ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE
ELI BEBOUT

INTRODUCTION & RECOGNITIONS

Good afternoon!

It is a special privilege to welcome all of our guests, newly elected members and currently elected senators to this 64th session of the Wyoming Legislature.

(Introduction of family. Talk about experience and time in the Senate.)

- Senator Scott 38 years
- Senator Coe 28 years
- Senator Case 24 years
- Senator Burns and Meier 22 years

Many other Senators with 5 or more years of experience.

Seven new members:

- 1) Senator Agar
- 2) Senator Anselmi-Dalton
- 3) Senator Baldwin
- 4) Senator Bouchard
- 5) Senator Ellis
- 6) Senator Moniz
- 7) Senator Nethercott

Thank you for running.

As you can see, we in the Majority are not short on numbers, or determination. The Minority party, although small in numbers, are long on ideas and dedication as well.

Chris, John, Liisa - I look forward to working together.

We have all been through an interesting political year, both nationally and locally. Even in our state, many of the races were hotly contested.

But now the elections are over and as we look around this room we must come together as a team of 30 to take on the challenges we face.

At this time in our history, the 30 of us have been chosen by the voters of this state to lead. Lead we will.

LEGISLATURE & LEADERSHIP

As your President, I want to lead by example. With civility, fairness, hard work and dedication.

And, just for the record, we will follow the playbook with our process and rules of procedure.

Like so many legislative sessions in the past, our rules will keep us on task.

Above all, we will support and uphold the tradition of this institution.

As a former member of the legislature and retired Senator Al Simpson reminds us, "If you have integrity, nothing else matters. If you don't have integrity, nothing else matters."

We can be proud that we still have citizen legislators. We come together from different walks of life, with different perspectives and experiences and work together this session and for the next two years.

It is not an easy decision to run for office, and it is much more than just winning an election. It is a commitment that affects your family, your work, your sleep and sometimes your sanity.

So thank you for being here and serving.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Wyoming has had a great run, and this institution has done a lot we can be proud of.

During the flush times, we made smart, strategic investments in our infrastructure, schools and people. But we also saved and invested wisely. In the last 10 years:

- 1) $3.2 billion on capital construction and maintenance for K-12 education.
- 2) $400 million and $100 million raised privately, for University of Wyoming construction.
- 3) Over $100 million plus local matches and bond issues for construction at our community colleges.
- 4) Restoration of State Capitol, $300 million. I pledge to you that we will work diligently to complete the State Capitol construction project on time and on budget.
- 5) $1 billion spent on cities, towns and counties.
- 6) Best highways in the Rockies.
- 7) Water projects.
- 8) Business, community and infrastructure procurement.
- 9) Statewide high-speed internet.
- 10) Our conservative fiscal management.
  - i) Worker's comp, $2 billion.
  - ii) $1.5 billion in savings for the rainy day account.
  - iii) Permanent funds of more than $12 billion.
- 11) Highest Teacher salary in the Rockies and top five spending per student in the U.S.

We knew the good times couldn't last forever. It was never a question of if our boom would bust, but when.

SESSION PRIORITIES

And bust it did. As we prepare for the tough decisions ahead, we need our sense of humor and so I hope you all are wearing belts that are big and comfortable. We will need to cinch those up a notch or two.

The news we have been reading - revenue is down, jobs have been lost, education funding is threatened - these are not new headlines - you could have read the same headlines many different times in our state. Our charge is to establish policy and set legislative priorities.

I have been working with Speaker Harshman and Governor Mead to identify some common goals and priorities. Let me briefly cover a few of those:

1. ECONOMY & BUDGET SHORTFALL

The first one will come as no surprise - that is to address our state's economy and budget shortfall.

We worked diligently over the last four years with our Governor to control the growth of government and save funds for this inevitable situation. As we worked to balance our budget, we came up $1 million short in this biennial budget year, which includes K-12 and the cost of government. We were fortunate that we could address that with funds from savings and revenue diversion. But this is one of those issues that will compound over the next 5 years, not go away, and if we don't address this now, the K-12 Foundation could face a $1.5 billion shortfall.

We clearly have our work in front of us. The best thing we can do, before we start raising taxes, is to have a serious discussion about spending in government and K-12 education. The Governor made the right call with his earlier 8.2 percent budget cuts. A delay would only have exacerbated the problems.

We are still short and need further reductions in government. We cannot wait until the next session to start dealing with the huge shortfall in the education budget. Government has reduced spending approximately 10 percent while education funding has increased.

We need to start making reductions and planning now otherwise we will be doing a disservice to the citizens of Wyoming.

We have no choice but to live within our means. We need to grow and create jobs, jobs, jobs. To do that we must improve infrastructure, diversify our economy, responsibly develop our minerals and add value to our mineral wealth, grow tourism, and have a vibrant ag economy.

It is a tall order, no doubt.

One strategy we are working on with the Governor is to establish a select group of talented public and private sector leaders from local economic groups, the private sector, legislators, and government to recommend new approaches and develop new strategies. It will be a long term approach.

The select committee title has been abbreviated to the acronym "ENDOW" (Economically Needed Diversification of Wyoming) and you'll hear more about that later.

I also want to give our energy sector a boost through the Heartland Industrial Park, by re-energizing this task force and jumpstarting a plan for the energy and manufacturing sectors.

Nuclear energy and renewables should be on the table.

2. HEALTHCARE

We need to work with our Department of Health on shared professional services by:

a) Bringing together the State Hospital and the Wyoming Life Resource Center to maintain quality health care. We need to begin construction on both those facilities this year.

b) There is a distinct possibility that the federal Affordable Care Act will undergo vast changes, if not complete dissolution, and we need to prepare as best we can and plan our course. We will push the federal government to block grant medicaid to our state.

3. WATER

One of our state's most precious resources is our water - and we need to work with our Governor and the state's water development commission to create at least two new water storage projects over the next two years. Let's creatively look at how we can protect and develop our water resources for future generations.

4. EDUCATION

In education, we need to develop a plan focusing on major maintenance and school capital construction to meet future needs.

Without the coal lease bonus funding, this is another stress on an already tight K-12 budget. We should consider a constitutional amendment to allow local participation for capital construction.

5. FEDERAL LANDS
Management of federal lands and other federal regulation.

We need to work with our Congressional delegation to repeal or greatly reduce federal regulation that creates a choking effect on the private sector. This means speeding up review and permitting processes, opposing the new BLM sage grouse plan, improving management of federal lands for multiple use for recreation, agriculture, and responsible use of our minerals, and we should delist our wolves and grizzlies so our state can better manage these populations.

CONCLUSION

I have now reduced pages of goals and 40 days of hard work to about 15 minutes, but I hope you can take away a few ideas from my opening comments.

This is a team effort. Now it is up to us, as a team, to work hard, create the winning attitude, and have positive outcomes.

Thank you for your faith and trust in me as your leader. I will do all I can to ensure that we stay the course and work with Wyoming's Code of the West and old-fashioned civility.

God Bless the State of Wyoming and our great country, these United States.

Senator Coe nominated Senator Michael Von Flatern for Vice President.

President Bebout announced that it had been moved and seconded that Senator Michael Von Flatern be unanimously elected Vice President of the State Senate of the 64th Legislature of Wyoming. The motion carried.

Chief Justice Burke administered the oath to Senator Von Flatern.

ADDRESS BY VICE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE
MICHAEL VON FLATERN

Thanks to Senator Coe for the nomination. But, the one that deserves the most thanks, and through her hard work, who allows me to be here, is my wife Margie. Thank you.

We come together here to make the State of Wyoming a better place to live. We need to remember that as we make, or don't make, laws.

To help others to color within the lines, every Senator needs to be familiar with the Senate's rules; Masons or our own, and remember that the Senate rules will trump Masons. It is important to know these rules, whether to keep yourself in those lines, or to help others to properly explain their bill.

Of course as we all realize, unless you have been living under a rock, the expenses of the State need to be reviewed and possibly cuts made, and more importantly we need to take a hard look at the School Foundation and its future funding. The is only one of the many important decisions this body will make in this upcoming session.

My goal will be to listen to every one of you and attempt to make your session a more productive experience, so please let me know if I can help you, or find the agency or person who can.

So please respect each other, as the Wyoming Legislature is famous for doing, and let's have a cooperative and productive session.

ADDRESS BY SENATE MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER DREW PERKINS

Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen. Fellow Senators, particularly those that just taken their oath of office. You received a call, you have been appointed by those that exercised their most sacred constitutional franchise and personal franchise and are lucky to represent them. We welcome you to the Senate. We must remember that every day and every vote we make we represent the people who sent us here, through our constituents, our families and the people of Wyoming.

I want to express thanks to my family for the last seven years. When I'm not here, my wife shoulders most of the burden of holding down the office and managing our business affairs, triaging client requests and taking care of business. And I recognize it is her sacrifice and it enables me to serve. So Kristie is my much better half, she's also my conscious and the love of my life and so we appreciate Kristie. Now my wife, Kristie, if you would please raise your hand, my wife is shy. My mother-in-law is also here, Marlene, would you raise your hand. Kristie was born in Wheatland so I think that puts her, gives her some roots in Senator Boner's district. And my mother-in-law was born and raised in Cowley so that puts her in Senator Peterson's backyard. So like Governor Sullivan used to say before: Wyoming was just a small town with very long streets.

Next, thanks to you for trusting me and enabling me to serve as the Majority Floor Leader. I am humbled and honored by your trust and I pledge my time and my talents and my efforts to make sure that we have a smooth and functioning and operating floor and the work that we do gets done. In our oath of office we commit to sustain and obey the Constitution of the United States and Wyoming and I believe these are to be inspired documents and they represent solemn agreements between the citizens of this state and this country. Which every officer of government including us is under a sacred duty to obey. We have before us some matters this session which are weighty matters for the people of Wyoming. It is important for each of us to remember what we do here, some of what we do here is important for all of Wyoming, but everything we do here is important for someone in Wyoming.

As we go about the difficult work before us it reminds me of when I was nineteen years old and offered myself to serve a two year mission for my church. I was assigned to the Canada Vancouver mission which is most of British Columbia, which is Canada's most Western province. I went through my church's version of "new legislator training" for five days at the missionary training center along with about hundred fifty other recruits. Then we were off to go all over the world to spread the word. And while I was in that missionary training center I remember the feelings of anticipation, fear, excitement, trepidation about the new adventure which we were about to embark. Some of you, particularly those who are new to the legislature may have some similar feelings, maybe are able to identify with that. One speaker who spoke to us, a group of very young men and women at that point in time gave us some great advice, his name was Hartman Rector, Jr. He said this "my young friends, if you are not having fun you are missing the whole point." And I was anticipating at that time two years of hard labor and not a lot of fun for a nineteen year old, I was wrong. It's not about the hard work. There were lots of long days, there were lots of rejection, some persecution, but it was a tremendous amount of fun. There can be great joy in service. I think that lesson is applicable to all of us here. We deal with weighty matters in rapid fire succession, but each of us should enjoy the ride. If you can't find joy in the service of your fellow man, if you can't find joy in serving Wyoming and her people, if working to protect the liberties and lives of those we love, doesn't bring joy to you then it is time to reevaluate. And I know it for sure isn't the legislative pay and the per diem that brings us here. Friends I submit the work this session to you to your integrity, to your collective intellect, to your good humor and the common sense that hopefully God gave us. May God bless us and our efforts. May God bless Wyoming and please God bless her people.

ADDRESS BY SENATE MINORITY FLOOR LEADER
CHRIS ROTHFUSS

Mr. President, it's been quite a year since we last met. There's no question about it, for me personally, I have a new daughter. September 16th was a great day for my family. Cora Lynne Rothfuss will be looking forward to visiting the Wyoming legislature, Wyoming Senate, and you, Mr. President and learning the process early. Unfortunately, she and Finn are sick right now and Heather is with them back home, and she'd love to be here. Obviously as we heard in the first few speakers: this is more difficult, I think, for the family than it is for the legislator.

And I think Heather would sure like it if I were there with the kids right now, instead of being here so I could clean up some of the noses that are dripping. That's not the case today, I hope she's listening here and if she is: I love you, Connor, Zane, and Finn, as well as our new Cora.

And so, it was quite a year, in many other ways certainly. This body is very different. The Senate is different from the last time I had a chance to speak in front of it. It's about 125 years younger by my estimate. So that may bring new ideas.

National politics have certainly changed as well in ways we didn't all expect. I think one of the key thoughts, Mr. President, that I've had in recent weeks, goes back to 2004, in another presidential election. I was at the state department and one of my colleagues after the election was terribly upset with the victory of George W. Bush for his second term. She was a Democrat, and she said, "I hope he fails. I hope he does a miserable job as President and just proves what a bad presidential candidate he was."

I looked at her and I said, "I think just the opposite. I hope his second term is the best presidential term in the history of country. Because it's not about winning, it's not about losing, it's not about a party's victory. We win if the President wins; we lose if the President loses."

Wyoming wins if the state legislature, the Senate, the Governor wins; and Wyoming loses if we lose. It's a team effort. All of us together as a body, trying to pass laws we hope that they're good laws, we hope they're right for the people of Wyoming.

If we see it as a zero-sum game, where me winning means the President losing — there's no way to win overall for the people, and we know that here. We're in an unique circumstance, I think, in the state of Wyoming, somehow we've managed after all this time to be above that type of thinking. We see it as teamwork.

I think everyone in here I've worked in the past years knows that I'm here to work with each of you. The Minority Party is here to work with each of you — to try to make better legislation and build a better policy structure for the people of Wyoming.

But one other thing has changed, and for the last 6 years, President Bebout has lamented this overarching specter of federal overreach and executive decisions, and I finally, I finally agree with him. I wake up each and every day in fear. President Bebout, we've come together on that and I look forward to working with you on federal overreach. At the end, we come together and we work hard. We will all win and lose together in the Wyoming legislature and we're going to be a family in that spirit of cooperation.

Now we're in a bit of a precarious situation as the minority this year. Local politics are seen through the lens of national politics, and I want to apologize on behalf of the minority caucus in being so small this year. I think we'll start with that. In a democracy a one-party system is not the objective, and the smaller the minority party gets, the more difficult it is for us to serve the role of the loyal opposition, which is a valuable role. It's integral to any successful democracy. It's not useful to have one voice. It's not useful to have an echo chamber where you're bouncing your ideas — and we don't actually have that here — we know it's not just about the Democrats vs Republicans. It's about small cities vs large cities; it's about the east side of the state vs the west. Issues don't necessarily breakdown on party lines but it's still our responsibility, our role, to challenge the prevailing opinions of the legislature and bring light to potential deficiencies, to temper and hone legislation. And we're going to need more help from the rest of the body this year because of our number. We don't have representation on the minority side on the Senate Agriculture committee, Corporations, Revenue, Labor and Health, or Transportation. That's a weakness of the system that the rest of you will have to make up for. You'll have to take our voice for us to those committees, and I know the members of those committees and I have confidence in your ability to do that, and to think if one of the minority members were here — What would they think? What would they be annoyed with?

And then try to express that for us. If you want me to show up and express it then I would be happy to, please let me know.

Senator Bebout is exactly right in terms of exactly what we need to prioritize looking forward: economic diversification is at the forefront of our needs in the state of Wyoming. We have been in this boom and bust cycle for years. The challenge, I think, has been the same challenge we've had in every other boom is instead of just looking back on how we did it last time, let's try to look forward this time and see if there's a way not to repeat the cycle. To get the diversification done this time to get to the point we have sufficient products, alternative industries, information technology — ag and bio, substantial tourism increases, where we don't have the same future.

We're all hopeful that we'll end up on the other side of the bust. We don't necessarily have an assurance of that but we can build that future if we all work together and try to identify those possibilities — possibilities that Senator Bebout mentioned with the ENDOW concept, with the industrial park but we can also try to expand to other sectors and recognize that there's a lot of work to be done. Looking forward, advanced technologies, next generation concepts trying to avoid the future repeating what we saw in the past.

At the same time though, it's not enough to expand and diversify the economy if we don't take a serious look at changes to our tax structure so that we sufficiently tax non-mineral industries. We do a great job of taxing the mineral industries; we don't do a particularly good job of taxing other industries so if we were to diversify the state's economy, we wouldn't necessarily diversify that tax base. That's a hard discussion, but that's a discussion that's going to take a lot of leadership of the folks in this room.

And of course, we're going to be hard at work this session on education, that's something I've played a role in with Senator Coe, and many others in this chamber for the last — 6 years from me, a million years from Coe, and he built the system from the ground up actually. But we've done great things. When you look at our national standing in 2009 we were in the middle of the country in our NAT scores, at this point the 2015 NAT scores we were 5th place in the country in 4th grade math, 11th and 8th grade math, 7th place in 8th grade reading, 11th place in 8th grade math, so we accomplished the objective which was trying to get a top-rate education system for the people of Wyoming, and recognizing we're spending money at a high level and we need to get a return on investment. We've achieved it.

I think the challenge now as we go into lean times for revenue, is not to break it, that's what we need to do. We can't necessarily sustain it; let's not break it. We obviously have other challenges, we going to all work together, we're going to strive this session we will do our best for the people of Wyoming. But I'd like to leave and close with one quote, that quote relating to democracy starts:

"That, again, is what democracy is about. You talk to those who disagree with you; you don't beat them down. You exchange views. And you come to a compromise, a settlement that would be best for the country.

I've always said that dialogues and debates are not aimed at achieving victory for one particular party or the other, but victory for our people as a whole."

Now that sounds like the kind of thing that John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, one of our founders, would say... but it was Aung San Suu Kyi. She is currently the head of Burma, democratically elected. She was democratically elected twice. Once in 1990 by a landslide but then she was imprisoned, under house arrest for 15 to the next 21 years under an authoritarian regime; however, since we last met in March she was again elected. This time democratically, took power of that government and truly appreciates the value of the democracy that she now has.

A democracy that we have valued for over 200 years and this institution, I think, exemplifies. Let's continue that, Mr. President, and I know we will. I appreciate the collegiality of this body, of how hard we work, how well we work together, how much we laugh in the breakroom and I look forward to doing that again with each of you - on behalf of the minority party, in working with you to do what's right for the state of Wyoming. I look forward to it.

President Bebout welcomed the East High Concert Choir, under the direction of La Donna Backman.

President Bebout thanked all the family members and guests for attending the opening ceremony.

Amend Senate Rule 12-2 as follows:

12.0 Voting

12-2 Disclosure of Personal or Private Interest.

(a) A member who has a personal or private interest in any bill proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the Senate members at the time of initial consideration during the committee of the whole or at the first subsequent time the conflict becomes apparent to the declarer, or at the time of introduction during the budget session. If the status of the conflict changes during the legislative process, the member shall disclose the change in the status of the conflict. Disclosure of a conflict of interest by any member shall be entered in the Daily Journal. If the member later makes a declaration of no conflict of interest in the matter, prompt entry of that declaration shall be made in the journal. The published Journal shall clearly reflect the declaration of the conflict of interest of the member with respect to a roll call vote.

(b) On general appropriation and recodification bills a member who has declared a conflict of interest on a section or an amendment to a section shall not vote on that section, but may vote on the entire bill.

~~(b)(c) A member who has a personal or private interest in any bill proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the Senate at the time of initial consideration during Committee of the Whole and shall not vote thereon. If a member is uncertain whether his interest in a bill is such as to require him to abstain from voting, he may request a ruling from the rules committee. When a request for a ruling is made, the rules committee shall make such inquiry as it deems necessary and shall rule by majority vote whether the member may or may not vote on the bill in question. The rules committee shall report its ruling on the floor of the Senate, including an explanation of the interest in question and any explanation for the ruling the committee determines appropriate to report to the Senate. Debate on the interest in question and the ruling may be had in accordance with Senate rules governing debate. At the conclusion of any debate the ruling of the rules committee shall be adopted as the ruling of the Senate unless a motion is made, seconded by at least one (1) other member and carried by majority vote of all Senate members voting on the motion to rule differently. The proposed ruling of the Senate shall be set forth in the motion.~~

(d) As used in this section "personal or private interest" means the member shall receive or incur a direct financial gain or loss if the measure or bill is enacted. "Personal or private interest" does not include a financial gain or loss which shall be received or incurred by a member if the gain or loss shall also be received or incurred by a substantial class of persons.
