored Governor's Match scheduled for this summer.

I charged State Parks with convening an Outdoor Recreation Task Force. The Task force held its first meeting in December, and will provide recommendations to me this year on how to further expand the growing outdoor industry.

Thanks to Atlas Carbon, Tungsten, HiViz, and McGinley Orthopedics going gangbusters. 2016 was a year of expansion for manufacturing. The Wyoming firearms industry, an important component of manufacturing, continues to grow. Our world class companies manufacture handguns, precision rifles, silencers, optic, sights, and other firearm accessories. Take, for example, Magpul, recently selected by the United States Marines as the exclusive supplier of magazines for combat use. Isn't that incredible news for a Wyoming company to supply our US Marines?

And while there were doubters about our recruitment of firearm companies, I believe now, more than ever, we can continue to build a robust firearms industry in Wyoming.

You are all aware of my focus on the technology sector. With the Unified Network, annual broadband and global technology summits, recruiting efforts and natural advantages like the cool climate, energy availability, technology continues to emerge as a viable economic sector. I truly believe it can be our fourth largest sector, and we must continue to build upon it.

Last spring with more than three-quarters of the initiatives in the original energy strategy complete, we updated the strategy to include 11 new initiatives. Amongst those initiatives we're working to make changes in the Endangered Species Act. The Endangered Species Act was passed in 1973. Since 1973, all the species listed, a little over just one percent have ever been delisted. It needs help.

As chairman of the Western Governors Association, my initiative was to get the western states on board to change and improve the Endangered Species Act, and as you can be aware, all western states don't have the same politics as Wyoming has.

While we worked together with outdoor groups, with environmental groups, we put together a proposal, and I'm pleased to say in June of last year Western Governors voted unanimously for improvements to the Endangered Species Act. We're now going to take it to the National Governors Association, and we're going to take it to Congress. It's time to make improvements to the Endangered Species Act.

To continue with the energy strategy, with review of reclamation rules, carbon innovation, and I greatly appreciate the legislature's support of the energy strategy, which has helped with implementation. We not only want to be the energy state in terms of production, we want to be the energy state in terms of innovation, and we can be.

The carbon initiative looks at building an industry around CO2. This means investing in advanced energy technologies and innovation. The Integrated Test Center under construction now at the Dry Fork Station in Gillette is part of this effort. The relationships we fostered with XPrize has now put together a $10 million prize for the team that can figure out to how to capture that CO2 but not only capture it but use it to make it a useful product. This has not only brought attention in Wyoming to how we help further coal, but around the country. The governor of Montana is asking his legislature to help participate with us. We have companies coming to Wyoming to learn what they can do to participate in it.

It's very exciting. It's very important to have that innovation here in Wyoming.

An industrial park project for value-added energy products, that is uses beyond extraction, is also a part of the carbon initiative.

In 2014, this body appropriated $15 million for the ITC, and provided seed money to begin an energy-related industrial park project.

Projects like these not only help Wyoming's number one industry, minerals, especially coal, they foster diversification.

The ITC is well on its way and we need to pursue the industrial park project this year.

I hope you'll consider a bill that provides for further implementation of the initiatives and energy strategy.

We are proud Wyoming is the energy state, and we are the energy state.

In 2016, as part of that, we continued to implement that which goes with energy, which is water. The State Water Strategy was issued two years ago. The Water Strategy contains ten initiatives. One of the initiatives is the 10 in 10 project, which seeks to build ten new reservoirs in ten years. While I know it's ambitious, we've come a long ways, and I'm pleased to say the Omnibus Water Bill you'll consider this session has four of these 10 in 10 projects; the Big Sandy Reservoir Enlargement in Sublette and Sweetwater Counties, the Big Piney Reservoir in Sublette County, Alkali Creek Reservoir in Big Horn County, the Leavitt Reservoir Expansion in Big Horn County.

Water projects like these are funded separately from government operations, education, and school construction and maintenance. These funds generally come from Water Account III, which is accumulated over the years and has the funding available.

Together these projects would add over 31,000 acre feet of storage of our most precious natural resource, and that is water. Water is key to economic development, ag production and more, and water development must remain a priority.

In 2016, the executive branch, we continue to streamline our rules and tighten our belts. For example, we put uniform rules in place for public record requests. This is in addition to my request two years ago to have all agencies reduce their rules by 30 percent.

We have fewer rules, we are spending less, and we're down positions from fiscal year 2011, my first year in office. We have in Wyoming bucked the trend of so many governments that only grow. While being careful with the budget is critical, we can never forget we are more than counters of dollars. We are here for the citizens of Wyoming.

To be sure, we must remain aware of our inmate population, our disabled population, the health care we are providing or not providing to the citizens of Wyoming, and always we think of our families, and the next generation, our children.

In September I sponsored the Governor's Symposium on Suicide Prevention in Casper. It's important to talk about suicide and ways to reduce suicide. People who are hurting need help, and we need to look for ways how we can better provide it.

This will now become an annual symposium.

In November I announced the ENDOW initiative at the business forum. This is a long-term planning effort for economic diversification. The acronym stands for Economically Needed Diversification Options for Wyoming.

I seek $2.5 million for this initiative in my supplemental budget proposal. I'll continue to work for economic diversification, building on our successes during my last two years in office. However, as a state we need a plan that goes beyond one governor's time in office. We need a 20-year plan. And we do not diversify to displace energy, tourism, ag. We diversify to increase our economic opportunities in those areas as well as to expand our economic base overall.

As we diversify our industries, we must look at how we tax our industries. Diversification and a broad-based fair tax structure are required to stabilize our economy, our revenue.

We need to diversify not only to stabilize and grow our revenue but equally important to that is we need to diversify to benefit our young people. We need to provide more options for our young people, to give them as many reasons as possible to say yes to staying in Wyoming as we can.

As we look at our population we know that in any given time period, we lose about 60 percent of the age group of age 18 to 25. Our future will never be as bright as it can be if we don't do all we can to keep young people home, home in Wyoming.

The energy bust and the revenue fallout reminds us why the ENDOW initiative is imperative. I want to thank President Bebout and Speaker Harshman for their leadership on moving ENDOW forward.

In December we got some great news. The National Park Service completed the purchase of the 640 acre Antelope Flats parcel of state trust land located in Grand Teton National Park for $46 million. 23 million came from the federal government and 23 million came from over 5,000 private donations to the Grand Teton National Park Foundation. I thank all the donors who made this happen, the legislature for its support, and, of course, we remember the late US Senator Craig Thomas who got the ball rolling on this.

Not only is this good news for the park, it's good news for education funding, at a time when we need good news. The money has been deposited in a common school trust funds to support Wyoming schools. The parcel was generating no revenue for Wyoming. We were getting zero dollars. Income generated in the common school trust fund account varies but it's expected that these funds will generate more than a million dollars annually for our schools.

The funds are also available for the Board of Land Commissioners to acquire land assets held by the federal government, if we choose to do so.

The State of Wyoming currently owns one remaining 640 acre parcel in the park, the Kelly parcel on the Gros Ventre Road. It's valued at $46 million. We are making money on that parcel. That $46 million asset is bringing in a whopping, about $2,000 a year.

The legislative authorization for the direct sale of the Kelly parcel expired December 31st, 2016. Moving forward, the Board of Land Commissioners has authority to exchange the parcel or sell it at auction to the highest bidder. Additional authorization, however, from the legislature will be required for a direct sale to the National Park Service, and this is something I ask you to consider.

The bottom line is, even during these tough times we accomplished a lot in 2016.

Wyoming remains strong heading into this new year. And it's a big achievement. We're keeping our state strong during a difficult period. There's a lot of credit to go around. Certainly the legislature, the University of Wyoming, our amazing community colleges, our state agencies, and in our communities, our businesses.

As I've said before, Wyoming people are Wyoming's greatest asset. The individuals I recognize today are examples of people all around Wyoming who contribute to our State's strength, and we thank all of them.

Now I turn to the budget.

In June 2016, I asked the agencies to implement $250 million in cuts from the '17-18 budget. This was in response to a larger revenue shortfall forecast in the spring. These were difficult and necessary cuts.

My supplemental budget proposal carries these cuts forward, making them permanent. With my cuts and the legislature's cuts last session, the executive branch operating budget, which was 2.9 billion in 2010, is now a little over 2.5 billion. It's down, not up.

This reflects conservative disciplined budgeting, the type of budgeting Wyoming is known for and proud of.

State government has shrunk, it has not grown. The legislature last session voted for $67.7 million in cuts, which I know you found difficult to make. I made three-and-a-half times that amount of cuts in June, which too was very difficult.

The belt-tightening begun in 2013 has continued, and I make only five general fund requests of you this session. Five million for local governments. We have to continue to support our local governments.

2.5 million for ENDOW, which I have spoken about.

$500,000 for the UW Science initiative.

475,000 for the UW strategic enrollment program.

And $160,000 for Tribal liaisons. These are one-time items, although the ENDOW initiative is envisioned for 20 years, and I hope it will continue to be funded beyond this budget cycle.

My general fund supplemental requests total just over $8.6 million, and the funds are available.

For new legislators, to put it in perspective, supplemental budgets in recent history have exceeded $300 million. My budget message explains the importance of these five requests, but today, for example, I'll talk about one of them, UW Science Initiative.

As I mentioned earlier, we have been investing in STEM at the University of Wyoming. These efforts are critical. We need to continue to invest in the science initiative, thus the supplemental request.

Because we value education, and this legislature values education so strongly, every year I've highlighted the great talent we have with our teachers by recognizing the Teacher of the Year.

This year we're recognizing Ryan Fuhrman, who is Wyoming 2017 Teacher of the Year. He grew up in Casper. He was inspired by his junior high lab teacher to become a teacher. He graduated magna cum laude from Black Hills University in Spearfish, and received a master's degree out east.

A 15-year teaching veteran, Ryan started teaching in Wyoming in 2008, and has taught science at Sheridan Junior High since 2012.

In addition to teaching science, he's a VEX robotic instructor, Camp sySTEMatic Counselor and Organizer, Science Kids board member, and assistant basketball coach.

Continued commitment to the science initiative at UW will help prepare more science teachers like Ryan.

Ryan, we're very proud of you. Please stand so we may recognize your extraordinary work as a teacher.

We know, as we consider the difficult work ahead on education, that we not only have great teachers and great school districts, we also, in Wyoming, have great, great students. Logan Jensen is a junior at the University of Wyoming from Greybull, Wyoming. I first met Logan when he was elected official for Boys State, and I spent a day with him. Logan is double majoring in physics and astronomy at the University of Wyoming. I did not know that was possible. I'm not even sure it's legal. This is an amazing thing.

He has taken advantage of almost all Wyoming offers an undergrad. As a freshman he went with the faculty to UW's infrared telescope, learning to operate a major scientific facility, and acquiring the skills to analyze digital images.

As a sophomore he led a study at the atmospheric stability over the Mount Jelm Observatory sites. He will participate in next summer's total solar eclipse, research and outreach. And for those who are not familiar, we are going to have -- Wyoming is going to be the place for the total eclipse. This is, if you're not aware, a big deal. And I have here in my notes, in her own words from Diane Shober, make sure everybody knows how valuable this is to tourism. It's a big deal. August 21st.

He also serves as a counselor to junior high youth at the ExxonMobile Bernard Harris Summer Science Camp at UW. He's done, as a junior, what many Ph.D. students would long to do. He is a beneficiary of UW Science Initiative. We want to encourage more students like Logan to take advantage of the UW Science Initiative.

Logan, please stand. Congratulations on the extraordinary work you have already done.

In this supplemental budget year I request contingent funding of 21 million for Title 25 services, 19.2 million to address the repair of the Wyoming State Penitentiary, if necessary, and 104.2 million for the budget reserve account. This contingent funding would come from the LSRA.

I also request the legislature authorize bonding to cover capital construction costs for the Wyoming State Penitentiary at Rawlins. After talking to some of you, I know some of you do not favor that. But let me just say this. Whether you want to do bonding or you want to take it as savings, it will not go away by not addressing the funding.

I believe the prison should stay in Rawlins, not just by the constitution, but by what it means to that community.

I also believe that we need to be prepared to, whether it is a fix or a rebuild, we need to have that addressed this session, including where the funding would come from.

My budget proposal is bare bones and balanced. We have nearly 1.6 billion sitting in the rainy day fund. It appears without a diversion that I've asked for from all of you, the rainy day fund will grow in this session. It's a hard message for the people of Wyoming, as we've made in excess of $300 million cuts since last session and we would continue to grow the rainy day fund, and goes again to the question, what is the rainy day fund for, and what are you going to use it for.

So I have asked for some of that money to be diverted for my budget, and to not go to the rainy day fund during a time when it is raining.

Now I think of, and I know many of you do, think about the general fund budget as a separate budget from education. And I think that's an appropriate way to look at it. The education budget is different. The School Foundation Program can fund K through 12 school operations through this biennium but not beyond.

Beginning with the '19-20 budget, the shortfall in the School Foundation Account is projected to be 1.5 billion over the next six years.

School facilities, maintenance funding must also be addressed because it's not included in that 1.5 billion.

I ask now, as I've asked before, that we work together to discuss solutions that include the public, teachers, school boards, and parents in this discussion.

We recognize that one week to submit comments to this body regarding the subcommittee's December 28th very thoughtful education funding white paper is not enough. I believe just short of 600 comments in about a week were provided.

We have to make tough decisions this session, but to solve the issue completely we need to have a broader public discussion. The many public comments we received in one week underscore the need for the public's participation on this issue.

Starting the discussion on education, I point out the wonderful report of Superintendent Balow, we were just rated seventh best in the country. The other six are on the east coast. We don't even know where the east coast is from Wyoming. We are proud of that, and we want to continue to be strong on education. I point out Wyoming should be proud of how it supported education. By any measure, Wyoming has placed the highest value on education.

To illustrate this point, between executive, judicial, and legislative branches, the general fund standard government operating budget has decreased since 2011. In fact, today the government operations standard budget is about $200 million less per biennium than the total block grant to school districts. $200 million less. Simply stated, the standard budget for all government operations is less than we're spending on K through 12 education.

This doesn't even include major maintenance, doesn't include school capital construction.

In 2016, together we cut the executive branch operating by 317 million. In total, the cuts to the executive branch were 11 percent, when you combine legislative cuts during the 2016 session and my budget reductions last June.

In contrast, the school operation budget has been growing. It was 1.3 billion annually in 2011 when I took office. It is nearly 1.5 billion now, six years later.

While student enrollment has increased 12 percent since '05-06 School Foundation Funding has increased over 91 percent.

And now we see a projected shortfall of 1.5 billion over the next six years. This is a big problem. It is a fiscal crisis. It is a big problem that requires very big, very difficult choices.

As I did last year, I again ask that we have a task force for Speaker Harshman's committee to be formed with full participation of Wyoming stakeholders, to address school funding, because a year has gone by and things have not gotten better. We cannot wait another year to act.

At a minimum we should be planning for reductions. But there is the broader discussion that we should continue to have about funding and revenue. And it is my hope that participation with all of you and the public, that we can at least, by the start of next session, have a plan that addresses both the cuts and the funding.

I do want to mention a non-budget measure from last session, the Safe 2 Tell program authorized by legislation by Senator Coe and Speaker Harshman. I'm pleased to report that this program, which is an anonymous tip line, is already making a difference in preventing suicide and improving school safety.

This session I know you'll be considering numerous bills. I'll follow them as they move through the legislative process.

I can tell you here at the start a few things that I am interested in. I support, in concept, the sales tax collection from remote sellers, establishment of a legislative framework for ENDOW, improving ignition interlock laws, providing a mechanism to continue the energy and water strategies.

In what has sure been a challenging financial market, we're getting poor investment returns. There's just no other way to look at it. It's a challenge in this financial market.

But we're also not doing well compared to other states. And yet the State of Wyoming pays in excess of $70 million a year in management fees and consulting fees. This has to change. It has to change now more than ever, when we are budget-constrained. The Treasurer has worked hard in his office to make some suggestions for the legislature. I've asked you to consider those suggestions because the Treasurer, like me, recognizes we want better returns and we want to spend less money getting those returns.

Until we can get a broader, more comprehensive tax structure, I ask you to consider continuing the Manufacturing Tax Exemption, which is sunsetting. It's important for the businesses that are here, it's important for some of the businesses we are trying to recruit now.

We are looking to the change of administration in DC in the coming weeks, and we hope that will provide an opportunity for Wyoming to become stronger. I'm heartened about the prospect of fewer federal regulations, and pro-growth economic policies. I'm hopeful the new administration will see the benefits of what states like Wyoming have done in responsibly developing their resources.

I'm hopeful that more authority will be given to the states with respect to natural resources and other areas.

And as we face some difficult budget times, we know that we are, in fact, better suited to address the problem than we ever have been in the past. I also am confident that this group, the legislature, is a group to deal with these difficult issues.

But as always, it really isn't just about the numbers and the dollars, or a single issue. We cannot lose the forest in the trees. This session, as every session, we remain obligated to do what is best, not for ourselves, political parties, but for the citizens of wonderful Wyoming.

What a privilege we have to have that as our duty. What privilege it is to have that opportunity, to have our job, to serve the citizens of Wyoming without regard to political party, without regard to any single issue, but how do we do better for the citizens of Wyoming?

I thank the legislature as I always do. We are successful in this state for a number of reasons, but a prime reason is we have a citizen legislature. You men and woman who give up time and leave your homes and families and businesses to come. It's an extraordinary thing. It keeps Wyoming strong.

But as always, we take time today to say, we know we're blessed to live in this state. We say to the citizens of Wyoming, we will continue to work hard for you. We say, may God continue to bless Wyoming and the United States and all her people.

Thank you very much.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
E. JAMES BURKE, CHIEF JUSTICE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Governor and Mrs. Mead, members of the Sixty-Fourth Wyoming Legislature, elected officials, members of the judiciary, guests and citizens of the State of Wyoming. It is an honor to speak to you on behalf of the dedicated men and women who serve in the judicial branch of our state's government. Thank you, President Bebout and Speaker Harshman, for the opportunity to do so. Congratulations to both of you for the well-deserved elevation to your leadership positions. We also offer our congratulations to all of the newly elected and re-elected members of our legislature.

There have also been changes in our judiciary. During this past year, District Judge Jeff Donnell and Circuit Judge Terry Tharp announced their retirements after long and distinguished careers on the bench. They will be missed. Judge Tori Kricken has replaced Judge Donnell in the Second Judicial District in Laramie and Judge Paul Phillips has replaced Judge Tharp in the Sixth Judicial District in Gillette. Both are highly qualified and we are pleased to welcome them as colleagues. I am pleased to point out that both took office on the first business day following the retirement of their predecessor. This is another testament to our merit selection process. In Wyoming, we do not have vacancies that linger to the detriment of those with pending cases in our courts.

On a more somber note, we must acknowledge the recent passing of former county and circuit judge, Don Hall. Judge Hall capably served the citizens of the Ninth Judicial District in Riverton for over 22 years before his retirement in 2004. We offer our prayers and condolences to his family and friends.

I was in the office this weekend, catching up on some work from last week and preparing for the upcoming events. During a break, I made a visit to the learning center. There is a lot of information packed into that location. I find that each time I visit, there is something else that captures my attention. This time it was the subheading "Shared Power" that is on one of the pillars referencing our three branches of government. The phrase has influenced my remarks to you today.

No doubt, there are many aspects to the term when discussing our three branches of government and I do not intend to employ it as a "term of art" in my remarks today. Mutual respect for each branch seems to be inherent in the phrase and expression of that respect by another branch goes a long way in developing and maintaining the public trust and confidence that is so critical to the judicial branch. I want to highlight three moments from this past year to illustrate the point I am trying to make.

This summer, we hosted the annual Conference of Chief Justices and State Court Administrators. Nearly every state was represented. The conference was held in Jackson. The weather was perfect, the scenery sublime, and our small but mighty judicial branch administration staff, with spouses and staff attorneys pitching in, pulled it off without a hitch. (Special kudos to Ronda Munger who made sure that all of the trains ran on time). But for most in attendance, the big take away came from the welcoming remarks of our Governor. He spoke about the need for a strong judicial branch of government and all that entails. He brought down the house. Standing ovation, rave reviews. Some Chief Justices suggested he run for governor in their state. I think he had at least five offers. The positive reaction, I believe, was in large measure attributable to conditions in other states where support for the judicial branch pales in comparison to the support we receive here.

The Governor's remarks were an extension of those he makes at each judicial robing that he attends. And he attends them all--over 20 during his term in office. And always, his remarks are well received and have a positive impact. It is one thing for a judge to tell the public about the need for a strong judicial branch, it is quite another for our citizens to hear that from leaders of the other branches of government. We are deeply appreciative, and many of our colleagues throughout the country are envious.

We witnessed a similar display this Monday with the grand opening of our Judicial Learning Center. Many of you were in attendance. It was a wonderful event made more special by the remarks of Governor Mead and Speaker Harshman, both of whom expressed their support and recognized the collaborative effort that was essential to the success of the project. For those of you who have not yet had the opportunity to visit the learning center, we would encourage you, and all members of the public, to do so. We think you will enjoy it and leave with a better appreciation for the rule of law and our system of justice. I would add that this is not just a Cheyenne project. Within a couple of months, the materials developed for the learning center will be online and accessible for use in classrooms throughout the state. This project would never have gotten off the ground without the financial support authorized by the legislature. We think your investment will pay huge educational dividends in the years to come. Thank you.

Another moment that has stayed with me occurred during the presentation of our supplemental budget to the Joint Appropriations Committee in December. We did not make any requests for additional funding. Instead, we suggested general fund cuts totaling over $1.9 million. As you might expect, there were quite a few questions, some back and forth, but at one point we were asked by Chairman Ross (and I'm paraphrasing): "Can you afford it?" Essentially, he was asking, "Can you take these cuts and still perform your core mission?" Will our judicial branch be able to continue to perform as our citizens expect? In light of the difficult times this state is facing financially, the question surprised me. But, upon reflection, it shouldn't have. Over the years, the legislature has taken significant action, even in difficult times, to maintain and strengthen our judicial branch.

We have taken to heart your request that we participate in state budget cuts. We want to do our part. The reductions we have proposed are significant and come from a very lean budget. While there is some risk, we do not believe that our core mission will be negatively impacted.

In this day and age, technology plays an essential role in our ability to fulfill our mission. Our administrative office, including the information technology staff, has been working tirelessly to provide functional and reliable systems for statewide court automation, including case management, organizational tools for judges, electronic filing, public access, and jury management. Upon implementation of these various systems, we anticipate that the judicial branch, as a whole, will become more efficient and productive. Statewide court automation has been a goal of the judicial branch and the legislature for a number of years, and while the hope was that full automation of the courts would have been recognized sooner, we are confident that the judicial branch is now on a path that will provide a solid foundation for the statewide roll-out of the various systems in an effective and timely manner.

We are currently working on updating and transitioning the case management systems in both the district and circuit courts statewide. This will result in a uniform approach to case management across general and limited jurisdiction courts in Wyoming. Along with a new case management system, the district court judges will also benefit from electronic tools which will provide them a method to better manage their dockets and individual cases in a manner that conforms to each judge's practices. Additionally, electronic filing will provide attorneys with the convenience of filing documents online and without the necessity of leaving their offices. Public access will provide citizens with the ability to access non-confidential case information from any place that internet access is available.

The road to statewide court automation has not been smooth. We expected that these systems would be in place before this time. During this past year, we became convinced that a change in vendors was necessary if we were going to get to where we wanted to go. We have hired a new vendor and have embarked on an ambitious schedule to move forward with these projects. The current case management system will remain in place during transition to the new system. Roll-out of the new system will begin in June, 2018. E-filing will follow in 2019. We anticipate that the entire project will be completed in 2020 and that it will have been worth the wait. Again, I want to thank the district court clerks for their patience, cooperation, and support as we have worked through these issues. We also commend this body for its foresight and leadership in making this investment to improve the delivery of judicial services to our citizens.

Adequate technology in the courtroom is also an essential ingredient in a properly functioning judicial branch. This past year, we commissioned a study of the audio and visual technology in all 69 of our courtrooms in order to get a handle on the situation. The results were disturbing. Many of our courtrooms lack basic audio enhancement features and have no video equipment. As one judge put it, "Abraham Lincoln would be perfectly at home in my courtroom." We must do better and that brings me to another aspect of "shared power" or perhaps "shared responsibility." There is no serious dispute that there should be appropriate technology in all of our courtrooms. There is, however, a difference of opinion about responsibility for the purchase, installation, and maintenance of that equipment. Are the counties responsible? Or, is the judicial branch? Reasonable minds can differ. Pertinent legislation does not specifically define responsibility for courtroom technology.

Last year, I spoke at length about technology improvements in the courtrooms in Pinedale. The county paid for all of those improvements. This year, it is necessary to discuss the flip side of the story. Again, I am going to use specific examples.

The courtrooms in Natrona County are some of the newest in the state. They are at the upper echelon in terms of technology. The equipment was purchased by the county. There is a county IT department. This past year, a major piece of equipment failed in one of the courtrooms. Berta Hartford, a judicial assistant for one of the judges, attempted to get the problem rectified. She initially contacted the county, and then the Supreme Court. When she received no immediate commitment to fix the problem, she sent an email to both the county and our IT department. Here is what she said:

On October 11, 2016, [county maintenance] requested a meeting with the Natrona County Commissioners to discuss issues with courtroom technology at the Natrona County Townsend Justice Center. [They] expressed a desire to have the meeting on the following day. To my knowledge, a meeting has not been scheduled yet. It occurred to me [the] request did not articulate the pressing nature of these repairs. Three of the four district courtrooms in the Natrona County Townsend Justice Center have critical technology issues which must be immediately addressed. In Judge Forgey's courtroom, 1A, there is a fan in the equipment closet which is burning out. If it quits, there is danger of the equipment becoming too hot and burning out, possibly frying the entire rack. The AV2 for Judge Wilking's courtroom is bad, rendering all the technology in her courtroom useless. County IT was able to install a telephone, but it is not attached to the sound system, causing this band-aid fix to possibly be of no use during hearings. Judge Wilking was required to move the sentencing for a gentleman, in custody and convicted of aggravated assault and battery, to Judge Sullins' courtroom so the State could play a video from the scene of the crime, which the Defendant insisted on being played for the Court prior to sentencing. She has had to re-schedule hearings with parties participating by telephone. The projector, screen, and monitors are relied upon by attorneys in criminal cases to replay confessions and show footage of the crime and crime scene. The system is also used in civil matters to play video depositions, display photographs, and exhibits. The monitors enable the Judge, counsel, jury, witness and audience to easily view the display. The ELO monitor allows a witness to make notations on a picture or exhibit that will appear on all the monitors without leaving the witness stand. The volume on the microphones cannot be turned up, down, or muted. The white noise feature cannot be used. It prevents the jury from overhearing bench conferences, while allowing the judge and counsel to be audible to the court reporter and each other. The ability to participate by telephone is a feature that is used daily. It enables out of town counsel, including the Attorney General's Office and other state agencies, to avoid traveling to Casper for short hearings; allows correctional institutions, the state hospital, treatment facilities to call instead of transporting the party for the hearing; and prevents counsel and parties from driving in inclement weather.

Ms. Hartford's email is compelling. In a few paragraphs, she perfectly captures the benefits of courtroom technology, the significant consequences resulting from failure of that equipment, and the frustration that comes when there is no clear path to resolution of the problem. Ultimately, the problem was fixed with funds from the judicial branch.

Tim Knight is the IT Director for Sweetwater County. He is involved with the construction of the new Justice Center in Sweetwater County which is on track for completion in December of this year. He is concerned that there is no agreement in place for maintenance of the technology equipment to be installed in the new courtrooms. He is endeavoring to take a proactive approach to avoid the situation I just described. He offered his perspective in a recent email to our IT department.

The problem with no agreement in place is that there are several gaps in defining responsibility for costs that come up in regards to supporting this system. I do not believe that the State technology group gets to absolve itself from their statutory responsibility of supporting the operations of the courts and without an agreement in place, the Board of County Commissioners never formally accepted financial responsibility for the maintenance of the equipment. This might lead to a situation where the courts are not able to function and the State and County are in disagreement as to whose responsibility it is to fix it.

I am also concerned that we would be installing a system that the State is not able to support because it is a different platform than what they are set up for. There is an economy of scale in supporting a large common network rather than supporting a group of disparate systems and the State would be better served with a common platform in all the courtrooms. This appears to be a philosophy shared by the State as they hired a consultant to do an analysis of the courtrooms and come up with recommendations as to what they should be putting in those courtrooms. There are also several Counties that do not have IT support and it would not be fair to expect different levels of service from the State based on which County you work in. Given all of this, I recognize that there are significant shortfalls in revenues in all areas of government and there are limited resources to be had in supporting courtroom technology.

Knowing that those shortfalls exist, Sweetwater County IT staff have been willing to assist in troubleshooting issues, replacing defective equipment, or setting up systems from time to time in order to compensate for the distances that separate the State IT staff from the courtrooms. This is done with a cooperative spirit without any discussion of remuneration. I believe that this relationship will continue as long as I am the IT Director.

So how do we move forward?

1. The County and State should work to ensure that the equipment installed at the new facility is in alignment with the State courtroom plan.
2. The State should work on ways to increase funding to the court technology group so they have adequate resources to support the courtroom technology through the State.
3. The County and State could work out an agreement that is satisfactory to each side regarding ongoing support of these systems.

I really hope that the legislature makes it possible for the State technology group to do its job and make this a model facility that can be replicated throughout the State.

We agree with Mr. Knight. Appropriate technology should be in place in all of our state courtrooms. The quality of presentations and the ability to hear what is going on in our public courtrooms should not depend on the county in which the case is tried. Economies of scale dictate that the equipment be uniform so that it can be purchased, installed, and maintained in the most cost effective manner possible. The state and the counties must continue to work together but, in every county, for every courtroom, there must be a clear understanding of responsibility. Funding must be adequate and sustainable.

These are not new issues and it is time they were addressed. We recognize that there may be different viewpoints as to how responsibility should be apportioned and that all stakeholders should have an opportunity to weigh in. Perhaps it is an appropriate interim topic. But there is no question that our courtrooms do not have adequate technology and that additional funding is required. Senator Perkins and Representative Nicholas are sponsoring legislation this session to address the funding issue. The proposed legislation increases the court automation fees by $10. Those fees have been in place since the "judicial systems automation account" was established in 2000. Even with the increase, our court fees are substantially below those charged in other states. The technology burdens on the judicial branch have increased exponentially since that time. We would urge your support of that legislation.

Before closing, there is one other piece of pending legislation that I would like to discuss. It involves our circuit court judges.

Our circuit court judges are the unsung heroes of the judiciary. They are on the front lines handling a high volume of cases and are essentially on call 24-7. They are the ones that get called in the middle of the night for search warrants. They operate under strict deadlines in a large percentage of their cases. Bond hearings must be held within 72 hours of arrest and protection order hearings must be held within 72 hours of request. They are required to have quick settings for eviction proceedings and must determine probable cause for felonies within 10 days of arrest if the alleged felon is incarcerated.

We continually ask more from our circuit judges. In 2011, civil jurisdiction in circuit court was increased from $7,000 to $50,000. This has led to more contested civil hearings and trials. The legal issues presented in those cases can be as complicated as those presented in district court. The circuit judges, however, must address those issues without any assistance from a law clerk or, in many cases, from an attorney for any party because a large portion of their caseload involves pro se litigants. On top of that, they are also tasked with the administrative oversight of daily office operations, including personnel. I could go on, but time is short.

Historically, there has been an informal judicial salary structure in place where circuit judges receive somewhere between $15,000-$20,000 less in annual salary than district judges. That changed in 2012 when the legislature approved a significant pay raise to bring the judiciary in line with salaries for employees of other branches. Salaries for supreme court justices and district court judges were set in line with the recommendations from the Board of Judicial Policy. Inexplicably, at least from our perspective, the salary for circuit court judges was set at $119,000, well below the $132,000 recommendation. The new salary structure created a $31,000 gap between district and circuit court judges. There have been no judicial raises in the past five years, so the gap remains.

Senator Christensen and Representative Miller are co-sponsoring legislation to correct that inequity. The Board of Judicial Policy has unanimously reiterated the recommendation it made five years ago. We urge your support of that legislation.

We recognize that there are many other aspects of state government, many other considerations that you must take into account in reaching your decisions. We know that it is a heavy responsibility but we have every confidence that you are up to the challenge.

During my remarks, I have emphasized the concept of shared power or shared responsibility. I did so because I think it is important to recognize how fortunate we are in this state. The mutual respect that exists among our branches does not exist everywhere. Yes, there is constitutional "separation of power," but there is also cooperation and communication. We are a better state for that and, ultimately, that benefits our citizens.

We wish you well in this legislative session as you grapple with the important issues facing our state. Thank you again for the opportunity to visit with you this morning. Good luck and Godspeed.

(a) The select committee on school finance recalibration is created consisting of the following members:

(i) Five (5) members of the Wyoming senate appointed by the president of the senate of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate appropriations committee;

(ii) Five (5) members of the Wyoming house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house appropriations committee;

(iii) Not more than four (4) members from each house shall be from the same political party;

(iv) The cochairmen of the select committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, respectively.

(b) The select committee shall undertake a study to review the state educational program under W.S. 21-9-101 and to recalibrate the education resource block grant model as provided under W.S. 21-13-309(t) to determine if modifications are necessary to ensure the model remains effective and cost-based in light of changing conditions and modifications to law. If the select committee determines an alternative to the education resource block grant model should be reviewed and developed to more efficiently meet the constitutional duties of the legislature in providing K-12 education funding, the select committee shall not limit its study to a recalibration of the existing cost-based model.

(c) The select committee shall be staffed by the legislative service office. The department of education, the department of workforce services, school districts and the school finance data advisory committee established under W.S. 21-2-203 shall collect and provide the information requested by the select committee.

(d) The select committee, through management council, may seek out expert opinions and may hire consultants as necessary to complete the study and recommendations required under this section. The legislative service office is authorized, subject to the approval of management council, to contract with consultants for the purposes of this section to complete recalibration of the education resource block grant model.

(e) The select committee shall report its recommendations and any associated legislation to the legislature not later than January 31, 2018. The select committee may develop and introduce legislation as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, provided that no legislation shall be introduced by the select committee unless it is approved by a majority of the members of the select committee from each house.

(f) Appointments shall be made under this section not later than March 15, 2017. The select committee shall exist until March 31, 2018. Any vacancy occurring on the select committee shall be filled by the president of the senate or speaker of the house of representatives, as appropriate, immediately upon the vacancy occurring.

(g) For the period beginning on the effective date of this act and ending June 30, 2018, there is appropriated from the general fund to the legislative service office eighty thousand dollars ($80,000.00) to provide salary, per diem and mileage for members of the select committee and to fund other expenses of the select committee as necessary to carry out this section.

(h) If 2017 House Bill 0236, 2017 Senate File 0165 or both are enacted into law, this section is repealed.

[EMERGENCY RESERVE - TITLE 25]

Section 334. There is appropriated ten million dollars ($10,000,000.00) from the legislative stabilization reserve account to the state auditor to be expended only upon determination by the governor that the department of health has expended not less than four million three hundred thousand dollars ($4,300,000.00) from its appropriated general funds under 2016 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 31, Section 2, Section 048 as amended by this act, for funding needs that may arise for emergency detention and involuntary commitment related obligations under Title 25, Chapter 10 of the Wyoming statutes. The appropriation under this section may be expended as requested by the director of the department of health for those funding needs as necessary. The department of health shall report quarterly to the joint appropriations committee and the joint labor, health and social services interim committee on expenditures made from the legislative stabilization reserve account under this section. These funds shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation on June 30, 2018 shall revert to the legislative stabilization reserve account as provided by W.S. 9-4-207.

[EMERGENCY RESERVE - WYOMING STATE PENITENTIARY]

Section 335. There is appropriated fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000.00) from the legislative stabilization reserve account to the state auditor to be expended only upon determination by the governor that no other sources of funds are available including any funds deposited with the state auditor under Section 320(f) of this act, and that the department of corrections and state construction department have insufficient appropriations for operations, major maintenance or capital construction to address emergency needs that may arise at the state penitentiary. Funds appropriated under this section may be expended, only upon the governor's approval, for repairs, capital construction or inmate relocation in the event hazardous conditions resulting from subsurface movement at the Wyoming state penitentiary warrant an immediate response. The department of corrections shall report quarterly to the joint appropriations committee on expenditures made from the legislative stabilization reserve account under this section. These funds shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation on June 30, 2018 shall revert to the legislative stabilization reserve account as provided by W.S. 9-4-207."

"[K-12 EDUCATION RECALIBRATION]

Section 333.

(a) The select committee on school finance recalibration is created consisting of the following members:

(i) Five (5) members of the Wyoming senate appointed by the president of the senate of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate appropriations committee;

(ii) Five (5) members of the Wyoming house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house appropriations committee;

(iii) Not more than four (4) members from each house shall be from the same political party;

(iv) The cochairmen of the select committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, respectively.

(b) The select committee shall undertake a study to review the state educational program under W.S. 21-9-101 and to recalibrate the education resource block grant model as provided under W.S. 21-13-309(t) to determine if modifications are necessary to ensure the model remains effective and cost-based in light of changing conditions and modifications to law. If the select committee determines an alternative to the education resource block grant model should be reviewed and developed to more efficiently meet the constitutional duties of the legislature in providing K-12 education funding, the select committee shall not limit its study to a recalibration of the existing cost-based model.

(c) The select committee shall be staffed by the legislative service office. The department of education, the department of workforce services, school districts and the school finance data advisory committee established under W.S. 21-2-203 shall collect and provide the information requested by the select committee.

(d) The select committee, through management council, may seek out expert opinions and may hire consultants as necessary to complete the study and recommendations required under this section. The legislative service office is authorized, subject to the approval of management council, to contract with consultants for the purposes of this section to complete recalibration of the education resource block grant model.

(e) The select committee shall report its recommendations and any associated legislation to the legislature not later than January 31, 2018. The select committee may develop and introduce legislation as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, provided that no legislation shall be introduced by the select committee unless it is approved by a majority of the members of the select committee from each house.

(f) Appointments shall be made under this section not later than March 15, 2017. The select committee shall exist until March 31, 2018. Any vacancy occurring on the select committee shall be filled by the president of the senate or speaker of the house of representatives, as appropriate, immediately upon the vacancy occurring.

(g) For the period beginning on the effective date of this act and ending June 30, 2018, there is appropriated from the general fund to the legislative service office eighty thousand dollars ($80,000.00) to provide salary, per diem and mileage for members of the select committee and to fund other expenses of the select committee as necessary to carry out this section.

(h) If 2017 House Bill 0236, 2017 Senate File 0165 or both are enacted into law, this section is repealed.

The coverage may be modified as needed. After July 1, 2018, coverage provided by a school district joint powers board shall satisfy the coverage requirements of this subsection only if the coverage is within any limits set by the insurance department pursuant to subsection (e) of this section.

(e) The insurance department shall undertake an examination of the school district joint powers board operating a school risk retention program. The examination shall be conducted using the examination processes normally applied to private insurance companies. Based on the examination and standards applied to private insurance companies, the department shall determine whether the school risk retention program operated by the school district joint powers board is backed by sufficient reserves, reinsurance and other factors to safely satisfy the insurance requirement provided in subsection (d) of this section. The results of the examination shall be reported to the joint corporations, elections and political subdivisions interim committee and the joint education interim committee. If a joint powers board refuses to cooperate with this examination, the insurance commissioner shall prohibit the school district joint powers board from providing insurance coverage and shall provide notice of the prohibition to the relevant governmental units. Based on the examination required by this subsection, the insurance department may limit the coverage that the school district joint powers board is authorized to provide, effective July 1, 2018, and may order the school district joint powers board to undertake any measures needed to protect its solvency. If the commissioner finds that the joint powers board is insolvent or impaired to the extent it is likely to become insolvent, the commissioner may, after March 31, 2018, require the school district insured by the school district joint powers board to obtain other insurance coverage within a time specified by the commissioner.". Any type of marker shall be sufficient under this subsection including but not limited to wooden poles, flags or signs if the marker is visible from a distance of one hundred (100) feet and if the marker itself does not constitute a serious hazard to skiers. As used in this subsection "man-made structures" shall not include variations in steepness or terrain, whether natural or as a result of slope design, snowmaking or grooming operations, including but not limited to roads, catwalks and other terrain modifications.

(m) Whenever maintenance equipment is being employed to maintain or groom any ski slope or trail while the ski slope or trail is open to the public, the ski area operator shall place or cause to be placed a conspicuous notice to that effect at or near the top of that ski slope or trail. This subsection shall not apply to maintenance equipment transitioning to or from a maintenance or grooming project."

"Section 8. 2016 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 108, Section 1(a), (d) and (e), Section 2 (a) and (c), Section 4(a) and (b) are amended to read:

Section 1.

(a) The department of education shall commence development of an alternative school level accountability model to be piloted in school year 2016-2017. The model shall adhere, as closely as possible, to the recommendations contained in the "Wyoming Alternative School Accountability Framework: Recommendations from the Alternative Accountability Advisory Committee" report dated October 15, 2015, submitted by the technical advisory group pursuant to 2015 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 179, Section 5, to the select committee on statewide education accountability, and any additional recommendations by the technical advisory group in carrying out the duties required by this act. The department of education shall periodically report progress on development of the pilot required under this subsection to the technical advisory group, ~~the select committee on statewide education accountability~~ and the joint education interim committee. Data from the alternative schools operating in Wyoming pursuant to W.S. 21-13-309(m) (v) (B) shall be utilized to perform the pilot.

(d) Not later than school year 2017-2018, the state board of education, through the department, and with the assistance of the technical advisory group, shall compile, evaluate and determine the target levels for an overall school performance rating and for content level performance that are appropriate for alternative schools operating pursuant to W.S. 21-13-309(m) (v) (B). The board shall execute this determination through a prescribed deliberative process informed by a panel comprised of professionals with the appropriate expertise to establish target levels for performance to appropriately distinguish and recognize the varied levels of school performance associated specifically with the operation of alternative schools as measured by the indicators contained in subsection (b) of this section. Performance level targets shall be established to identify alternative school performance levels for exceeding expectations, meeting expectations, partially meeting expectations and not meeting expectations. The state board shall report periodically to ~~the select committee on statewide education accountability~~ and the joint education interim committee on the progress related to setting target levels associated with school performance rating required under this subsection and a final report shall be submitted no later than October 15, 2018.

(e) The state board of education shall, in consultation with the technical advisory group, study and develop recommendations related to the progressive multi-tiered system of support, interventions and consequences required under W.S. 21-2-204(f) specifically targeted to assist alternative schools, as necessary, for the four (4) levels of school performance to be established under subsection (d) of this section. The state board shall report any recommendations for modification, as may be necessary, pursuant to this subsection, to ~~the select committee on statewide education accountability~~ and the joint education interim committee, no later than October 15, 2018.

Section 2.

(a) Notwithstanding 2015 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 179, Section 5(a), the alternative school technical advisory group shall ~~continue to~~ assist the ~~select committee on statewide education accountability~~ joint education interim committee as the ~~select committee~~ deems necessary through December 31, 2018. The technical advisory group shall review and provide necessary feedback to the state board of education and the department of education as necessary in carrying out the duties assigned under section 1 of this act.

(c) The legislative service office shall staff the technical advisory group. The legislative service office may retain consultants as necessary to staff and advise the technical advisory group and the ~~select committee on statewide education accountability~~ joint education interim committee in execution of the duties prescribed under this act. The management council may expend funds appropriated by the legislature for approved contractual agreements between the council and professional consultants on behalf of the ~~select~~ committee.

Section 4.

(a) For the period beginning upon the effective date of this section and ending June 30, 2019, six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500.00) is appropriated from the school foundation program account to the state board of education to convene the panel of professionals, required under section 1(d) of this act, to set target performance levels. This appropriation may be expended for per diem and mileage of any member who serves on the panel of professionals. The amounts appropriated under this subsection shall not be expended to secure meeting space or to pay for food, beverage or catering services. Any member appointed or serving on the panel who is not an employee of a governmental subdivision or a member of a political subdivision, board or commission shall receive per diem and mileage in the manner and amount provided to state employees under W.S. 9-3-103. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this subsection shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than specified in this subsection. Any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this subsection shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2019. Not later than December 31, 2018, the state board shall report expenditures of amounts appropriated under this subsection to ~~the select committee on statewide education accountability~~ and the joint education interim committee.

(b) For the period beginning upon the effective date of this section and ending June 30, 2019, three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500.00) is appropriated from the school foundation program account to the state board of education to provide support and administration of the technical advisory group continued under section 2 of this act. This appropriation may be expended for per diem and mileage of the technical advisory group. The amounts appropriated under this subsection shall not be expended to secure meeting space or to pay for food, beverage or catering services. Any member appointed or serving on a committee who is not an employee of a governmental subdivision or a member of a political subdivision, board or commission shall receive per diem and mileage in the manner and amount provided to state employees under W.S. 9-3-103. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this subsection shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than specified in this subsection. Any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this subsection shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2019. Not later than December 31, 2018, the state board shall report expenditures of amounts appropriated under this subsection to ~~the select committee on statewide education accountability and~~ the joint education interim committee.

"Section 2. This act is intended as a clarification of existing law. The Wyoming legislature intends to make no substantive change to prior law. This act has always been intended to provide a simplified procedure for administration of the Wyoming estate of a nonresident decedent in conformity with the decedent's will, if any, or the Wyoming laws of intestacy in the absence of a will, without regard to how the final decree of distribution of the other state may have distributed the decedent's assets located in the other state. This act is not intended to affect confidentiality, compliance, statutes of limitations, taxes or the validity of any rule or regulation promulgated prior to the effective date of this act."

"Section 7.

(a) The reductions implemented by this act are intended to be temporary, pending a recalibration of the education resource block grant model. The select committee on school finance recalibration is created consisting of the following members:

(i) Five (5) members of the Wyoming senate appointed by the president of the senate of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate appropriations committee;

(ii) Five (5) members of the Wyoming house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house education committee and one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house appropriations committee;

(iii) Not more than four (4) members from each house shall be from the same political party;

(iv) The cochairmen of the select committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, respectively.

(b) The select committee shall undertake a study to review the state educational program under W.S. 21-9-101 and to recalibrate the education resource block grant model as provided under W.S. 21-13-309(t) to determine if modifications are necessary to ensure the model remains effective and cost-based in light of changing conditions and modifications to law. If the committee determines an alternative to the education resource block grant model should be reviewed and developed to more efficiently meet the constitutional duties of the legislature in providing K-12 education funding the committee shall not limit its study to a recalibration of the existing cost-based model.

(c) The select committee shall also study and recommend solutions to the projected budget shortfall for funding related to public education in the state of Wyoming. The select committee shall focus on four (4) major issues related to school funding as follows:

(i) Options for use of existing unencumbered, unobligated revenues;

(ii) Consideration of the use of diversions of existing revenue streams and investment income;

(iii) Options to increase revenues;

(iv) Options for budget and expenditure reductions.

(d) The select committee shall be staffed by the legislative service office. The department of education, department of workforce services, school districts and the school finance data advisory committee established under W.S. 21-2-203 shall collect and provide the information requested by the select committee.

(e) The select committee may seek expert opinions and may hire consultants as necessary to complete the study and recommendations required under this section. The legislative service office is authorized, subject to the approval of management council, to contract with consultants for the purposes of this subsection to complete recalibration of the education resource block grant model or to develop a new model.

(f) The select committee shall report its recommendations and any associated proposed legislation to the legislature not later than January 31, 2018. The select committee may develop and sponsor legislation as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, provided that no legislation shall be sponsored by the committee unless it is approved by a majority of the members of the select committee from each house.

(g) Appointments shall be made under this section not later than March 15, 2017. The select committee shall exist until March 31, 2018. Any vacancy occurring on the select committee shall be filled by the president of the senate or speaker of the house of representatives, as appropriate, immediately upon the vacancy occurring.

(h) For the period beginning on the effective date of this section and ending June 30, 2018, there is appropriated from the school foundation program account to the legislative service office eighty thousand dollars ($80,000.00) to provide salary, per diem and mileage for members of the select committee and to fund other expenses of the select committee as necessary to carry out this section."

"Section 10.

(a) The legislature makes the following findings regarding the need for a comprehensive reexamination of education finance in Wyoming:

(i) For more than a decade, Wyoming has invested heavily in education finance. It has done so with the promise and expectation that student performance would increase commensurately with the increase in funding. As noted in the 2015 Desk Audit of the Wyoming school funding model which was adopted in the Recalibration Report provided by the select committee on school finance recalibration, that has not been the case;

(ii) "In the ten years from 2004 to 2014, operating revenues per pupil grew from $10,629 to $17,272, an increase of $6,643 or 62%, substantially greater than inflation." 2015 Desk Audit, page 2. "Unfortunately, student achievement has not risen at the same or even similar rate." 2015 Desk Audit, page 4. "[F]unding has grown at a substantially higher rate than has student performance, and in no case do at least 50% of Wyoming students achieve at proficient or advanced levels, performance levels that are critical for student opportunity in the knowledge-based global economy." 2015 Desk Audit, page 11;

(iii) "Although a direct linkage between funding and student performance does not exist, the Wyoming School Funding Model is designed to allocate adequate resources to provide all students with robust opportunities to meet college and career ready standards." 2015 Desk Audit, page 4;

(iv) It remains the goal of education finance in Wyoming to provide those robust opportunities, but funding alone will not achieve that goal. A comprehensive reexamination of education finance is necessary to determine how best to provide those robust opportunities while remaining fiscally responsible. In the current environment of reduced revenues, it is critical to seek out and eliminate inefficiencies in the finance system while also continuing to explore how best to deliver a modern, high quality education opportunity to every Wyoming school child;

(v) This bill begins the analysis necessary for a comprehensive reexamination of education finance in Wyoming. The findings of the 2015 select committee on school finance recalibration are modified accordingly." WASSERBURGER

"Section 8.

(a) The reductions implemented by this act are intended to be temporary, pending a recalibration of the education resource block grant model. The select committee on school finance recalibration is created consisting of the following members:

(i) Five (5) members of the Wyoming senate appointed by the president of the senate of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the senate education committee;

(ii) Five (5) members of the Wyoming house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, of which one (1) member shall be the chairman of the house education committee;

(iii) Not more than four (4) members from each house shall be from the same political party;

(iv) The cochairmen of the select committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, respectively.

(b) The select committee shall undertake a study to review the state educational program under W.S. 21-9-101 and to recalibrate the education resource block grant model as provided under W.S. 21-13-309(t) to determine if modifications are necessary to ensure the model remains effective and cost-based in light of changing conditions and modifications to law. If the committee determines an alternative to the education resource block grant model should be reviewed and developed to more efficiently meet the constitutional duties of the legislature in providing K-12 education funding the committee shall not limit its study to a recalibration of the existing cost-based model.

(c) The select committee shall also study and recommend solutions to the projected budget shortfall for funding related to public education in the state of Wyoming. The select committee shall focus on four (4) major issues related to school funding as follows:

(i) Options for use of existing unencumbered, unobligated revenues;

(ii) Consideration of the use of diversions of existing revenue streams and investment income;

(iii) Options to increase revenues;

(iv) Options for budget and expenditure reductions.

(d) The select committee shall be staffed by the legislative service office. The department of education, department of workforce services, school districts and the school finance data advisory committee established under

W.S. 21-2-203 shall collect and provide the information requested by the select committee.

(e) The select committee may, through management council, seek expert opinions and may hire consultants as necessary to complete the study and recommendations required under this section. The legislative service office is authorized, subject to the approval of management council, to contract with consultants for the purposes of this section to complete recalibration of the education resource block grant model or to develop a new model.

(f) The select committee shall report its recommendations and any associated proposed legislation to the legislature not later than January 31, 2018. The select committee may develop and sponsor legislation as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, provided that no legislation shall be sponsored by the committee unless it is approved by a majority of the members of the select committee from each house.

(g) Appointments shall be made under this section not later than March 15, 2017. The select committee shall exist until March 31, 2018. Any vacancy occurring on the select committee shall be filled by the president of the senate or speaker of the house of representatives, as appropriate, immediately upon the vacancy occurring.

(h) For the period beginning on the effective date of this section and ending June 30, 2018, there is appropriated from the school foundation program account to the legislative service office eighty thousand dollars ($80,000.00) to provide salary, per diem and mileage for members of the select committee and to fund other expenses of the select committee as necessary to carry out this section."

"Section 2. In conducting a fiduciary analysis on an economic development project considered for funding under section 1 of this act, the state treasurer shall perform an economic and fiscal analysis regarding consequential state and local impacts. The analysis shall identify any induced revenues and induced costs associated with a project under consideration for each year for the ten (10) years following completion of the project. A local cost analysis shall consider impacts on public education, public safety, fire protection, public utilities and the courts. Any analysis required by this section shall be conducted by an entity qualified to provide the analysis using nationally accepted econometric modeling techniques. Any analysis required by this section shall be paid for using funds appropriated by this act."

"Section 3. That this application contains the following limits and provisions:

(a) No delegate shall have authority to vote to allow consideration of, or to approve, an unauthorized amendment for ratification to the United States constitution.

(b) Any delegate shall be directed to vote for procedures and rules mandating that the convention remain a convention of states where each state is represented by one (1) vote.

(c) Any vote made in violation of subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall be null and void, and the delegate making the vote shall be immediately recalled by an official or executive branch committee authorized by a resolution of the legislature and replaced by an alternate as provided in subsection (g) of this section.

(d) Each delegate or alternate shall be required to take the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear or affirm that to the best of my abilities I will, as a delegate or alternate to an article V convention, uphold the constitution and laws of the United States of America and Wyoming. I will not vote to allow consideration of or to approve any unauthorized amendment proposed for ratification to the United States constitution. I understand and accept any penalties that Wyoming law may impose on me for violating this oath."

(e) The secretary of state shall certify the selection of the delegates in writing to the article V convention and shall provide a copy of the certification to each delegate. No delegate shall have authority to vote or otherwise serve as a delegate at the article V convention without the certification.

(f) The secretary of state shall notify the president of the Wyoming senate and the speaker of the Wyoming house of representatives in writing of the need to assign delegates or alternates to the article V convention. The members of the senate shall elect three (3) members of the senate to serve as delegates, and the members of the house of representatives shall elect three (3) members of the house of representatives to serve as delegates. If a delegate becomes unable or ineligible to serve, the president of the senate or the speaker of the house shall assign an alternate for the delegate who has become unable or ineligible to serve. An alternate delegate assigned under this subsection shall immediately be entitled to represent Wyoming as a delegate in place of the delegate who has become unable or ineligible to serve, and the secretary of state shall immediately provide certification to the new delegate.

(g) The secretary of state shall notify the article V convention and any delegate involved of the revocation of that delegate's certification should the delegate violate his or her oath to act only within the limits of the authority granted by the state of Wyoming.

(h) The Wyoming attorney general shall enforce applicable Wyoming statutes and any associated penalties for violation of these conditions. A Wyoming citizen may also file an action to enforce the requirements of this chapter and shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees if successful.

(j) As used in this resolution:

(i) "Article V application" means a joint resolution passed by the Wyoming legislature on the same subject or containing the same proposed amendment text as two-thirds (2/3) of the other states requiring the United States congress to call an article V convention;

(ii) "Article V convention" means a convention for proposing amendments as expressly provided in article V of the United States constitution;

(iii) "Delegate" or "alternate" means a legislator selected under subsection (g) of this section to represent the state of Wyoming at an article V convention;

(iv) "Legislative instructions" means instructions given by the state legislature to delegates and alternates before and during an article V convention;

(v) "Unauthorized amendment" means a proposed amendment that is outside the permitted subject matter contained in this article V application or contrary to legislative instructions."

Prayer by Representative Eyre.

Majority Floor Leader Miller: Mr. Speaker, I move that bills currently pending before this body in the 64th Wyoming State Legislature, 2017 General Session, be indefinitely postponed.

Minority Floor Leader Connolly: Mr. Speaker I second the motion of the Majority Floor Leader.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' By your vote the motion has passed the House.

Majority Floor Leader Miller: Mr. Speaker, I move that the Senate be informed that the House of Representatives, of the 64th Wyoming State Legislature, 2017 General Session, has completed its business and is ready to adjourn.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' Motion carried. I am directing that House Chief Clerk, Wendy Harding, inform the Senate that the House of Representatives, 2017 General Session of the 64th Wyoming State Legislature, is ready to adjourn.

Majority Floor Leader Miller: Mr. Speaker, I move that a committee of two be appointed to inform the Governor that the House has completed its business and is ready to adjourn; and to escort His Excellency, the Governor to the House Chamber.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' Motion carried. Representative Sommers and Representative Connolly please inform the Governor that the House of Representatives is ready to adjourn; please escort His Excellency, the Governor, Matt Mead, to the House Chamber.

Sergeant-at-Arms announced His Excellency, the Governor of Wyoming, Matt Mead.

Mr. Speaker: Governor Mead, we welcome you to the House of Representatives.

Governor Mead gave closing remarks to the members of the House.

Mr. Speaker: Governor Mead, on behalf of the members of the House of Representatives, I thank you for your closing remarks to us. Representative Nicholas and Representative Paxton escorted His Excellency, the Governor from the House Chamber.

CLOSING OF SESSION

Majority Floor Leader Miller moved the following:

1. That the House of Representatives, 64th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, adjourn until a date and time which are determined jointly by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate for the purpose of calling the House and Senate back into session.
2. That if no such time is established before December 31, 2017, the House of Representatives, 64th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned sine die effective at 12:00 o'clock noon on that date and the Legislative Budget Session, 64th Wyoming Legislature, shall convene on the 12th day of February, 2018 at the hour of ten o'clock a.m.
3. That the House of Representatives specifically concur in any identical motion adopted by the Senate.
4. That if the Senate fails to concur in the action of the House of Representatives under paragraphs 1 through 3 of this motion, by adopting an identical motion applicable to the Senate, the House of Representatives of the 64th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned sine die.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye', opposed, 'No.' By your vote, the motion has passed the House.

Mr. Speaker: We are now at the order of business, Reading and Approval of the Journal.

Representative Gierau: Mr. Speaker, your Journal Committee reports that the Journal of March 3rd, 2017 has been read and I move that it be approved.

Representative Gray: Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. Speaker: There being no objection, the report is adopted. Subject to the conditions set forth in Majority Floor Leader Miller's motion, the House of Representatives, 64th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned and shall again convene the Legislative Budget Session on the 12th day of February, 2018, at the hour of ten o'clock a.m.

Benediction by Representative Winters.

Mr. Speaker: The House is adjourned.

Wendy Harding
House Chief Clerk
