FIRST DAY
GENERAL SESSION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
SIXTY-FIFTH STATE LEGISLATURE
JANUARY 8, 2019

House Chamber

The Joint Session of the Sixty-Fifth Wyoming Legislature, General Session was called to order by the House Sergeant-at-Arms at 12:00 p.m.

The Honorable Karen Wheeler, Deputy Secretary of State, escorted by Representatives Jennings and Kirkbride.

The Honorable Edward A. Buchanan, Secretary of State, escorted by Representatives Olsen and Pownall.

The Honorable Kate M. Fox, Wyoming Supreme Court Justice, escorted by Representatives Walters and Loucks.

The Natrona County High School Jr. ROTC posted the colors, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance by the body.

Secretary of State, Edward Buchanan, expressed appreciation to the Natrona County High School Jr. ROTC for the flag ceremony and the Natrona County High School Jazz Ensemble for the singing of the National Anthem.

The prayer was given by Father Steven Titus, St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

OPENING ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE
EDWARD A. BUCHANAN

Well ladies and gentlemen, good afternoon. I am very proud to be back before you today, before this body nearly eight years after I left it as your Speaker of the House. Even though it has been nearly a decade since i've been gone, and since i sat in this chamber, debating the issues of the day, I am still not old enough to be a senator.

So i am very grateful to you all today, to be before you today and in this chamber. I have fond memories of these hallowed halls - wandering about years ago, preparing for the session, shopping for toothpaste and deodorant…tough crowd! I do remember in 2008 or thereabouts, praying 'lord don't let the capitol renovation start before I become speaker!' And now you know, the real reason why Speaker Harshman is back for another term! He will get at least one session in the capitol, and i am very happy for you.

Mr. Speaker, I remember fondly your nominating speeches of nearly a decade ago on my behalf, and I deeply appreciate the opportunities you gave me, the opportunities to work with you and your leadership team throughout the session and beyond.

To the entire house—newly electeds and those who have been here for a while - I join so many others who are deeply appreciative of the time you take away from your families, the time you take away from your professions, to spend the coldest and most wintery Wyoming months here in the capitol - exemplifying what is public service and what really is a constitutional and republican form of representative democracy. There is a deep gratefulness in my heart for the work you do here, and for the tasks that you set for yourselves. It is -- with a deep sense of commitment and purpose -- that we come together -the legislative branch and the executive branch - and strive to develop policies that are fair and just - laws that limit government and promote the general welfare for the people of the Great State of Wyoming.

Our constituents rely on us during these relatively short weeks to get the job done, and i do believe that in Wyoming we legislate and govern in a way that should make the other 49 states envious of our ability to govern as citizens and as friends and neighbors, and never as partisans or rivals.

I hope you will allow me at this point to discuss some of the work of my office and several areas where I believe that the Legislature and the Secretary of State's Office can collaborate, but first I would like to take a moment to tell you how grateful I am to the staff I have in the Secretary of State's Office. As you know I was appointed in March of 2018. During that time until now i have had many opportunities to travel throughout the state and meet not only the constituents of the Secretary of State's Office, but your constituents as well. And I have to tell you, I cannot count the number of times that people have told me what a great staff I have. How my staff answer your individual questions sometimes, as individual legislators and how my staff have helped your constituents solve problems in areas that relate to my office. And so to the extent my office does a great job it is not I that deserves the credit it is my staff that deserves all the credit in making me look much better than i probably deserve.

The 2018 election cycle was probably one of the smoothest election we've had in a number of years in terms of election management and the execution of a nearly flawless election day. Though the election was smooth, my office has several tasks ahead to ensure we continue to set the benchmark for fair, secure and efficient elections.

My office is moving forward, in cooperation with Wyoming's 23 counties, to acquire new election equipment to replace the decade-old machines found throughout Wyoming. And working through the PAVE task force, my office is ready to assure the people of wyoming that this new equipment will be uncompromising when it comes to accuracy, when it comes to ease, and, most importantly, when it comes to security. HB 21 is the vehicle we need to get this project done and I would encourage each of you to call the office and to give us your input and the input of your constituents as we move forward in replacing that equipment. Not only do we need to replace the equipment, I would like to update our election code.

When I came into office in the spring of 2018 we subsequently went right into the election season, and several issues presented themselves almost immediately to which the election code was not equal to the task. Election year scenarios that did not present themselves in simpler times now challenge us to be more contemporary in our approach. I think it's the advent of social media, the creative use of political action committees, and, in general, the overall advancement of technology, that require a more dynamic approach. The updating of the election code is essential, I think, to ensure the integrity of the process from beginning to end. It is essential to ensure we have qualified candidates and transparency in campaign practices, both in Wyoming and outside of Wyoming. Also, that the Secretary of State's Office has the statutory tools to meet these goals, so that we can provide legally sound answers to pressing questions of election management without having to turn to the courts for answers on areas of the law were there is little precedent and very little statutory guidance. I think this will strengthen the electoral franchise for the voters and candidates of Wyoming. And, while it is an impossible task to accomplish in one session, i believe that with your cooperation we can accomplished this in the next four years.

On another front, my office will continue to fight any the federal interfere in our electoral process here in Wyoming. It is my position that we will not let Wyoming become subject to provisions of the national voter registration act from which Wyoming is currently exempt, and there are reason why we are currently exempt. We are going to work with our delegation in DC to keep that "critical infrastructure" designation of our elections from diminishing our local control of our own elections. Legislation introduced just last week in the US House of Representatives – H.R. 1 – that would require state election officials to automatically register citizens who don't register themselves. And while my office strives consistently to make the voting process and the registration process as easy and accessible as possible, I believe voting is a right that citizens must undertake with pride and at least some modicum of self-initiative. And in Wyoming, as you know, we allow registration at any time, including on election day. In short, in Wyoming, we do elections right!

When it comes to my office's duties with businesses in the State of Wyoming, I join many leaders in the business and technology community in expressing real excitement and hopefulness in the potential for the technological innovation and advancement that the blockchain technology brings to our global economy. Certainly, I believe Wyoming should play a role in that technology. As you know, my office's Business Division is renowned, not just within Wyoming but outside of Wyoming as well, for the great customer service it provides, where all of our filing services are offered, both either in-person or online, offered 24 hours a day and seven days a week. My office has achieved that reputation through a continual emphasis on Wyoming's business-friendly reputation. And so, to advance our, yours and my, united goal – the expansion of this reputation - we stand ready to work together with you on a measured approach in utilizing this new technology.

And of course advances in our business services are only part of the picture, just as important to economic development as the businesses themselves.

Access to capital for small businesses has become a focal point in our office. Wyoming faces the challenge, due to our population and our geography, among other factors, of having diminished access to capital for small start-ups and entrepreneurs. And so to confront this challenge, we kicked off the Wyoming Invests Now – WIN program - last April and are initiating an educational piece, through our Securities Division, to educate the small business about this this exciting new initiative. And it was you all that helped us to do that. You passed legislation that cut a path through red tape - limiting the layered regulatory burdens of securities law – allowing private investors the real option to invest in local businesses.

Without expending one taxpayer dime, we have expanded access to additional capital opportunities for small businesses existing in Wyoming and to those with an idea in Wyoming who want to make it become a reality.

Now, beyond my statutory duties, my fellow statewide elected officials and I serve together, as you know, on the State Board of Land Commissioners and the State Loan and Investment Board, among others. I would like to discuss with you a little bit of our focus in that area and roles that we play.

One of the most important is our constitutional duty to providing funding to the Common School Land Fund. And, in that capacity, I know that, not only for myself, but for my fellow members we take seriously our fiduciary duty to consider all options for these school lands, whether it be mining, grazing, forestry, or recreation.

I think it is important to balance the multiple uses of this land, and I think that sentiment and that philosophy is shared very closely by the other members of the Board. In 2018, the Common School Land Income Account, through fees, through leases, interest and dividend income, along with state royalties from other leases generated nearly 413 million dollars for Wyoming schools. All of this from state school lands which the State Loan and Investment Board oversees.

So I want to assure this body that while you deliberate over the future of education funding in Wyoming, the State Loan and Investment Board will continue to carry out our fiduciary duty to schools in Wyoming earnestly and we stand ready to assist this body in executing any policies that maximize the use of our state lands for the benefit of future generations.

As members of the State Loan and Investment Board we also, as you know, oversee the Mineral Royalty Grant Program – that's a diminishing pool of money these days, but it is very important to support Wyoming's cities towns and counties with the infrastructure they need to provide for the health, safety and welfare needs of their communities. This pool of money is very competitive and our Board works hand in hand with the Office of State Lands and Investments to see that this money is well-used and also very smartly-managed. And so, to that end, when I mentioned the diminished pool of money available through the Mineral Grant Program, I support an energy strategy and an energy policy that emphasizes a robust role for our fossil fuels so that we can enjoy a robust workforce economy, generate the revenue necessary to sustain our cities, towns and counties, as well as our public schools. We owe it to the citizens of Wyoming to concentrate on maintaining Wyoming's status as the energy leader of the nation by focusing on our core industries, by focusing on value-added products and exports.

In closing, I want you to know that I know - your work is noble, your work is hard, your work is thankless, sometimes, but you will always have the thanks of a grateful former speaker, and you will always really have the thanks of a grateful state. Even in the hardest of debates and the toughest of votes, look to each other, look to your colleagues, look across the aisle - both literally and figuratively. The people of this institution are its greatest asset. And it's why I always say - next to the joy personal family, serving in this institution was one of, if not the most rewarding experience of my life and it's because of the people. So, I want you to know that I will be here with you, and I will continue to serve you in my role as Secretary of State.

You are not alone. I look forward to working with you, side by side, executive and legislative branches, to accomplish great things for Wyoming. And while that task is great, and I think the hurdles seem "Herculean" at times, I know you stand ready to guide the state home. Ready to defend Wyoming's way of life and ready to fulfil the promise of the Great State of Wyoming. And as Governor Gordon stated in his inaugural address 'our best days lie ahead of us.' and i look forward to arriving at that destination together.

Thank you, god bless you, your families, your work, the State of Wyoming, and our great nation.

ELECTION OF TEMPORARY SPEAKER

Representative Nicholas nominated Representative Lloyd Larsen for Temporary Speaker. The motion carried on a voice vote. Representatives Kinner and Sweeney escorted Temporary Speaker Larsen to the chair.

ELECTION OF TEMPORARY CHIEF CLERK

Representative Lindholm moved that Wendy Harding be appointed Temporary Chief Clerk. The motion carried on a voice vote.

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT

Representative Larsen appointed Representative Walters to serve as chairman of a credentials committee consisting of Representatives Zwonitzer, Wilson, Sweeney and MacGuire. The committee will convene in the office of the Majority Floor Leader. This committee shall report its finding as to the credentials of the membership of the House pursuant to Article 3, Section 10, of the Wyoming Constitution.

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE REPORT

Representative Walters reported that the credentials committee has received from the Secretary of State a certified list of the members elected to the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fifth Legislature of the State of Wyoming, according to the Certificates of the State Canvassing Board as filed in the office of the Secretary of State. We have reviewed that list and find it to be accurate. I move the adoption of this report.

Justice Fox was asked to come to the rostrum to administer the oaths of office to House members.

STATE OF WYOMING
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, Kai Schon, Election Director of the State of Wyoming, do hereby certify that the attached is a full, true and correct list of the members of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fifth Legislature of the State of Wyoming duly elected at the General Election held on the sixth day of November 2018 according to the Certificates of the State Canvassing Board, as filed in this office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Wyoming. Done at Cheyenne, the Capital, this 7th day of January A.D., 2019.

The motion carried. Mr. Speaker appointed Representatives Roscoe and Henderson to escort Representative Sommers to receive the oath of office. Justice Fox administered the oath.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE
STEVE HARSHMAN

Members of the 65th, thank you, thank you and congratulations to you. Thank you for this opportunity to serve you as your Speaker. It is an honor and privilege and I pledge to do my very best for you.

Mr. Speaker Pro Tem, I wish to divide my speech, and I think that is in order. I want to spend some time thanking others, then talk about our history, then our decorum, and then our future. I want to look out at the Horizon.

Families of the 65th, Thank you. Please Stand…You make this service possible, period. Only folks who have walked your walk will ever understand. I especially want to thank the people of Casper and Natrona County who have entrusted me to represent them. It is really a blessing.

Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Speaker Pro Tem, Mr. Majority Whip, Madame Minority Leader, Mr. Minority Whip, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen: Thank you and congratulations.

Father Titus, thank you for being here today and delivering the invocation. We trust that you will pray for us as we do the peoples work over the next 7 weeks.

Thank you to the Natrona County Jr. ROTC cadet corp for their presentation of the colors. We have the two oldest cadet corps in the country right here in Wyoming. The oldest is here in Cheyenne and the 2nd oldest is in Casper. This is the Mustang Battalion's 105th year. They are mentored by my friends and colleagues Colonel Scholtzer and First Sgt Riggs.

Thank you to the Natrona County Jazz Ensemble, for sharing your talent with us, you are some of Wyoming's finest young citizens and our future is in good hands. It is an honor for me and for this 65th House to have you here today. Thank you to your teacher, my colleague Steve Grussendorf who is a master teacher, a Wyoming boy who has enriched thousands of young lives over his decades of service in Wyoming.

Secretary of State Buchanan former Speaker of the House and fellow brother from the 57th Thank you, and Deputy Secretary of State Karen Wheeler. I know you will continue to partner with us to keep Wyoming the most business friendly state in the union.

Justice Fox, we appreciate you being with us today and as a co-equal branch of Government, I invite you if it pleases the court to open a session of the Supreme Court in your historic chambers in our Capitol.

Thank you to our Director Obrecht and Chief Clerk Harding, Secretary Landry and our LSO and Session staff for your hard work to make sure this day and the ensuing days work well for the people of Wyoming.

Thank you to my Family that is here today.
Two of my older brothers are here, Mike, and Gary, our brother Brian came to our first swearing in in 2003 and left this world in 2014. My Brother David is a retired Air Force Colonel, and his wife Judy could not be here today but their daughter, my niece Kristen and her husband Ian and their 3 children John David, Isabella and Addie, are skipping school to be here today.

In the end all we have is family and I love you and I appreciate your love and support.

I am the youngest of 5 boys. My poor mother. No dolls, no tea parties, just sewing up our baseballs and boxing gloves. My Dad was Army Air Corp in WWII and came to Wyoming to build a family and pursue the American Dream. My Mom and Dad gave us the best upbringing imaginable in the middle of Wyoming. My brothers and I experienced classic small town Wyoming where we experienced all the goodness of our community and our state.

My mom June Harshman is here today, she will be celebrating her 91st birthday this Spring one day before Mothers day. She is the oldest of 5 girls and her mother passed away when she was 13, the same year the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, she recently told me of the day in April during her Junior year in High school when she learned that Franklin Roosevelt had died. What a life you have lived and all that you have seen. Helping raise your 4 younger sisters you raised 5 boys and worked full time. I want to thank you for the life you gave me and for all your love, looking back you were the perfect Mom for the five of us.

Two years ago I introduced you to our four great kids. Which I always say, thankfully they have taken after their mother. They have all served as pages in these chambers. Sara was in 6th grade when I was first elected, she is a former congressional page, and an alumna of the University of Wyoming and teaches 1st grade, she also shares my nerdiness for history and government.

Megan graduated from college last year and is teaching 3rd grade. She is probably the best first year teacher in America. Her students were having their parents contact her over Christmas break as they missed her so much. Josh is a Senior pre-med student at the University of Wyoming and was set to graduate this Spring but after an injury last fall at Missouri he will use his red-shirt to return next year. Jesse who we call Big Jess is a Freshmen at the University of Wyoming. Jess was 3 years old when I was first sworn in. We have a lot of great memories of them spending time in Cheyenne, having fun at the Hitching Post. The thing they don't tell you when you become a parent is how fast it goes. This service in the Legislature is certainly a family affair. We have been a tremendous team over the years. I know and trust that though this service we have all learned that you build a life not by what you get but by what you give. Not by what you take but what you leave behind.

I often say that we are all prisoners of the English Language as there are no words to say what you really mean and what you really feel. I just want to let you 4 know how much your Mother and I appreciate you and how proud we are of you for what kind of people you are, how hard you work and how much you care. Thank you and I love you.

Finally and most importantly, my wife Becky. I remember growing up and the one TV channel in the state was K2 in Casper. Of course being the youngest I was the remote control "Steve turn it up, Steve turn it down."

And once a year or so the Billy Graham crusade would be televised; anyhow, I remember still today when Reverend Graham talked about God's plan and to trust and to pray that someday you will unite with that special person that God has planned for you. I was probably 10 years old at the time. Later I prayed for that special person. Well this summer we will celebrate 32 years of marital bliss. I want to pause and give you all some great advice, listen to your spouse, no one loves you more, no one knows you better, no one wants you to succeed any more and be any more honest with you. She is my best friend. She has always supported and protected me and has been the rock of our family making this service in the Legislature possible. You are an incredible person, Thank you and I Love You.

With humility and gratitude I stand with you today. I am grateful for the many who have helped me through the years, many are no longer here, yet they are not forgotten. As the last member of the 57th legislature I was one of 3 "30 something's" as we were the youngest members back then. Today we have 3 in their 20's and 7 in their 30's. My advice to all of us, is that we should never forget that our time here is very fleeting.

Our state is built on nearly 130 years of history. We open this legislative session as only the 65th legislature to sit in this state. There are 1668 people in our states history that have served. We, along with the 63rd, and 64th are unique as we are serving outside of our Capitol. This sacrifice is rather small compared to our founders who borrowed money to build this state and worked hard to pay the bills and leave a legacy. They understood the importance of our Capitol and took great pride in it, it is one of 10 in these United States whose dome is topped with Gold. It's interior is finished with the most lavish interior of the time, Cherry wood.

As fate would choose, the Capitol restoration is now ours to finish. The key in all endeavors in life and perhaps the most difficult is to finish. It is important that we finish the job, do it right and do what our predecessors did—which is leave a beautiful functional Capitol that will continue to be a beacon for democracy, equality and independence, and will serve the people of the state of Wyoming well beyond our lifetimes.

It will look much like it did after its initial construction. Our people will be able to walk into the original territorial chamber where our founders looked out the North windows toward Fort Laramie as we debated and became the first government in the world that granted women the right to vote.

As we work in these temporary chambers, we need to continue the openness to the public that the Capitol granted. As we walk the halls of this temporary Capitol take time to reflect on the historic pictures, on our predecessors who have labored before us. They toiled on many of the same issues we will work on. They lost sleep, had butterflies, worried and worked. They experienced the same emotions, of joy and frustration, they got mad and they got over it, except perhaps the 12th Legislature in 1913, the only time Republicans and Democrats would not have their pictures in the same portrait. They are all on the walls, most of them have left this world.

Now it is our turn to continue this work for our brief period of service.

The history of the House of Representatives in these United States is one born out of compromise. Our three vital functions are that of representation, law making and the check and balance of power with the executive and judicial branches of our government.

I would like to share some quotes on being a member of the People's House.

John Adams gave a sobering account when he said…"I have accepted a seat in the House of Representatives, and thereby have consented to my own ruin, to your ruin, and to the ruin of our children. I give you this warning that you may prepare your mind for your fate."

Alexander Hamilton was more accurate in my opinion when he said….Here, the people govern; here they act by their immediate representatives.

President James K. Polk said it best…Under the providence of Almighty God the representatives of the people are again brought together to deliberate for the public good.

I will tell you that The Wyoming House of Representatives, the People's House, where leaders are refined is a story much like the hard working men and women of Wyoming. It is a story of accomplishment, struggle and compromise on a path to a more Wonderful Wyoming. We are the closest to the people and serve as their direct conduit to the government and in many ways we are their only avenue to have their voices heard. We are here to solve problems, to fix things, to build things and to accomplish things. This solving, fixing, building and accomplishing is only possible with selfless service to our people as our top priority and it only comes through a servant heart, hard work and following the Golden Rule of treating others the way we want to be treated.

As representatives in the People's House, it is essential for us to act in a way that brings credit to the people of the State of Wyoming. We will do this by observing the decorum, and process produced by nearly 130 years of experience. We are all duly elected, we will all have an chance to put our best ideas forward. Then they will be refined, improved and perhaps rise to the top. Other ideas will be left behind to rise another day. Always remember that the wisdom of the group is more powerful than any of us as individuals.

As you returning members know at times this can be a torturous process. I welcome you more seasoned colleagues back with a respect and friendship that only an institution like this can produce. To our ten new members, welcome. You are the smallest incoming Freshmen class in ten years. As the returning members know, you will quickly discover that the process of getting a majority is rightfully tough and it will knock you down. This process favors those who continue to get back up. It will strengthen you, give you a broader perspective and give you a renewed appreciation for our state. On behalf of the House I warmly welcome you and stand ready to serve and assist you to make your service successful. This PROCESS is a beautiful process and we will honor it and when our time is up, we will leave it better than we found it.

Now is the time to get to work, to hit the ground running and do the people's business. Wyoming expects and demands that we make progress on many issues that are facing our state. We are here to roll our sleeves up and find ways to work together, to find solutions and get the job done.

Every Legislature from the 1st to the 65th faces certain challenges and problems that need solved. Some have stepped up and changed the state forever with what at the time seemed like courageous bold steps and now with the lens of history look more like common sense.

One of the biggest for the Equality State was our territorial House voting 7-4 to grant women the right to vote in 1868.

In the midst of the Great Depression in 1935, the 23rd House voted 43-9 for the first one percent sales tax.

Fifty years ago in 1969 the 40th instituted the first tax on corporations and valued minerals at 100% with a 54-2 house vote.

In 1974 the 42nd voted 55-2 for a Constitution Amendment to set up the permanent mineral trust fund. Think how that changed Wyoming forever. If we would not have waited 25 years to invest in common stocks we would have received another billion dollars of income.

In 1978, the 44th voted to establish a medical school in Wyoming. It was a budget session and even though the proposal had majority support 35-25 in the House and 19-11 in the Senate it failed the 2/3 super majority required in the Budget session. I wonder how we would look 40 years later with a medical school in our state?

In 2006, the 58th Legislature I am proud to say established the Hathaway Scholarship Program. Talking about the tough process, the Merit scholarship later named the Hathaway was brought to life on the last day in the 2nd house. My 2nd session in 2005, I had 3 bills setting up a Merit scholarship defeated in this House and I amended this program into a Senate file on the last day in our House. This program and the power of education is changing family trees.

We the 65th will also have issues that will keep us awake at night, and will require that we have our eyes on the horizon to make these decisions that in a few years our people will look back and say "Thank Goodness, that was a good thing the Legislature did back in the teens." I want to visit with you about a few issues specifically:

EDUCATION:
We are blessed as we have arguably the best school system in the United States and looking at our NAEP scores the world. The number of customers in our school system has grown by nearly 11% over the last 12 years. With that we are required to provide an equitable education to kids whether these young citizens live in Sundance, Sheridan or Star Valley. If you look at our cost per customer number it is right at the rate of inflation over the last 12 years. Two years ago we faced the biggest fiscal challenge in our states history. This House where leaders are developed stood in the GAP and worked hard with the Senate to save our schools and solve problems. We took what was a two year, Billion dollar shortfall and reduced it through a variety of measures to what is now a roughly $250 million biennial deficit. We worked our tails off and found real solutions. Our schools are another example of why we need to diversify our revenue streams. We are like every state where we pay for our schools with property taxes. Our difference from other states is more than half of our land is public and minerals pay half of our property taxes, which makes our local schools the most mineral dependent government service in our state with the most volatile revenue streams of any government service.

In addition we cut school mills in the 90's and have the 44th lowest property tax rate in the nation and we pay the fewest mills in recent history. There is a problem built into our system. It is structural, and will not fix itself. Let's focus on the problem, the structure and fix it. We need to continue the process we started the last two years and bring more balance and stability to our school funding streams.

JOB TRAINING:
We have one of the highest percentages of population with HS diplomas and associates degrees. We have one of the lowest with bachelor's degrees and other specialized training. As the ENDOW report suggests and our local business tell us we have more work to do on post secondary opportunities. We are proud of our lone state University and our colleges but we also recognize that many in our state are isolated from opportunities to advance their knowledge and skills, be it medical, financial or business. We have proposals to work on this. In addition we have needs for skilled labor, welders, drivers, operators. We want to help our community colleges ramp up and make these programs even more effective for our citizens. We will have opportunities to update the Hathaway scholarship and also provide internship to recognize this need. Bottom line we have employers in this state with good jobs who need qualified people. We need to help match training with these high economic need areas to move our state forward. Let me be clear this is not about a bunch more money, this is about efficiency and priorities.

HEALTH CARE:
I think if we wait for the federal government to come up with a solution for health care our people will be waiting a long time.

We have proposals for high risk pools and air ambulance. We should consider waivers for mental health and the unemployed. I still get the question from folks around the state asking why they can't buy into the state plan which is a large pool and has the ability to keep costs down. How does that affect the private sector. We have work to do.

INVESTMENTS:
Because of our Mineral based economy from time to time we have an infusion of one time dollars above our needs. This body has traditionally saved, long and short term and made one time infrastructure investments. For example I advocated for the 4x10 and 8x18 plans which doubled and doubled again our Permanent Mineral Trust Fund from 2 billion to 8 billion and growing. The other investment is in our infrastructure. We are always obligated to improve and build roads, schools, water infrastructure and other projects for our state. These obligations, will never go away and use of one-time revenue for projects is fundamental to move our state forward.

FINANCES:
Adjusted for inflation our spending on state government is averaging a 3% decline every year since 2007. We have the fewest state employees in over a decade. Our costs per student at UW/CC/and K-12 are steady at the rate of inflation over the last decade. We have cut over $400 million per year from our expenditures. At some point you are not going to cut your way to prosperity. We don't have $20 Billion in cash laying around in coffee cans. We have $1.5 billion or a 25% reserve. The world is different than it was 40 years ago, this change has happened very slowly, and we have to recognize it and modernize our existing tax structure. We want a diversified economy we will need a diversified tax structure. It is not about new taxes, its about updating, modernizing and balancing the taxes we do have. We all need to learn about these issues and make sure that Wyoming in addition to exporting our minerals and unfortunately too many of our young people is not also exporting our cash at the end of every day.

Our predecessors blessed us with permanent trust funds. The are our 3rd largest source of Revenue and our most reliable. We need to fully utilize them for our people. They have sustained us through this fiscal shock but they will not fully solve our problems.

We need to look at how we fund Tourism; most states run a self-funded model not a General funded model like Wyoming. We have a proposal from this industry to self-fund and expand our tourism sector and grow our 4 million visitors to this state by 10% per year.

Wyoming's roads are some of the best in the country, our economy rides on our roads. We need to ensure they stay that way and that visitors to our state continue to pay their fair share.

Small changes make a big difference. We can solve a lot of our problems by making small steady changes that are smart policy and pass the common sense test.

Speaking for this House, I can tell the people of Wyoming that we are here working for them and for their children's future.

This House, the most efficient, the most transparent, the hardest working house in America will mirror the working men and women of this state will be up before sunrise and work late into the night. We will work tirelessly for our people, reading discussing, working and debating and solving problems.

This House, will listen, will assume the best intentions and give our best effort.

This House, will work to enhance our key industries of Minerals, Ag and Tourism as well as our growing new sectors of technology, banking and trusts.

This House will protect our water and wildlife resources and keep our great outdoors pristine and accessible.

This House, will work tirelessly to make sure Wyoming remains the most business friendly, family friendly state in the union with the best schools, best colleges and best University in the nation and the best place in the world for young people to raise a family and live the American Dream.

This House where our people have granted us leadership roles realize that Leadership is not a title…its about action and hardwork, its about service, its about caring more than others think possible and finally it is about finishing.

As we travel this two year journey as the 65th House of Representatives, remember what a blessing it is to serve this precious state that we all love.

Finally, this House the peoples House will honor and work for our Veterans. I ask that God Bless those in uniform who allow us to continue this uniquely American experiment. God Bless all of you, God Bless the state of Wyoming and God Bless the United States of America.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM OF THE HOUSE
ALBERT SOMMERS

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Majority Floor Leader, Majority Whip, Madam Minority Floor Leader, Distinguished guests, and Ladies and Gentlemen of the 65th. One of the greatest honors of my life has been to serve my constituents and the State of Wyoming in the Wyoming House of Representatives. To be elected Speaker Pro Tem by this esteemed body is very humbling indeed.

I want to thank my wife Sue, my sister Jonita, my ranch partner Ty Swain, and his wife Matty for allowing me to serve you and the Great State of Wyoming. I would also like to thank all the family members, neighbors, like Ann Noble, friends, employers and business partners who support our efforts in the Wyoming Legislature. Without them we could not serve.

I pledge to the members of the 65th that I will work hard to help the rest of Leadership and our staff run a smooth legislature.

I also pledge to help maintain the integrity of this institution. We will disagree on many issues, but we must maintain our decorum and civility, to each other and to the public that we represent. The legislative process depends upon us building relationships with constituents, House members, Senate members, and the executive branch. We are here to solve problems, and that can only be done by starting with a conversation, building trust, and forming relationships. Building relationships is impossible if we lack civility and foment discord.

It is important that each of us support the rest of us in the House. I will work to help new legislators become successful, and I will be available to answer any questions.

There are two members of the 65th, who have ancestors or great-grandchildren that are at least the eighth generation of their family to have lived in Wyoming, and we have a member who has been a resident of Wyoming for less than 5 years. We are comprised of the old and the new, the young and the old. We must respect the culture and custom of Wyoming's past, while moving Wyoming into the future.

May the 65th Legislature serve Wyoming in a manner that we, our predecessors, and our successors will be proud of.

Thank You

ADDRESS BY MINORITY FLOOR LEADER OF THE HOUSE
CATHY CONNOLLY

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Majority Floor Leader and Speaker Pro Tem, Justice Fox, Mr. Secretary, distinguished guests, to Lucas and Jenni, Melanie and Aimee, to other friends and family here as well as afar, and colleagues of the 65h. I am humbled to be here before you.

As many of you know, I have a dog. A pretty new one. Some of you have met him or he's been yapping away when we're on the phone chatting. I got him pretty soon after session last year. I went to the pound, our local animal shelter run by the police department and I, of course knew, one of the officers on duty and asked for the sweetest pooch they had. That's how I got a one-year old cow dog a blue heeler, with the name of Marshall. He's adorable and exuberant. I gave him the first name of Thurgood and admonish him that his chewing of my sneakers and shoes and the hole in my bed are not becoming of his namesake, a US Supreme Court justice.

I wanted him to be able to run off leash, so in the spring I took him out to the prairie north of town and even with some antelope grazing nearby, he came back to me immediately when I called. But then, we were out on a walk really early one morning late in the summer... it was barely dawn, and I took him along the creek in town with streets and therefore the possibility of traffic on two sides and a field to the south. He was running around and he came upon two pods of antelope sleeping. Marshall sniffed them out and they all leapt away at break neck speed. This time Marshall took off with them and when I called him he didn't come back. They all ran across the road and he disappeared. Thank God there wasn't any traffic yet. He came back at his leisure, very pleased with himself. I, on the other hand, was scared and angry that he was gone or could have caused an accident. So I leashed him up. Kept him close. No risk, no danger. But then the snow fell and the ski trails just outside of town were calling. I wanted to see how and if he loved running in snow but I was afraid he'd take off and this time I'd really lose him. But, even though I could leave him at home, I knew he'd love being out there as much as me. And so Marshall and I made our way to Happy Jack and I let him go. And he ran and he came back and he ran and he came back when I called him and we went for miles. And you've never seen a happier pooch. Remember, I almost didn't take him out. It was safer and less work for me to let him stay at home. He had a ball, and I loved watching him run and honestly, a feisty pup in our back country is a pretty good companion. This was a good lesson, with some risk, you can also have some great rewards. It's what we need to do here. Our constituents expect it of us.

While we have challenges before us, I think we begin by recognizing that we have a lot to be proud of: Wyoming is beautiful with its wildlife and public access to wide open spaces; we are one of the most business-friendly states in the nation; we value our communities; we have an enviable sovereign wealth fund; we work and work hard. We've invested in education and its paid off.

But behind each of these is a call to do more, or do differently. While we are business friendly, we're not particularly business savvy. We want growing businesses producing the world's best products, but we also need to invest in 21st century services, those that address our health care needs, and care for the elderly. We need a tax structure that not only invites businesses to Wyoming, but supports those businesses with good roads, broadband, and importantly vibrant communities that support their families. We need to listen to those businesses when they tell us, for example that we need an anti-discrimination statute.

This past fall marked the 20th anniversary of the murder of Mathew Shepard. Make no mistake about it, our state and the homophobic violence associated with that violence are inexorably linked. It was a grueling fall for me as someone who was here at the time of the murder - an openly gay professor with a family including a 12 year old son at the time. From the BBC to CNN to the Denver Post and our own news outlets, I was asked to reflect on the meaning of the murder and life in Wyoming today. Let me tell you first, that I pretty angrily resisted any attempt to paint us as backwards yahoos to be easily dismissed, and while I could point to some positives like the existence of Gay Straight Alliances in many of our schools today, I was honest about the existence of bias and discrimination, examples that just happened. There was recently a high school girl in Riverton who jumped into her car at the end of a school day, she sounds like a good kid, who played sports and dreams of becoming a nurse, who drove through town, home. Unbeknownst to her, LESBO was spray painted on the entire passenger side of her car. She was, of course, devastated and embarrassed when she found out and stayed home from school for a few days, humiliated. Regrettably, this isn't an isolated incident, harassment and bullying happens for far too many of our kids (and adults) with devastating results.

So as I reflected in these interviews on the past and our future, I talked about our need to do much more, not less. Hiding from that reality means that we will not attract the cutting edge companies envisioned by the ENDOW initiative; that we are losing our youth, not just our gay ones...but their friends and family who do not want to stay in a place where their loved ones live in fear. Here, in this body, we need to take the risk to go home and tell our constituents proudly that Wyoming now joins the majority of the nation in recognizing and doing something about discrimination. And you know what, I am pretty sure that you will be rewarded with understanding in your communities for your action. Not by everyone, that's for sure, but we're not here for the easy votes. And you know why I think that that vote will be ok? Because let me tell you a bit more about that girl in Riverton. Remember, she drove through town and then home with her defaced car. She hadn't told parents that she had fallen in love with a friend, that she knew she was gay. She wasn't quite ready for that conversation. But her dad saw the epitaph before she did and called her over. And then, that conversation that she wasn't ready to have happened, and her loving parents swept her into their arms and held and protected her. That's what most of our Wyoming parents would do. And then the family took a call. It was from a business owner in town, He owned an auto body repair shop. He saw the car on its drive home that day, and knew he had to do something. He didn't know the girl or her family but he found out. He knew what was right, and what was wrong... and he had the ability to make a wrong, right. So he did it. He offered to sand and scrape and paint and whatever was needed, free of charge. That's who we are as Wyomingites.

I hope that young girl and her family stay in Wyoming, that she graduates and becomes a nurse, maybe she has a family of her own. That she won't worry about losing her job because she's gay, but instead her worries are about what to make for dinner, and if she remembered to get her kids their Halloween costumes. That she feels welcome to serve in her community at maybe their free health clinic and at the 4th of July parade committee, because she, like all of us, has so much to offer and we want her here.

We want her, and our kids, and our grandkids to make their homes in Wyoming. What else do we need? I hate that when looking at a roomful of 5 year olds that the data indicates that 20% of our kids will fail... not graduate, be at high risk for poverty and incarceration. We can reverse those projections by taking some risks. We've made some headway with including computer science in the curriculum. But we can do more. Let's fund high quality early childhood education. Let's invest in reading by third grade. Let's expand our support of our community colleges and UW. Let's imagine economic security for our families through the recognition that both men and women seek out and need meaningful, well compensated work. We are all rightfully proud of our history regarding suffrage. Let's make our year of celebrating Wyoming's women meaningful. Let's close the wage gap. Let's change that headline in Fortune magazine that proclaimed Wyoming Worst for Women, to Wyoming Works for Women.

These are difficult times, but they can be exciting ones if we are willing to take some risks and lead with change. Some of that change has been forced upon us as the market, as markets do, have evolved. Let's accept that reality and then accept the challenge. While we can no longer expect the extractive industries to shoulder the responsibility for up to 70% of our revenues, we can imagine and then implement a taxation scheme that is reasonable, fair, and progressive for all industries, for all of us. Let's change course when it comes to corrections and health care. Imagine heightened public safety through community corrections instead of paying for expensive new prisons. Imagine our neighbors who are suicidal, or with mental illness and substance abuse problems getting help before getting placed in hospitals, prisons, or worse. Imagine investment in pre-natal care to avoid the agony and the costs associated with low-birth weight babies. The result -- Millions saved, restitution paid and families intact. How? We do it together. Cooperation is the foundation of our most important social institutions including our families, our communities and our civic and faith groups. When asked, what did you do this session, let's each be able to answer - I made our communities stronger and safer. I set up meaningful business incentives, and yup, I encouraged that weird out of town hipster with a bitcoin in his virtual wallet and a blockchain in his cloud to don a cowboy hat and make Wyoming home for his business, his employees and his husband and kids. I believed and acted in a political process that isn't about money and power games, but, instead about the improvement of people's lives.

Let me end by saying that I hope that we will govern together with passion and humility, with risk-taking and rewards.

We will work as Democrats and Republicans, ranchers and railroaders, teachers and miners to get the work done today and to govern for generations into the future. We each and all have the most exciting and fabulous job in the state today, and one that your minority caucus, Charles and John, Andy with a Y and Andi with an I; Stan and Mike, Sara and JoAnn and I are ready to take on with you. Thank you.

ADDRESS BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER OF THE HOUSE
ERIC BARLOW

Greetings! Speaker Harshman, Secretary of State Buchanan, Justice Fox, colleagues, family, friends and those listening in, both here and afar, on this windy Wyoming day…

Hold on to your hats… as now the work begins in the people's house, the 65th Wyoming House of Representatives. Our efforts are important because they are done at the behest of our communities, and they expect and deserve the best we can provide.

It will be a privilege to assist in continuing the long traditions this body is known for:

- Respectful and robust debates where we challenge ideas, not each other.
- Appreciating all comers, the first- timers and the seasoned, so good ideas get better.
- Taking time to recognize and celebrate Wyoming and her people.
- Caring for each other when there are burdens on our bodies and spirits.
- And always remembering, the promise of a more perfect Union is in its people, and the work we do on their behalf

Our 670 day term has remarkable possibilities. Let's be productive, appreciative and humble in the opportunity before us, seeking solutions that are purposeful, practical and fiscally responsible.

Thank you to the men and women serving throughout the world to protect us.

Thank you to those serving within our communities.

God bless Wyoming. God bless this grand Republic, the United States of America.

Now, 65th... Let'r buck.

THE STATE OF THE STATE
GOVERNOR MARK GORDON
SIXTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE GENERAL SESSION
JANUARY 9, 2019

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the 65th Legislature. Thank you for your welcome. It is nice to be here and will be even better to be back in the Capitol next year.
Would you please join me in recognizing Secretary of State Ed Buchanan, Auditor Kristi Racines, Treasurer Curt Meier and Superintendent Jillian Balow. What an amazing team, what an amazing group of people.

Mr. Chief Justice, I note, that this is the first time in our state's history that we will hear a State of the Judiciary from a majority female bench. This seems fitting though, because 149 years ago Governor John Campbell, anxious to follow up on the monumental achievement of the previous year, appointed Esther Hobart Morris as the first female Justice of the Peace in America. The Sweetwater Clerk's telegram announcing the event read, "Wyoming, the youngest and one of the richest Territories in the United States, gave equal rights to women in actions as well as words…"

Justices, to each of you, thank you for your impartiality, dedication to the constitution and the law, and for your thoughtfulness in deliberation.

Thank you also to the leaders of the Eastern Shoshone Tribe, Vice Chairman Leslie Shakespeare and Council Member Starr Weed Jr.; and to the leaders of the Northern Arapaho Tribe Chairman Lee Spoonhunter and Vice Chairman Anthony Addison. It is good to see you all again. I look forward to building an even more productive relationship between our governments in the years to come.

And to you, members of the 65th Legislature, I say on behalf of all citizens, thank you for your willingness to serve and your commitment to the great state of Wyoming.

You are a true citizen legislature and represent the fabric of Wyoming: real people with real concerns, real jobs, and real families.

Two days ago, I took my oath of office to be your Governor. What a day. I was both inspired and humbled by the wellspring of good energy that this state seems to be feeling right now. The state is excited and expecting good things from all of us.

Even though I have had the great privilege of working with many of you over the past six years as your Treasurer, this is my first opportunity to deliver my own State of the State. Following close on the heels of an inaugural for only the fourth time in our state's history, it has been, in fact, 56 years since that a newly elected Governor Hansen gave his Inaugural Address and his State of the State in the same week.

I look forward to our work in this session as we grapple with the concerns of our people, the opportunities our state provides, sorting our budget priorities, and the other issues that a general session brings forth for discussion.

Set our state on a sustainable fiscal path

Let me begin by expressing my appreciation to Governor Mead and his administration for preparing a supplemental budget that speaks to continuing Wyoming's efforts to diversify our economy, while also emphasizing the needs of higher education, local communities, effective government, and state infrastructure.

Every one of us in this room is familiar with Wyoming's history of booms and busts. These cycles of instability are not new. In October, the group responsible for forecasting the state's revenue struck an optimistic tone, which set the stage for an upbeat budget proposal.

Last week that group met again to review and calibrate their October revenue estimates. Since October things have changed: global volatility has increased, oil and gas prices have declined.

When I was Treasurer, it was more often than not that October has seemed more optimistic than January. The remainder of the year generally comes in somewhere in between.

That is why I believe our best times will come when we assure a reliable and stable fiscal future. It is hard to find a consistent path forward when one chases revenue, hopes for windfall, or reacts drastically to downturns.

It is important that we find a course where "steady as she goes" becomes the watchword.

It is true that Wyoming has been responsible in putting together savings that can help stabilize the downturns. If we are to chart our own future, we must also be disciplined and refill and even augment those savings in the good times.

We must be wise with our savings, using them when we need them. That is why as Treasurer, and now as Governor, I support a bill to better define the purpose of the Rainy Day Account, or LSRA, so that those nearly $2 billion can be invested in a way that, first and foremost, assures the money in it will be there for rainy days and second that it can earn incrementally better returns than it does now. This definition will also clarify when, how much, and for what purposes we have set aside these specific savings.

My father would often quote an Ogden Nash poem: "Here is a good rule of thumb, often too clever is just dumb."

Because all of us here run household budgets, we know there is a beauty in simplicity. Understanding the fact that a little more than ⅓ of our total portfolio is made up by the Permanent Mineral Trust Fund (this is money which cannot be appropriated), and another third is specific to various education missions (also permanent funds), this leaves only ⅓ for us to work with. We really do not have money to waste.

Last year, investment earnings were the highest source of income to the State. Before we lend out money for low or no interest, please remember any reduction in earning capacity, in my view, is tantamount to raising taxes and none of us is eager to take on new taxes.

That means we will first have to do our best to contain expenditures. A lot of that work is underway already, but I believe we must look both more broadly and deeply at finding better ways of delivering services and finding savings.

But, I get ahead of myself. As I take up my part of the responsibilities that the people of Wyoming have entrusted me with, I am happy to declare the State of Wyoming is strong.

We are strong because of our people, our resources, and our Wyoming work ethic.

We live each day with courage. Just this Friday, some of our bravest were deployed to Afghanistan. We will be sending off another 327 National Guard Troops in 2019. What a deep commitment to the ideals of our nation these men and women show and have shown.

Tech Sergeant Ben Eckman was nominated for a national award for his exemplary service last year. Sergeant Eckman served for 8 months in Iraq. And his skillful work, under challenging and dangerous conditions at an Air Force base, kept aircraft and people safe.

We all know that his wife Sunny, as the spouse of a deployed airman, made an incredible sacrifice as well. Serving our country is a family effort and we're proud to have you both join us today so we can show you our appreciation for your service.

I join with the Legislature in support of the military and our veterans. Let us commit to do more during this session.

I commend to you the work of establishing Wyoming's first Veterans Skilled Nursing facility.

It has been a long time in coming. Building this facility will mark an important step forward for our veterans. As well as an opportunity to expand a talented workforce educated in our community colleges and university.

More broadly, I believe we have an obligation to improve access to mental healthcare for our veterans, our first-responders, and ultimately for all citizens.

Substance abuse, moral injury (the emotional and spiritual impact of participating in, witnessing, and/or being victimized by actions or behavior which violate persons' core moral values), suicide and PTSD, these are all concerns we as a state need to address. We can do more in our communities to help support those who are struggling with crisis.

Happily, in Wyoming there are many organizations working to help those wrestling with these traumas. Through improved coordination of these non- profit, public, and private programs, we can provide better mental health services in the places where people live. We can save lives and even potentially reduce the overall cost of mental healthcare.

One of those organizations is represented here today.

Volunteers of America is an organization, which operates successful substance abuse facilities in Sheridan and Riverton, and provides services for veterans and those less fortunate.

I mention VOA because it's an example of the multifaceted approach we can take to addressing complex social problems such as community mental health care, prison overcrowding and homelessness.

Jeff Holsinger is the CEO of Volunteers of America Northern Rockies, he and this organization have been dedicated to addressing mental health and community issues in our region for years. Jeff please stand and be recognized.

Health services, family services, workforce services, insurance, and corrections make up some of the most significant expenditures in our state. This body has wrestled with how best to meet the needs of our people in a cost conscious and compassionate way. My administration will seek to better integrate our approaches across agencies not through bigger bureaucracies but by finding synergies and providing better service to our citizens and streamlining our delivery.

Ensure citizens have access to quality education

In this session, I believe we can take steps towards making our schools safer. There's a bill and a budget proposal that I believe can make a difference for the safety of our kids. To be sure there will be issues to properly discuss. But I hope this session will close with all of us knowing we did our best to improve the safety of our schools.

Wyoming people do not ask for recognition. We like to do what has to be done. Even in our day-to-day jobs we are called upon to do extraordinary service.

Last fall, a young person, stepped forward to tell Principal Terry Quinn about a fellow student who planned an attack in his school. After hearing this information Principal Quinn, immediately acted to locate and disarm the student, who was carrying a pistol and had another gun in his locker.

When confronted, the student revealed that he had wanted to shoot as many students as he could. It is a sad thing that these sorts of incidents can happen.

But, Principal Quinn and the staff at Sage Valley Junior High have created a school culture that fosters confidence in students to do the right thing and come forward when necessary.

Principal Quinn is here with us today and I would like to ask him to rise so that we might acknowledge the courage of that young person who stepped forward and his quick and decisive action which averted a potentially devastating tragedy.

I will join Superintendent Balow in launching a multi-year initiative to continue to improve student safety and health. We can find sensible and appropriate solutions that will enhance the physical, mental and emotional well-being of all students as well as make school buildings safer.

But that is not all we need to do for schools. Over the next several years we must work towards a more stable and predictable way to fund education from our rural schools in places like Bill to our larger schools in Cheyenne, Casper or Rock Springs.

Let me introduce you to an example of the kind of leadership that good education can provide. My friend and neighbor, Andrew Borgialli, grew up just down the creek. I saw his work ethic firsthand watching him on his family ranch.

Fortunately, he recently started a teaching career in Wyoming. Last year, through inspired teaching and mentoring, Andrew took a record number of kids from Thunder Basin High School to Washington, DC to compete in the prestigious Future Business Leaders of America national finals. Let’s all recognize Andrew and those great students of his. This is an example of the kind of leadership we grow in Wyoming.

It is because of teachers like Andrew that I have faith in our education system. And why I urge this body to recognize this commitment, and support the Joint Education and Appropriations Committees’ recommendation of an external cost adjustment for our schools.

Over the course of the last couple of years Wyoming, like a lot of states, is suffering from a lack of a skilled workforce. Education is changing. Our economy is changing. Today, more than ever we need to provide the educational opportunities to enable a nimble workforce to find a job with companies right here in Wyoming.

That is why I support a suite of proposals including Wyoming Works, which promise new ways for high school students and even adults to continue their technical education and this would also stand up career and technical education programs in our community colleges. I believe Wyoming should create a new Trust Fund under the Amendment A provision, with private industry’s support and a Wyoming match, would offer scholarships for Career and Technical Education. I look forward to making Wyoming Works a reality.

This proposed supplemental budget is right to place a priority on higher education.

To that end, I applaud those who are proposing bills that would help Wyoming students move more seamlessly from high school to college and from community colleges to the University of Wyoming. We are moving in the right direction.

The University of Wyoming is our flagship and I am glad to support further funding for scholarships to retain our best and brightest students and to advance the effort to provide top-tier science programs and other strategic initiatives. I also believe that we should support UW's efforts to retain staff and faculty.

UW is responding to the times and proving to be innovative in its own right.

I applaud President Nichols for launching the Outdoor Recreation and Tourism Management degree program. That aligns UW with the second largest industry in the state and gives graduates an opportunity for worthwhile and fulfilling work right here in Wyoming. I will also note that UW did this by raising private money, not asking for new state dollars.

One of our university's fundamental missions is to support another cornerstone of the state's economy, agriculture. In this supplemental budget there is a call to further innovation in agriculture and in ranching through an enhanced UW program. I urge you to consider those proposals closely.

Wyoming, like many western states, is struggling to contend with the spread of invasive species like cheatgrass, leafy spurge, and medusahead wildrye.

These species are degrading our range, threatening agricultural viability, impacting big game, and raising fire risks across the West.

In our quest to be a top-tier agricultural school, certainly one mission we should consider expanding is our research into better ways to expunge and control the spread of invasives.

In support of that effort, I plan to work with UW's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, our community colleges and the state's weed and pest districts to put together a program that will combine research with management. Aiming to make sure Wyoming is a leader nationally on combating invasive species.

I am also excited that we established a trade office in Taiwan last year and one of the first products to sell there was Wyoming beef. It is evidently much sought after in Taipei's finest restaurants. And I am thrilled that after a hiatus, Wyoming lamb is again going to Japan. We need to expand on these efforts across Asia.

Energy must continue to be one of the pillars of our economy. To that end, I will continue to support the UW School of Energy Resources' efforts across the spectrum of industries that have helped to build our state. SER has become a recognized global leader in areas that will continue to underpin our economy.

The world demands what Wyoming has to offer, especially when it comes to our mineral and energy sectors.

In 2018, Wyoming hit a record for permit applications to drill for oil and gas. Wyoming also continues to be a global leader in trona, uranium, and bentonite production. We must continue to advocate for all of these industries, including fighting for level-playing fields internationally.

I want to take just a moment to talk about coal. Coal continues to power this country and, despite market trends and politics, it will remain an essential part of America's energy portfolio for decades to come.

Around the globe technology keeps advancing, there is progress benefitting our world by burning coal more cleanly and efficiently. Japan and Korea have built the most efficient clean burning fleets of coal fired electric generation ever.

Technologies employed there, when paired with Powder River Basin coal, can reduce the overall carbon emitted to the atmosphere. That is progress that should be a gut cinch for those advocating to control carbon emissions.

And yet, our access to these Asian markets remains restricted, tied up in permit after permit. I believe this to be an unconstitutional restraint of trade. And I will strongly advocate for access to all markets.

I have invited my friend and a former colleague on the Environmental Quality Council, Wendy Hutchinson, to be with us here today. Wendy has been working for nearly a decade to open a coal port in Longview, Washington. This is a port that will expedite coal exports among other commodities to countries like Japan and Korea.

For her efforts, last year Wendy was named one of the 100 Most Inspirational Women in Mining in the world.

Wendy, I have asked you here today so that we can recognize you and the Millennium Bulk Terminal's perseverance in navigating a complicated, time consuming, and inefficient, perhaps even now adulterated process. Would you please stand. Thank you.

There are promising new uses of coal that can provide advanced building materials and innovative new products. Some of these are being developed at UW and others by private industry.

Wyoming is the nation's leader in advancing carbon sequestration and has launched the Integrated Test Center which is working on turning a byproduct like carbon dioxide into a valuable and marketable product.

Here in Wyoming, we will continue to seek innovative solutions that support coal, address climate change, and grow our economy.

We in Wyoming are anxious to lead the way to a brighter future, not by following political fashion, but by rolling up our sleeves, doubling down on research and innovation, and solving our world's energy problems.

We can support this effort through the creation of an enhanced Energy Office. Our governmental resources related to energy are spread across multiple agencies. This Office can help speed up permitting for oil and gas drilling, better site renewable energy projects, all in service of improving our ability to wisely develop our full portfolio of resources in a transparent way. While safeguarding our wildlife, our open spaces, and our livelihoods.

And it is not only with energy that I believe we can make great strides with efficiencies and productivity of government.

Now, more than ever, to find efficiencies and build new processes means we need the best possible employees in state government. So, let us make that investment in productivity and our employees. Governor Mead's budget recommends a raise for Wyoming employees. I support this request because I know how vital motivated and talented employees are to efficient, cost-effective government.

I am not interested in growing the cost of government. I am interested in making it better. Working together with this legislature, my administration will drive towards more efficient government.

Over the past several days, Wyoming has been talking a lot about opportunity and transformation. I mentioned in my inaugural speech, that this is a watershed time in Wyoming's history. This is our time to reshape government.

With initiatives like the efficiency study, and the transparency work that Auditor Racines and I are spearheading, we can work within government to make it serve the public better, be leaner and be more efficient.

Because I believe that when people are empowered to find better approaches to doing business, better approaches are found and more enthusiastically adopted.

Our budgeting process has become complex. I can say this with some confidence having served as your Treasurer. Treasurer Meier and Secretary Buchanan, you each served in the Legislature. Would you agree?

I would like to engage Wyoming more broadly in our budget discussions. We can start with a program I have asked my fellow statewide elected constitutional officers to help get off the ground.

I have asked each of them, and the leadership of both Houses to sponsor a local high school of their choosing, so that students get the chance to build a state budget. If there are any other legislators who would like to participate in the Cowboy Budget Challenge, now is your chance.

The rules are simple: sponsor a High School, direct participating students to the appropriate websites for information, and finally submit proposals.

In the coming weeks, the Governor's website will be publishing details of this challenge. This effort will better connect government to the people it serves, spur conversation, and better inform our citizens about our budget.

Provide local communities with the tools and resources needed to thrive

Ultimately though, to make Wyoming stronger, our focus must be on local communities.

Wyoming is blessed to be home to many community heroes:

Jacob Carlson is one of them. He is an Army Veteran and currently serves with the Casper Police Department. On May 6th of last year he and his partner, Randi Garrett, responded to what might have seemed to many like a relatively harmless situation.

Someone was letting a young child drive a car in an empty parking lot in East Casper. But, when Randi and Jacob arrived they immediately and unexpectedly put their lives on the line. The two police officers were fired on.

Officer Carlson was shot at least five times. But thanks to his and his partner's incredible bravery, skill and the aid of other capable police officers, EMTs and doctors. Jacob lived … as did the two small children who were in the car.

Officer Jacob Carlson, we are so grateful that you are here today and are recovering. We are also grateful that you have the strength and support of your wife, Tiffany, and your son, Zane. We thank you and commend you for your service and sacrifice.

And we need to support our local police departments, sheriff's offices, fire halls; our local communities.

I believe the best decisions are made closest to where the impact of those decisions is felt. It is also at the local level where individuals and entrepreneurs can spur new businesses that align with a community's values and assets.

I applaud Governor Mead's dedication to providing funding to locals these past eight years, and I will continue that work. But beyond dollars, I hope to move forward with improving the tools required for cities, towns and counties to prosper. This means finding ways to enhance the services of the State Loan and Investment Board. I also support the recommendations in the supplemental budget to augment the Federal Natural Resources Protection Account; a good buttress against federal overreach.

When it comes to the Wyoming Business Council, and other community investment opportunities. I am beginning a comprehensive review of how all of our economic development programs work and if they work together or apart. I believe we can improve our approaches and have already begun conversations with the Business Council and the Chairmen of the ENDOW and ENGAGE councils.

I support the ongoing effort to improve access to broadband internet coverage throughout the state. This has been an appropriate partnership between government and private industry. Not only does broadband give our students a tool to compete with the rest of the world, it is necessary for healthcare delivery - especially in rural areas where other specialized doctors are not available.

Lives are being saved now because of advances in tele-health. Neurologists in Casper are connected by internet-video to emergency rooms in Douglas and Sheridan and can help treat stroke patients by getting them life-saving drugs in time for them to have the most benefit.

Advancements in technology like this improve the quality of life in Wyoming, solve complex challenges, create jobs and will allow entrepreneurs and established businesses to see even our smallest towns as fertile ground to grow a company.

As governor, I will support our hometowns as they chart their own courses into the future.

Likewise, I will always stand up for Wyoming charting our own course. This is certainly the case with healthcare.

We have been given an opportunity to craft a Wyoming solution for health care. I look forward to working with the legislature to bring forth state-led solutions.

Health care is too important to our children, our parents, and to each of us. We certainly cannot expand the economy, keep our major employers or attract new businesses if we do not find ways to bring down health care costs.

Wyoming is a headwater state.

Wyoming has some of the cleanest water and cleanest air in the nation. Our heritage of wildlife, unparalleled vistas and open space, make us the envy of the world. These are important and special assets for Wyoming that inspire tourism and just plain make Wyoming communities nicer places to live.

Over the past several years citizens from every one of the state's nine judicial districts have brought a discerning eye to the projects supported by the Wyoming Wildlife Natural Resource Trust. Projects have benefitted Wyoming's water, wild animals, and habitats. In its nearly 15 years the Trust has put forward $58 million in projects all over the state, often pulling matching funds to better lever results.

This Fund has facilitated energy development and made our wildlife populations stronger by controlling invasive species, improving irrigation diversions, and mitigating erosion throughout Wyoming.

The Trust has also made a difference for those of us who love to hunt and fish. Our wildlife populations are doing extremely well, and contributing more than a billion dollars per year to our economy.

I could testify to this myself, as someone who enjoys hunting, but my experiences do not measure up to those of Ashlee Lundvall.

Ashlee is from Cody. My wife Jennie and I got to know her through the Wyoming Women's Foundation antelope hunt.

Ashlee is a remarkable individual who despite becoming paralyzed in a ranching accident when she was younger, is one of the most amazing and inspiring individuals I have ever met. She has redefined her life, and encouraged others with her powerful messages of living life to the fullest. She is an author, and a powerful motivational speaker, a passionate advocate for accessible outdoor recreation and someone you just have to respect for all that she continues to accomplish. At all times, she has been an ambassador for Wyoming, for the outdoors, and for our hunting heritage.

Ashlee is here with us today. I would ask you all to join me in recognizing her. Thank you Ashlee.

To further invest in our hunting, in our big game, in all wildlife, and their habitats, I would like to add to the Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust this session. With the aim of moving towards having the Trust be self sufficient. Let's not let this opportunity to build a legacy pass us by.

Now, I would like to take a moment to thank my family. Many of our kids have headed back to their jobs, but today we are joined by Spencer, Sarah and their son Everett.

Jennie, I am so honored to serve with you. Wyoming is fortunate to have you as its next First Lady. You are someone as at home in the calving barn as you were two nights ago dressed to the nines at a black tie inaugural ball.

For those of you legislators who do not know Jennie, we look forward to hosting you at the Residence and getting to know you. We are humbled to have the responsibility of being first family of this incredible state for the next four years.

I have to say the enthusiasm we have felt over the past couple of days should give us all optimism for our future. We are a resourceful people in an amazing state at an important time in our state's history. Let us make the most of it.

I thank each of you legislators for your friendship, for engaging in this conversation, and I look forward to hearing your ideas and learning your priorities.

For those of you watching or listening at home, my hat is off to you for being engaged with your government. The topics discussed today and bills that will be debated can only get better with your input.

And we can all applaud the legislature for advancing transparency and making it easier to participate in the legislative process.

I cannot do justice to the gratitude and humility I feel to be standing here as your governor and governor of the greatest state in the nation.

God bless Wyoming. And God bless America.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
MICHAEL K. DAVIS, CHIEF JUSTICE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Governor and Mrs. Gordon, members of the Sixty-Fifth Wyoming Legislature, elected officials, members of the judiciary, guests and citizens of the State of Wyoming. It is an honor to speak to you on behalf of the dedicated men and women who serve in the judicial branch of our state's government. Thank you, President Perkins and Speaker Harshman, for the opportunity to do so. I am pleased to report that the State of the Wyoming Judiciary is strong.

It has been a year of transitions and changes for the judiciary. Justice William Hill retired earlier this year, and Justice Lynne Boomgaarden has taken his seat on the Court. Justice Jim Burke retired in October of this year, and his seat has been filled by Justice Kari Jo Gray. Justices Boomgaarden and Gray have been hard at work producing excellent opinions, and the rest of the Court, although we miss our retired colleagues, is enjoying working with them in our common goal of rendering justice for the citizens of Wyoming.

Two district judges also retired this year. Judge Bob Skar of the Fifth Judicial District, based in Worland, left the judiciary after many years of faithful service in a number of positions of public trust, and his big shoes have been filled by Judge Bobbi Overfield. Judge Tom Sullins, who has been a role model to many of us both as lawyers and judges, has retired effective January 7, and his post has been filled by Judge Kerri Johnson.

In addition, after consulting with the Laramie County Commissioners and the three district judges sitting in Cheyenne, and after communicating with leaders in the Legislature, the fourth district judge opening which this body authorized in the First Judicial District was opened to the judicial nomination process. Peter Froelicher was selected to fill that position, and he is working toward assuming his duties and looking forward to relieving some of the burden on the other three judges, who have been doing the work of four and a half judges up until now.

Finally, Circuit Judge Tom Harrington, sitting in Worland, retired on January 7, and he plans to help coach wrestling and to continue to serve his community as he has done so well in the past. His seat has been filled by Ed Luhm, a long-time Worland attorney.

I would be remiss if I did not say something about the hard work of the Judicial Nominating Commission. Under our constitution, this body consists of three non-lawyers appointed by the Governor, and three attorneys elected by the Wyoming

State Bar. From the second week of June through the third week of November, the Commission produced five sets of three nominees each for one position on the Supreme Court, three district court positions, and one circuit court judge, culling through numbers of applicants that ranged from nine to nineteen for each position. This entailed reading ten documents for each applicant, collating and assessing them, conducting interviews of those with the potential to be good judges, and then sending the names of three nominees to the Governor. The Commission's goal is to nominate three individuals, each of whom would be a great judge, and to make the Governor's choice as agonizing as possible. I think they accomplished that, and they did so under tremendous time pressure. We should all be grateful for their volunteer service.

Although the Supreme Court seems like a quiet place, there is really a lot going on that affects not only our branch, but also the State in general. A few years ago, this body provided funding which was matched by private donations to build the Judicial Learning Center, which was modeled on a similar facility in Colorado. The Center is suitable for students from about fifth grade up to adults. The number of visitors continues to grow – the Center had nearly 1300 visitors of all ages in 2018. We expect that number to increase when the Capitol renovation is complete, and visitors come to see that wonderful renovated facility near our courthouse.

The Learning Center is also available on-line for those who cannot make it to Cheyenne to see it. Why so much emphasis on children, you may ask? As Chief Justice John Roberts of the United States Supreme Court recently observed: "If children do not understand the Constitution, they cannot understand how our government functions, or what their rights and responsibilities are as citizens of the United States."

In addition, we continue to offer tours to schools and citizen groups of all ages, usually involving a chance to meet with a justice. We also continue to hold Supreme Court oral arguments in other cities, and we continue to support You Be The Judge programs. The latter are presented by local judges and the Supreme Court, who ask citizens to sit as judges on mock cases and to decide them as if they were real judges. They soon find that judging it is not as easy as it might appear to be.

Until a couple of years ago, the Wyoming judicial branch did not have a formal system for orientation of new judges and justices. Chief Justice Jim Burke and Justice Keith Kautz instituted a new judicial orientation program, which has been a great success. The best part of these orientations is provided by the trial judges themselves – they are able to guide new judges through pitfalls and best practices, and they are to be congratulated on their hard work supporting their new colleagues. Thirteen judicial orientations for all levels of the judiciary have been completed between January of 2017 and January of 2019, and we think they help new judges hit the ground running, which they have to do.

Two years ago, the Legislature increased the Judicial Systems Automation fee so that the judicial branch could, among other things, begin upgrading the audio and video capacities of our approximately seventy courtrooms around the state. A study conducted earlier had found that many of our courtrooms were only at a three or four on a functional scale of one to ten, often meaning that they did not have basic audio capabilities to allow participants and the court to hear what was going on in the courtroom. Although the funding from the JSA fee has not been as much as anticipated, the Court Technology Office is upgrading courtrooms as funds are available to assure adequate audio and hearing-impaired technology to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and to make sure hearings are actually proceedings where all present can hear. In the future, we will provide video technology to bring the courtrooms up to a modern functional level.

The branch also is rolling out a new jury selection program called AgileJury, which allows jurors to complete questionnaires on-line and to receive text and email messages of upcoming trials. The system was piloted in Laramie County District Court, where it received rave reviews. Over a thousand citizens have already used the system. It has greatly reduced the time the clerks of court must spend notifying jurors when they must come to court, and it has enhanced the experience of potential and serving jurors.

The electronic case management system in our circuit courts reached end of life a few years back, and we are beginning to pilot an upgraded program and expect to have it installed and operational in all of the circuit courts by early 2020. This project, like others, requires extensive travel by our small IT staff, but it is getting done as quickly as we can.

As to the district courts, everyone, including and especially me, is impatient to get electronic filing in place in those courts. Beginning in about 2010, the judicial branch began to work on a state-wide electronic case management system for the district courts – before that, each county had its own electronic system, if it had any at all – and it was impossible to conveniently collect statewide data from it. A state-wide system was put in place, and so now all district courts are on the same system, meaning that data can be collected, and judges can work electronically both in their home courts and on cases assigned from out of district.

Unfortunately, the system was not completely satisfactory to either the clerks of district court or to our staff, and we pivoted to an upgrade of the Full Court program which had been used in fifteen of the twenty-three district courts, and which is used in the circuit courts and is being upgraded. These systems are complex, and they require extensive and time-consuming customization to fit the Wyoming legal system. The clerks of district court, and our IT staff, have been working to get the system ready for use, and we hope to begin testing it in pilot courts later this year.

Until the new system is in place, however, it is not possible – or at least not desirable to the clerks of court or our staff – to initiate efiling. We anticipate that an efiling system will be tested in district pilot courts by early 2023. We would all like this to happen much sooner, and we continue to look for ways to speed things up both on our end and with the contractor, but we are making progress as quickly as the capabilities of the district court clerks, our contractors, and our small staff allow.

I hesitate to descend into any more detail on IT issues, but I did want to mention that we have been involved in securing our court data statewide. Courts around the country have been subject to hacking and denial-of-service attacks, and there is good reason to believe that someday there will be successful data ransom demands in courts around the country, as well as other data breaches. We have been told that there doesn’t really have to be a rational purpose behind those attacks – if a system can be brought down, there will be someone who will do it just because he or she can. I don’t want to go into specifics in this very public forum for security reasons, but we have upgraded our threat protection, hired contractors to try to penetrate our defenses, instituted policies to make ourselves a harder target, and arranged for cloud backup so that we can always get our data.

We also now have a disaster recovery plan, so that our courts can continue to operate in the event of a man-made or natural disaster. As part of our security efforts, we have also upgraded hardware and software statewide – the newer software is much more secure, and newer hardware was needed to run the newer software.

In addition, we have expanded cooperation with outside agencies, including counties, Vital Statistics, ETS, the Division of Criminal Investigation, Drivers Services, the Wyoming Highway Patrol, and local law enforcement agencies. This cooperation allows legislatively authorized electronic transfer of court data to these agencies for their own activities.

In terms of Supreme Court personnel, we have lost our Chief Financial Officer Kristi Racines, who succumbed to the siren song of elected office, and who is now the State Auditor. We will miss her. However, we have been able to recruit Claire Smith, a CPA with extensive government experience, and we look forward to working with her. She should be appearing before you in committee shortly.

Now I must turn to the compensation of the good men and women of the judicial branch. Governor Mead and now Governor Gordon have asked for a pay raise for executive branch employees. The judges and justices wholeheartedly support a pay increase for the non-judge judicial branch employees who sustain our efforts, like the raises for their counterparts in the executive branch. It will be approximately four years since they received a raise, and those employees are certainly due one. We are proud of those who keep the judicial branch running, from those based in Cheyenne at the Supreme Court Building, to those in the district and circuit courts around the state. They are the best. They deal with people in very stressful situations many times every day, and they deserve compensation that keeps up with inflationary and market pressures.

Now I must turn to a different topic and speak for a pay increase for the judges and justices of our branch. In 2012, the Legislature approved a pay raise for all judges and justices in the Wyoming Judicial Branch. Although the circuit judges, who received a lesser increase than had been sought in 2012, received a small increase in 2017, the justices and district judges have not received any pay increase since 2012.

I want to make it clear that attorneys who become judges do not expect to earn what they could make by working hard in private practice. Our judges have chosen public service. But they also have families and obligations, and they can only afford to reduce their earnings so much and still live up to those obligations.

It is of course a great honor to be trusted to be a judge, and we all feel not only the tremendous obligation of the office, but also great pride to hold the public trust. However, those who would become judges face the reality that they may make a legally sound and correct decision which is unpopular, and thus fail retention for doing the right thing. This is a daunting prospect for lawyers already making a good living when they choose to seek a judgeship. Moreover, being a judge is not always the safest of occupations – the difficult choices they must make, and the often-violent individuals who appear before them, guarantee a certain level of apprehension, as well as a genuine risk of harm to themselves and their families.

The Board of Judicial Policy and Administration, which is the body representing all levels of the state judiciary, recently formed a Judicial Salaries Committee, which is chaired by Justice Kate Fox. The committee reviewed the compensation paid in neighboring states, among other things. The committee's research revealed that the compensation of our judges and justices who perform work similar to that of our colleagues in other states has fallen behind. For example, our district judges earn a salary of $150,000 per year. Salaries for district judges in Nebraska, Colorado and Utah range from $163,000 to $168,000 per year. Similar disparities exist with regard to the equivalent of the circuit courts and the supreme courts of those states.

Judicial salaries will determine, in part, the caliber of applicants we can expect for judicial openings. The Committee learned that over the course of the next ten years, fourteen of the twenty-nine district court judges and Supreme Court justices will face mandatory retirement. Additionally, although there is no mandatory retirement age for circuit court judges, if we assume they may choose to retire at age seventy, sixteen of the twenty-four circuit judges may retire in that time frame as well.

It is true that our neighbors Montana and South Dakota, and perhaps other states around the nation, pay their judges and justices less than Wyoming does, but I do not believe that Wyoming could take pride in having poorly compensated judges. Sir Francis Bacon observed that "Justice must not only be done, but it must be seen to be done." How much confidence will attorneys and citizens have in judicial decisions rendered by judges who are regarded as underpaid and thus perhaps not as well-qualified as those in neighboring states? Alexander Hamilton in Federalist 78 described the judicial branch as "the least dangerous branch" of government. We have no army or police force, and we do not have control of our own finances. Our decisions are honored because other branches of government and our citizens respect the Rule of Law and believe that judges are independent of political and other pressures in their decision-making.

The salaries committee also learned that various executive branch employees and employees of local government entities often earn more than judges or justices in the branch. While we do not suggest that these individuals are over-compensated by any means, we do suggest that the burdens undertaken by judges at all levels warrant fair compensation which can be compared to these positions.

It is true that we continue to be able to recruit well-qualified judges, although in the recent recruiting efforts I already described, the number of applicants reached a low of nine for a district judgeship in Natrona County, where the work is interesting and demanding.

It is also important to note that since the judicial pay raise went into effect in 2012, there has been total inflation of 10.9 percent over the intervening years. This is based upon Wyoming inflation figures from the Economic Analysis Division of the Department of Administration and Information. I don't claim to be much of a mathematician, but I'm pretty sure that means that the $150,000 salary district judges received in 2012 has been cut by inflation to $133,650 in today's purchasing power. This also means that to keep pace with that salary in 2012, a district judge would have to receive $166,350 per year. The same is true, in differing degrees, of the other two levels of the judiciary, circuit courts and Supreme Court.

The Judicial Salaries Committee has recommended, and the Board of Judicial Policy and Administration has endorsed, pay increases as follows: $150,000 for circuit judges (which is what district judges receive now), $165,000 for district judges (which is what the five Supreme Court justices now receive), and $180,000 for the five justices of the Wyoming Supreme Court. We estimate the economic impact of this increase at approximately $2.75 million dollars per biennium. I note that for the district judges and the Supreme Court justices, these raises would not take effect on the effective date of legislation, but instead, due to constitutional constraints, would only take effect when a new judge or justice is sworn in. We cannot predict when someone may retire early, but we do know that one judge will reach mandatory retirement age in the Spring of 2020, a little over a year from the end of this session. Raises for the circuit judges, on the other hand, would take effect on the effective date of any act granting them a raise, or on such other date as the legislature might choose.

Finally as to this topic, I note that there is no linkage between raises for judges and those that might be granted from time to time for other state employees. This always results, as it does now, in the judiciary having to ask for what seems like a large percentage increase, when in fact it is one that will basically keep up with inflation. I would urge the legislature to address the existing situation this session, but to consider a means of periodic increases that would fairly relate to incremental salary increases for other state employees, perhaps as an interim topic.

The online Merriam Webster dictionary found that the word of the year for 2018 was justice – it has been the most-looked up word in that dictionary in the past year. It has always been and always will be the mission of the judicial branch to do justice in the individual cases that come before judges at all levels. Justice is often if not always elusive, but the judges who pursue it never give up the quest, although they see the same intractable problems of addiction, greed, mental illness, poverty, economic disasters, and sometimes just plain meanness every day.

Our system of government functions as it does because each branch is dependent on the other in some way. The executive and legislative branches must trust the judicial branch to determine the lawfulness and constitutionality of legislation and executive action, with due regard and deference to those branches' prerogatives. The judicial branch must trust the legislative branch to provide funding to continue that elusive quest for justice at the ground level, face to face with litigants, in courtrooms around this state, in cases involving men, women, families, business organizations, and governmental entities. We ask only that the representatives of the people who fill this chamber continue to give us the means not only to do our work well, but to assure that we have the confidence of the people who appear before us and of the public.

Thank you for the opportunity to speak with you this morning, and for all you do for the judicial branch and State of Wyoming. We wish you well in this challenging session. Good luck, and Godspeed.

Roll call to convene.

1. Of this general fund appropriation, ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) shall only be expended if there is a change of state superintendent of public instruction as a result of the 2018 general election and then only for transition staff salaries, travel and other related office expenses. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, these funds shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2020. The appropriation subject to this footnote shall not be included in the agency's 2021-2022 standard budget request.
2. Of this general fund appropriation, one million three hundred seventy-one thousand ninety-four dollars ($1,371,094.00) shall be conditioned upon a report from the department of education to the joint education interim committee and the joint appropriations committee not later than October 1, 2018 on enrollment trends in schools on the Wind River Indian Reservation receiving funds under W.S. 21-4-601 and school districts within Fremont county, including identifiable movement of students between schools, method of calculating enrollment and average daily membership, historic funding trends, by source, for schools receiving funds under W.S. 21-4-601 from the Federal Bureau of Indian Education, annual and per student financial support provided by state governments in states other than Wyoming to schools receiving Federal Bureau of Indian Education funds, recent financial audit results related to schools on the Wind River Indian Reservation, traveling distance between schools in Fremont county to other nearby K-12 schools serving similar-aged populations, the manner in which reimbursements for transportation or special education are incorporated into the calculation of state payments in accordance with W.S. 21-4-601 and student performance and school accountability results under W.S. 21-4-601 for schools on the Wind River Indian Reservation.

3. The department of education shall report to the joint education interim committee and the joint appropriations committee not later than October 1, 2018 regarding the national certification incentive under W.S. 21-7-501(a) through (d), compliance with current statute, administrative structure and historic annual costs by budget series and purpose, payments provided for under W.S. 21-7-501(a) through (d), and any expenditures toward the national certification incentive not specifically authorized under W.S. 21-7-501 and recommended changes to statute.

4. Up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) from any appropriation to the department under this section is authorized to be expended by the department during school years 2018-2019 and 2019-2020 to pay for processing costs for Wyoming poultry, lamb, pork, beef or bison donated to a school district to be used in school lunches. Expenditures authorized in this footnote shall be made only if an equal amount of funding has been contributed by a local school district for the processing costs of the donated Wyoming poultry, lamb, pork, beef or bison. The department shall endeavor to provide funding to as many school districts as possible.

5. Of this general fund appropriation, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) shall be distributed to establish a pilot principal education program in Sheridan County School District #2 as a component of the statewide system of support. The department shall distribute these funds to the school district on or before July 1, 2019. Sheridan County School District #2 shall use these funds to train Wyoming school principals and provide a report on the program to the joint education interim committee by June 30, 2020.".

"[WYOMING'S TOMORROW TASK FORCE]

Section 345.

(a) There is created a Wyoming's tomorrow task force to consist of the following members:

(i) One (1) representative of the University of Wyoming, appointed by the governor;

(ii) One (1) representative of the Wyoming community colleges, appointed by the governor;

(iii) One (1) representative of the community college commission appointed by the commission;

(iv) Two (2) representatives from business and industry, appointed by the governor;

(v) One (1) representative of the public, appointed by the governor;

(vi) One (1) representative from the Wyoming K-12 educational community appointed by the state superintendent of public instruction;

(vii) One (1) representative from the Wyoming department of education appointed by the state superintendent of public instruction;

(viii) Two (2) members of the Wyoming senate, appointed by the president of the senate;

(ix) Two (2) members of the Wyoming house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house.

(b) The task force shall study the Tennessee Promise program and consider other scholarship or grant programs in order to inform the development of potential education scholarship or grant programs to be funded through a state created endowment fund. The task force shall include in its review 2019 Senate File 34, Senate File 43 and Senate File 122 and House Bill 132, House Bill 133, House Bill 137 and House Bill 263 if not enacted into law. The task force shall also review existing state funded economic development, diversification and workforce development programs and consider potential alignment of and need for those programs with the implementation of the Wyoming's tomorrow program. The goal of the task force shall be to make recommendations to the Wyoming legislature for future legislation needed for scholarship or grant programs and to make undergraduate post secondary education in Wyoming as free as possible to Wyoming residents. The task force shall provide recommendations for a program which is not based on scholastic achievement for entry to the program. The task force may consider scholastic achievement based components for entry and continued enrollment in the program. The task force shall review potential contributions the program can make to economic development and diversification efforts of the state considering workforce needs within the state. The task force shall consider and make recommendations as to the following:

(i) The amount of tuition, fees and other education related expenses incurred by Wyoming resident students at the university and community colleges for undergraduate degrees and certificates;

(ii) The establishment of a higher education endowment fund and the amount of funding necessary to provide Wyoming residents with tuition and mandatory fees at each community college and the university for two (2) years of undergraduate attendance considering current and anticipated growth in enrollment and increases in tuition and fees;

(iii) Requirements for continued enrollment and reentry requirements for students failing to maintain satisfactory academic progress;

(iv) Dual post secondary and K-12 enrollment modifications or early graduation provisions in order for the state education system to be more responsive to the state's workforce needs and funding modifications associated with dual enrollment modifications or early graduation provisions;

(v) Waiver provisions, if any, regarding continuing scholarship requirements;

(vi) Administrative oversight of the program;

(vii) An implementation date for the program;

(viii) Potential increases in required state funding for the university and community colleges as a result of projected increases in enrollment, tuition and fees;

(ix) Reallocation of state funding for existing educational scholarship and grant programs and economic development and diversification efforts funded with state funds. The task force shall consider reallocation of Hathaway funds made available as a result of Wyoming's tomorrow program to the Hathaway student scholarship program in order to increase Hathaway scholarship amounts;

(x) A means for private funding for the program, whether such contribution should be a requirement for implementation of the program and recommended terms and conditions for that private funding;

(xi) Other additional funding sources or options for the program, with a goal of providing funding in an amount sufficient to provide Wyoming residents free tuition and mandatory fees for two (2) years of undergraduate education at the University of Wyoming or a Wyoming community college.

(c) Subject to available funding, the task force may retain consultants as necessary to fulfill its duties under this section. The task force shall be staffed by the legislative service office. State agencies shall provide information to the task force as requested in order to fulfill the task force's duties. The legislative members of the task force shall receive compensation, per diem and travel expenses in the manner and amount prescribed by W.S. 28-5-101. Members of the task force who are employees of the state of Wyoming, a community college or a school district shall be considered on official business of their agency or office and shall receive mileage and per diem in the manner provided by their agency or office. Any other member of the task force shall be paid no salary but shall receive mileage and per diem at the same rate as members of the Wyoming legislature under W.S. 28-5-101 for each day of actual task force meetings and travel to those meetings.

(d) The task force shall report its initial findings and recommendations to the governor, the joint appropriations committee and the joint education interim committee by November 1, 2019 and, if the committee determines modifications to its initial findings and recommendations are appropriate, again by June 30, 2020. Either legislative committee may sponsor legislation for introduction in the 2020 budget session and 2021 general session implementing the Wyoming's tomorrow program in whole or in part as the legislative committee determines appropriate.

(e) The task force shall terminate June 30, 2020.

(f) There is appropriated thirty thousand dollars ($30,000.00) from the general fund to the legislative service office for per diem, mileage and salary as authorized for members of Wyoming's tomorrow task force. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this appropriation shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2020.

(g) This section shall be effective only if 2019 House Bill 0310 is not enacted into law.".

"[FEDERAL MINERAL ROYALTY DIVERSION-AMENDMENTS]

Section 345.

(a) W.S. 9-4-601(k) as amended and created by 2018 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 134, Section 316, is further amended to read:

9-4-601. Distribution and use; funds, accounts, cities and towns benefited; exception for bonus payments.

(k) For the period beginning March 15, 2018 for fiscal years 2018, 2019 and 2020, any revenue received under subsection (a) of this section in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000.00) shall be distributed as follows:

(i) For fiscal years 2018 and 2019, two-thirds (2/3) and for fiscal year 2020 one-half (1/2) to the school foundation program account; and

(ii) For fiscal years 2018 and 2019, one-third (1/3) and for fiscal year 2020 one-half (1/2) to the budget reserve account.

[FLOOD MITIGATION PUBLIC FACILITY GRANT]

Section 346. The legislature recommends to the state loan and investment board that the first five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) in abandoned mine land funds available for public facility grants under W.S. 35-11-1202(a)(v), 35-11-1202(c) and chapter 15 of the state loan and investment board rules be awarded for construction and improvements related to flood mitigation associated with bitter creek in southwest Wyoming, if the project is deemed qualified pursuant to those statutes and rules.

[COAL CONVERSION TECHNOLOGY CENTER]

Section 347.

(a) There is appropriated five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) from the general fund to the governor to administer a dollar for dollar matching fund program as provided in this section.

(b) The state treasurer shall authorize expenditure of funds under this section for the purpose of providing a state match for funds dedicated by a local government for the development, construction and operation of a publicly funded coal conversion technology center. Expenditures shall only be made upon a determination by the governor that the project will result in substantial benefit to the public. No expenditures shall be made without the written opinion of the attorney general certifying the legality of the transaction and all documents connected therewith.

(c) State matching funds appropriated under this section shall be expended only after the expenditure of all dedicated matching local government funds.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this section shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than as specified in this section. Notwithstanding W.S. 9-2-1008, 9-2-1012(e) and 9-4-207, any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this section shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2022.

[EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION-2]

Section 348.

(a) There is appropriated one million eight hundred forty thousand five hundred dollars ($1,840,500.00) from the general fund to the state auditor for salary adjustments of generally funded employees whose salary is not prescribed by law for the fiscal period commencing July 1, 2019 and ending June 30, 2020 as specified in this section. The appropriation in this section shall be distributed among executive branch agencies by the state auditor as determined by the department of administration and information consistent with executive branch pay tables adjusted as nearly as possible to the 2017 market for executive branch positions, not including the community colleges, University of Wyoming, University of Wyoming medical education program and the enhanced oil recovery commission. The appropriation shall be further distributed within agencies and shall only be expended to fund the increase in salaries and employer paid benefits of employees affected by the adjusted pay tables.

(b) For state executive branch employees whose compensation is paid from nongeneral fund sources, to the extent funds are available, there is appropriated from those accounts and funds amounts necessary to provide payment to fund comparable increase in salaries and employer paid benefits of employees affected by the adjusted pay tables as that which is distributed to employees under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this section shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than as specified in this section. Any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this section shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2020.

[MILITARY HOUSING]

Section 349. Five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) is appropriated from the general fund to the Wyoming business council for the purpose of providing matching funds for the design and construction of infrastructure to facilitate and encourage the development of housing for military personnel in southeastern Wyoming. Any expenditure of funds under this section shall be matched in the ratio of one dollar ($1.00) of appropriated funds to not less than one dollar ($1.00) of matching funds, which may include exchange, transfer or lease of real property of comparable value selected by the applicant for exchange, transfer or lease to the state or a political subdivision for public buildings or other public purposes.

[HIGHER EDUCATION STUDY]

Section 350.

(a) The University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission shall study and make recommendations on how to increase the availability of bachelor of applied science programs throughout the state. The study shall consider how bachelor of applied science programs offered at the community colleges may improve economic development in the state. The study shall also consider the organizational structure, services and funding required to offer bachelor of applied science programs throughout the state.

(b) The University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission shall submit a joint report summarizing the study and recommendations to the joint appropriations committee and the joint education interim committee on or before September 1, 2019. The joint appropriations committee and the joint education interim committee shall consider the study and the recommendations and develop appropriate legislation, if any, for consideration by the legislature in the 2020 budget session.

(c) The department of workforce services, the department of education, the economically needed diversity options for Wyoming executive council, the Wyoming business council and the governor's council on higher education shall provide information and assistance to the University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission to conduct the study required by this section.

(d) If either 2019 Senate File 0111 or 2019 House Bill 0263 is enacted into law, this section shall not be effective.

"[FEDERAL MINERAL ROYALTY DIVERSION-AMENDMENTS]

Section 345.

(a) W.S. 9-4-601(k) as amended and created by 2018 Wyoming Session Laws, Chapter 134, Section 316, is further amended to read:

9-4-601. Distribution and use; funds, accounts, cities and towns benefited; exception for bonus payments.

(k) For the period beginning March 15, 2018 for fiscal years 2018, 2019 and 2020, any revenue received under subsection (a) of this section in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000.00) shall be distributed as follows:

(i) For fiscal years 2018 and 2019, two-thirds (2/3) and for fiscal year 2020 one-half (1/2) to the school foundation program account; and

(ii) For fiscal years 2018 and 2019, one-third (1/3) and for fiscal year 2020 one-half (1/2) to the budget reserve account.

[FLOOD MITIGATION PUBLIC FACILITY GRANT]

Section 346. The legislature recommends to the state loan and investment board that the first five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) in abandoned mine land funds available for public facility grants under W.S. 35-11-1202(a)(v), 35-11-1202(c) and chapter 15 of the state loan and investment board rules be awarded for construction and improvements related to flood mitigation associated with bitter creek in southwest Wyoming, if the project is deemed qualified pursuant to those statutes and rules.

[COAL CONVERSION TECHNOLOGY CENTER]

Section 347.

(a) There is appropriated five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) from the general fund to the governor to administer a dollar for dollar matching fund program as provided in this section.

(b) The state treasurer shall authorize expenditure of funds under this section for the purpose of providing a state match for funds dedicated by a local government for the development, construction and operation of a publicly funded coal conversion technology center. Expenditures shall only be made upon a determination by the governor that the project will result in substantial benefit to the public. No expenditures shall be made without the written opinion of the attorney general certifying the legality of the transaction and all documents connected therewith.

(c) State matching funds appropriated under this section shall be expended only after the expenditure of all dedicated matching local government funds.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this section shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than as specified in this section. Notwithstanding W.S. 9-2-1008, 9-2-1012(e) and 9-4-207, any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this section shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2022.

[EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION-2]

Section 348.

(a) There is appropriated one million eight hundred forty thousand five hundred dollars ($1,840,500.00) from the general fund to the state auditor for salary adjustments of generally funded employees whose salary is not prescribed by law for the fiscal period commencing July 1, 2019 and ending June 30, 2020 as specified in this section. The appropriation in this section shall be distributed among executive branch agencies by the state auditor as determined by the department of administration and information consistent with executive branch pay tables adjusted as nearly as possible to the 2017 market for executive branch positions, not including the community colleges, University of Wyoming, University of Wyoming medical education program and the enhanced oil recovery commission. The appropriation shall be further distributed within agencies and shall only be expended to fund the increase in salaries and employer paid benefits of employees affected by the adjusted pay tables.

(b) For state executive branch employees whose compensation is paid from nongeneral fund sources, to the extent funds are available, there is appropriated from those accounts and funds amounts necessary to provide payment to fund comparable increase in salaries and employer paid benefits of employees affected by the adjusted pay tables as that which is distributed to employees under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the appropriation under this section shall not be transferred or expended for any purpose other than as specified in this section. Any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from the appropriation under this section shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2020.

[MILITARY HOUSING]

Section 349. Five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) is appropriated from the general fund to the Wyoming business council for the purpose of providing matching funds for the design and construction of infrastructure to facilitate and encourage the development of housing for military personnel in southeastern Wyoming. Any expenditure of funds under this section shall be matched in the ratio of one dollar ($1.00) of appropriated funds to not less than one dollar ($1.00) of matching funds, which may include exchange, transfer or lease of real property of comparable value selected by the applicant for exchange, transfer or lease to the state or a political subdivision for public buildings or other public purposes.

[HIGHER EDUCATION STUDY]

Section 350.

(a) The University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission shall study and make recommendations on how to increase the availability of bachelor of applied science programs throughout the state. The study shall consider how bachelor of applied science programs offered at the community colleges may improve economic development in the state. The study shall also consider the organizational structure, services and funding required to offer bachelor of applied science programs throughout the state.

(b) The University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission shall submit a joint report summarizing the study and recommendations to the joint appropriations committee and the joint education interim committee on or before September 1, 2019. The joint appropriations committee and the joint education interim committee shall consider the study and the recommendations and develop appropriate legislation, if any, for consideration by the legislature in the 2020 budget session.

(c) The department of workforce services, the department of education, the economically needed diversity options for Wyoming executive council, the Wyoming business council and the governor's council on higher education shall provide information and assistance to the University of Wyoming, the seven (7) community colleges and the community college commission to conduct the study required by this section.

(d) If either 2019 Senate File 0111 or 2019 House Bill 0263 is enacted into law, this section shall not be effective.

[SCHOOL DISTRICT SALES AND DEMOLITION OF BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES]

Section 351.

(a) Notwithstanding any other requirements of law, for the period beginning with the effective date of this act and ending June 30, 2020:

(i) Any school district selling a school building or facility as defined by W.S. 21-15-111(a)(vi) shall remit to the state construction department the lesser of:

(A) The state funds expended for or provided to the school district for the initial purchase or construction of the school building or facility; or

(B) The net proceeds from the sale.

(ii) If state funds are expended for or provided to the school district for the demolition of a school building or facility as defined in W.S. 21-15-111(a)(vi) and if any portion of the land on which the demolished building or facility stood is subsequently sold, the school district selling the land shall remit to the state construction department the lesser of:

(A) The amount of the state funds expended for or provided to the school district for the demolition; or

(B) The net proceeds from the sale.

(b) Funds remitted to the state construction department under this section shall be deposited into the school capital construction account.".

16-6-113. Contractor's bond or other guarantee; right of action; notice to obligee; intervention by interested parties; pro rata distribution.

Any person entitled to the protection of a bond or other form of guarantee approved by the state or ~~any political subdivision~~ entity under W.S. 16-6-112, may maintain an action for the amount due him. He shall notify the obligee named in the bond or other guarantee of the beginning of the action, giving the names of the parties, describing the guarantee and stating the amount and nature of his claim. No judgment shall be entered in the action within thirty (30) days after the giving of the notice. The obligee or any person having a cause of action may on his motion, be admitted as a party to the action. The court shall determine the rights of all parties to the action. If the amount realized on the bond or other guarantee is insufficient to discharge all claims in full, the amount shall be distributed among the parties pro rata.

11-20-126. Permanently recorded brand.

(a) Any person may apply to permanently record a new or existing brand. The board shall promulgate rules necessary for providing for permanently recorded brands. Rules promulgated under this section shall establish:

(i) An application process for permanently recording a brand. The application shall include the information required under W.S. 11-20-103(a) and any other information the board may require;

(ii) Recording fees for permanently recording a brand, provided that:

(A) No recording fee shall exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500.00) for each application filed under this section;

(B) No additional recording fee shall be charged for additional species or for rerecording;

(C) All fees collected shall be deposited into the account created by W.S. 11-20-405.

(iii) The length of time the permanently recorded brand shall exist, provided that:

(A) The board may require owners of permanently recorded brands to provide notice of continuation of the permanently recorded brand to the board at least once every ten (10) years. The board shall not deem any brand abandoned because of lack of notice;

(B) If the board requires notice of continuation as provided in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the board shall prepare a form and shall send the notice of continuation form by mail to the address shown on the brand records, and by electronic mail if provided, at least sixty (60) days before the notice is due.

(b) A certified copy of the recorded brand shall be given to the owner. All fees collected shall be deposited into the account created by W.S. 11-20-405.

(c) Any person with a brand that is permanently recorded under this section shall not be required to rerecord the brand as provided by W.S. 11-20-115.

(d) No brand permanently recorded under this section shall be transferable to another person without the person receiving the transferred brand first paying the recording fee required under this section or the recording fee required under W.S. 11-20-116(b).".

"(a) There is created the Medicaid air ambulance service working group consisting of members of the department of health, the department of insurance and the department of workforce services. The group shall also include air ambulance service providers, insurance companies, employers and legislators.

(b) The working group shall be staffed by the department of health. All state agencies shall provide information and assistance upon request of the working group.

(c) The working group shall identify, study and make recommendations concerning the possibility of expanding the Medicaid program to cover air ambulance services provided in Wyoming including:

(i) An assessment of whether any regulatory plan imposed as a result expanding the Medicaid program to cover air ambulance services will reduce the availability or quality of such services being provided in Wyoming;

(ii) An assessment of any attempts made by insurance companies to establish service rates with air ambulance service providers and whether insurance companies routinely deny air ambulance service claims submitted for services rendered;

(iii) An analysis of the costs and benefits of an expansion;

(iv) Any necessary federal waiver, state plan amendment or other agreement, which must be approved by the United States department of health and human services, to make Medicaid coverage of air ambulance services available to all Wyoming residents;

(v) Identification of the most practical and effective structure of Medicaid coverage that would provide benefits for air ambulance services at the lowest and most reasonable cost;

(vi) The possibility of making Medicaid coverage for air ambulance services retroactive;

(vii) Identification of any program administered by the state of Wyoming, including the state employees and officials group insurance and Wyoming workers' compensation, that provides or otherwise covers air ambulance services and identification of strategies or approaches for transitioning to possible Medicaid coverage;

(viii) Analysis of probable payment rates including possible financial risk to Wyoming residents and potential cost sharing requirements;

(ix) Identification of any statutory changes necessary for expanding the Medicaid program to cover air ambulance services as specified by this act;

(x) Identification of any funding changes or appropriations necessary for expanding the Medicaid program to cover air ambulance services as specified by this act.

(xi) Other issues the working group determines relevant or prudent to consider.

(d) The working group shall report its findings and recommendations to the joint labor, health and social services interim committee not later than August 1, 2019. The committee shall consider the recommendations and may develop

(m) Two (2) school districts may enter into an agreement to allow a teacher in one (1) school district to remotely instruct a student in another school district. A course taught pursuant to an agreement entered into under this subsection shall not be considered virtual education for purposes of determining if a student is receiving part-time virtual education or full-time virtual education. An agreement to provide remote education pursuant to this subsection shall require that the teacher who teaches the course does so in-person, in a physical classroom setting in the district of employment and provides interactive delivery of content to the remote student. The school district providing the remotely taught courses shall:

(i) Complete a tuition agreement with the school district in which the student is enrolled. The agreement shall identify the services, courses and the payments to be provided by the respective school districts. The tuition shall be paid on a per course basis and shall be equal to or less than the ADM amount received by the district providing the remote education prorated to reflect the number of remotely taught courses attended by the student;

(ii) Monitor the participating student's academic progress in the remotely taught courses and provide any necessary academic information to the school district in which the student is enrolled;

(iii) Facilitate necessary instructional support for the remotely taught courses taken by the student and notify and assist any student not performing satisfactorily;

(iv) Maintain the student's record for the remotely taught courses taken by the student and, as necessary, share educational information with the district in which the student is enrolled;

(v) Verify the remotely taught program received by the participating student complies with and fulfills the state education program established by W.S. 21-9-101 and 21-9-102 and that the program otherwise meets program standards agreed upon by the district in which the student is enrolled and the district providing the remotely taught courses.". "Section 2. (a) The select committee on capital financing and investments, in light of best achieving the goals set forth in Section 1 of this act, shall review and report its recommendations to the legislature on the following:

(i) Whether the existing investment policies, procedures, practices, functions and duties relating to the investment of state funds should be retained, restructured or otherwise modified in order to shield the investment of state funds from political influence and to implement best practices of the investment industry;

(ii) If functions and duties should be restructured, whether the restructuring should be within existing entities or whether a new entity or entities should be created. If duties and functions should be restructured within existing entities, the select committee shall make specific recommendations for the restructuring;

(iii) If a new entity or entities should be created, the composition of those entities, processes for establishing the entities, assignment of functions and duties of those entities and proposed budgets for the entities;

(iv) Timelines for implementing the committee's recommendations.

(b) In conducting the study the committee shall consult with the state treasurer, the state loan and investment board and the investment funds committee created by W.S. 9-4-720. The select committee may exercise all authority specified in W.S. 28-11-201 to conduct the study, and may authorize one (1) or more members to attend meetings of the state loan and investment board and the investment funds committee in conducting the study. The state loan and investment board shall provide information upon request to assist the select committee as provided in W.S. 28-11-201(c). The investment funds committee and the office of state lands and investments shall provide information upon the request of the select committee.

(c) The select committee shall report its recommendation to the legislature not later than January 15, 2020. The committee shall sponsor legislation for introduction in the 2020 legislative budget session as the committee deems appropriate.

Section 3. There is appropriated thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000.00) from the general fund to the legislative service office for purposes of funding the study authorized in this act, including salary, per diem and mileage costs for meetings and other costs incurred by the select committee.

Section 4. This act is effective immediately upon completion of all acts necessary for a bill to become law as provided by Article 4, Section 8 of the Wyoming Constitution.". NICHOLAS

(a) Before distribution to the ~~public school capital construction account~~ school lands mineral royalties account under W.S. 9-4-305(b), sufficient revenues for the purposes of this section shall be deducted therefrom and credited to a bond repayment account pursuant to the terms of the resolution, indenture or other appropriate proceeding authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds under this section. The revenues deducted shall be used as provided by this section. The balance of the revenues shall be credited to the ~~public school capital construction account~~ school lands mineral royalties account as provided under W.S. 9-4-305(b). After available revenues under W.S. 9-4-305(b) have been used, revenues under W.S. 21-13-301 shall also be credited, as necessary, to the bond repayment account and shall be used as provided by this section.

(d) Any bonds issued under this section shall:

(vii) Be additionally secured by a reserve fund created from revenues deposited within the ~~capital construction account~~ school lands mineral royalties account under W.S. 9-4-305(b) or from the proceeds of the bonds, or both, in an amount determined by the commission but not to exceed an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the revenue bonds outstanding.

Prayer by Representative Kinner.

Majority Floor Leader Barlow: Mr. Speaker, I move that bills currently pending before this body in the 65th Wyoming State Legislature, 2019 General Session, be indefinitely postponed.

Minority Floor Leader Connolly: Mr. Speaker I second the motion of the Majority Floor Leader.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' By your vote the motion has passed the House.

Majority Floor Leader Barlow: Mr. Speaker, I move that the Senate be informed that the House of Representatives, of the 65th Wyoming State Legislature, 2019 General Session, has completed its business and is ready to adjourn.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' Motion carried. I am directing that House Chief Clerk, Wendy Harding, inform the Senate that the House of Representatives, General Session of the 65th Wyoming State Legislature, is ready to adjourn.

Majority Floor Leader Barlow: Mr. Speaker, I move that a committee of two be appointed to inform the Governor that the House has completed its business and is ready to adjourn; and to escort His Excellency, the Governor to the House Chamber.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' Motion carried. Representative Lloyd Larsen and Representative Barlow please inform the Governor that the House of Representatives is ready to adjourn; please escort His Excellency, the Governor, Mark Gordon, to the House Chamber.

Sergeant-at-Arms announced His Excellency, the Governor of Wyoming, Mark Gordon.

Mr. Speaker: Governor Gordon, we welcome you to the House of Representatives.

Governor Gordon gave closing remarks to the members of the House.

Mr. Speaker: Governor Gordon, on behalf of the members of the House of Representatives, I thank you for your closing remarks to us. Representative Nicholas and Representative Sommers escorted His Excellency, the Governor from the House Chamber.

CLOSING OF SESSION

Majority Floor Leader Barlow moved the following:

1. That the House of Representatives, 65th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, adjourn until a date and time which are determined jointly by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate for the purpose of calling the House and Senate back into session.

2. That if no such time is established before December 31, 2019, the House of Representatives, 65th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned sine die effective at 12:00 o'clock noon on that date and the Legislative Budget Session, 65th Wyoming Legislature, shall convene on the 10th day of February, 2020 at the hour of ten o'clock a.m.

3. That the House of Representatives specifically concur in any identical motion adopted by the Senate.

4. That if the Senate fails to concur in the action of the House of Representatives under paragraphs 1 through 3 of this motion, by adopting an identical motion applicable to the Senate, the House of Representatives of the 65th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned sine die.

Mr. Speaker: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye', opposed, 'No.' By your vote, the motion has passed the House.

Mr. Speaker: We are now at the order of business, Reading and Approval of the Journal.

Representative Western: Mr. Speaker, your Journal Committee reports that the Journal of February 27, 2019 has been read and I move that it be approved.

Representative Yin: Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. Speaker: There being no objection, the report is adopted. Subject to the conditions set forth in Majority Floor Leader Barlow’s motion, the House of Representatives, 65th Wyoming State Legislature, General Session, is adjourned and shall again convene the Legislative Budget Session on the 10th day of February, 2020, at the hour of ten o'clock a.m.

Benediction by Representative Flitner.

Mr. Speaker: The House is adjourned.

Wendy Harding
House Chief Clerk
