Source of revenue (decrease):

Sales and use tax exemptions for feminine hygiene products and diapers;

Assumptions:

The revenue decrease estimates presented in the table above are for feminine hygiene products, for children’s diapers and adult diapers.

Due to the way feminine hygiene products sales are aggregated with the sales of other products in Wyoming, the DOR has no statistical information available regarding the reduction of sales and use tax currently paid on these products.

While the average annual cost of feminine hygiene products varies greatly depending on many factors, the average annual cost of feminine hygiene products is assumed to be $120 ($10.00 per month). The number of women in Wyoming between the ages of 12 and 49 is assumed to be 131,368, based on the Wyoming Economic Analysis Division’s “Wyoming and County Population Projections by Age and Sex year 2020 Projection.” Using the average annual cost of $120 for 131,368 women, total sales are estimated to be $15,764,160. At an average sales tax rate of 5.37%, the sales tax on feminine hygiene sales is estimated at $846,000.

Based on information from the Statista Market Forecast, $6.217 billion will be spent on children’s diapers in the United States in 2020. Wyoming’s population represents .2% of the population of the United States. At an average tax rate of 5.37%, the sales tax on children’s diapers is estimated at $668,000.

The Statista Market Forecast also estimates that $2.479 billion will be spent on adult diapers in the United States in 2020. Wyoming’s population represents .2% of the population of the United States. At an average tax rate of 5.37% the sales tax on adult diapers is estimated at $266,000.

No change in consumption is projected. The revenue decrease is estimated to remain flat during the estimate period.
