THE STATE OF THE STATE
GOVERNOR MARK GORDON
SIXTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE BUDGET SESSION
FEBRUARY 9, 2026

Good morning President Biteman, Speaker Neiman, and members of the 68th Legislature.

First Lady Jennie and I thank you for the invitation to be here today.

Good morning to the honored guests here in the gallery and to the citizens of this amazing state joining in via livestream provided by Wyoming PBS. To Wyoming PBS, thank you.

It is a privilege to be welcomed into this beautiful chamber. I am always reminded of the history, the dreams, the purpose, and the responsibility our founders entrusted to those who serve in this Capitol.

Remembering the careful deliberations of our nation's founding fathers, we are blessed to be alive 250 years later. Living in a strong nation that values liberty and understands that limited government and local control are to be respected, nurtured, and cherished. How precious is our own Wyoming Constitution with its declarations about rights, the belief that power derives from the people, and that government must be limited and local. And yet, Wyoming is small enough and close enough that we can respect the separation of powers and still work productively together.

FLOOR RECOGNITIONS

Mr. Secretary of State Gray, Madam Auditor Racines, Mr. Treasurer Meier, and Madam Superintendent of Public Instruction Degenfelder, it's my privilege to serve with all of you. Attorney General Kautz is up there in the Gallery. Your experience and willingness to continue to serve our state now in a different capacity is appreciated. Thank you, sir. Please rise and be recognized.

Madam Chief Justice Boomgaarden, Justices Gray, Fenn, Jarosh, and Hill and other members of the Judiciary, thank you for performing the sometimes thankless job set forth in our Constitution.

Alexander Hamilton, one of our most sage founders, spoke ardently of the importance of the judicial branch referring to it as "the best expedient which can be devised in any government, to secure a steady, upright, and impartial administration of the laws." There is little doubt the rule of law is essential to the stability of our system of government.

Chief Justice John Roberts likens your task to that of an umpire in baseball calling the balls and strikes with humility. We all thank you for being willing to stand behind the plate because we can surely throw some wild pitches.

GALLERY RECOGNITIONS

Members of the 68th Legislature, I appreciate the privilege to recognize a few remarkable Wyoming leaders: First, I want to introduce Wyoming's tribal leaders. Chairman Wayland Large of the Eastern Shoshone Tribal Business Council, and Chairman Keenan Groesbeck of the Northern Arapaho Business Council.

It has been a distinct honor to work with your two proud sovereign nations as Governor of Wyoming. Together, we have approached difficult issues as fellow citizens of this state and as friends. I hope our experience will continue to serve as an example of good will and trust.

Please rise and be recognized.

I also recognize Dr. Ed Siedel, President of the University of Wyoming, thank you for your leadership in helping us align the University with our Community Colleges and for your work achieving Tier I Research Institution status.

Major General Gregory Porter, as always I appreciate the privilege to thank you and all the members of our National Guard; they truly are the sword and the shield of Wyoming - a lethal force for our nation, and a helping hand for our neighbors.

Just last summer, we welcomed 500 men and women of the Wyoming National Guard home from all over the world. Ladies and gentlemen, our Guard does what they do beyond compare and are recognized around the world as the very best of the best. Wyoming thanks all members of our National Guard for their continued heroism and service.

General and President Seidel, would you please rise so that we may recognize you.

OPENING REMARKS: 250 YEARS OF ESSENTIALS

It is my Constitutional obligation to come before the 68th Legislature today to communicate to you "the condition of the state and recommend such measures as may be expedient."

I am proud to report that Wyoming stands strong and vibrant, anchored in our enduring values and in the conservative principles that always carry our people forward. Our economy is hardy, more diverse, and better prepared to capitalize on the multiple opportunities now facing our state.

We are all beneficiaries of the work of our forefathers, who raised this great nation out of the flames that birthed liberty, to build a bright future. We share their courageous commitment to federalism, the careful division of power between local, state, and national governments, further balanced among three branches, so no single hand can rule alone. These enduring principles have carried this Republic for two and a half centuries.

We are also successors to the legacy and wisdom of our Wyoming forebears. Our predecessors in Wyoming diligently ensured that future generations would inherit a stronger foundation, upon which to build a bright future.

I'm sure that's why my father, perhaps like many of yours, drilled into me the obligation to "leave things better than you found them".

As we celebrate our 250th year, we should remember the founding principles of our nation: We are a republic with a backbone of Federalism. We understand that power belongs closest to the people.

And, we appreciate that essentials are not handed down from some distant capital. The essentials are forged close to home by people who understand their moral obligation not just to today but to tomorrow as well.

We profit from a familiarity few states can emulate. We are, in the words of a former Governor, "one hometown with very long streets." We know our neighbors, we know our representatives, and they know us. That sometimes means we can get "owly" with one another, but I hope that we can all agree that friends and colleagues can disagree. And also recognize the value of developing and keeping material relationships.

Abraham Lincoln said it this way: "We are not enemies, but friends. We must not be enemies. Though passion may have strained, it must not break our bonds of affection."

This session offers us a number of consequential choices about the future of our state and in fact, much of our future hinges on what we do over the coming weeks. To be clear, we stand at a crossroads.

The budget I submitted is not built upon excess, but on the essentials that will build an enduring future for Wyoming. Essentials are those things without which families falter, communities fade, and opportunity withers. As a rancher, I learned early on the value of stewardship because a bright future must be built, not assumed. Simply taking rarely generates the wealth that taking care does.

Wyoming turns 136 this year. Taking stock, we can see over the past few years we opened new fertile ground and tended to our most productive and cherished fields. Our care yielded results regardless of weather and politics. When we remember the essentials, we can count on a good season ahead of us. Our founders understood this, and so must we.

Those newly elected last year are now more familiar with legislating. You are joining with veteran legislative peers eager to shape this biennial budget.

Sessions are always anxious times as agendas and tactics begin to reveal themselves, perhaps leaving some of you to question their decision to seek office. But to quote John Adams' letter to his son Thomas in 1789, "Public business, my son, must always be done by somebody." And that somebody is us.

My 2027-28 budget focuses on the essentials and your work on it is the prime business of this Budget Session.

My recommendation provides for an efficient government that is neither intrusive nor inattentive. It seeks to help people closest to the problems solve them for themselves. It represents the whole sense of our communities, and is transparent and responsive while not burdening our citizens or their industries. There will be differences of opinion but ultimately it is you who will be engaging in the difficult task of finding a constructive agreement that builds our future as much as it benefits our present.

I tum now to some key areas I hope you will keep top of mind as you embark on your work.

SAVINGS

This session is about our ability to develop a two-year budget for the State of Wyoming. What I delivered to you in November is not a generic spending plan, but an essential contract between Wyoming families and the government that they elected - we are that government.

This budget originally left a surplus of $500 million, because of the good work of Treasurer Meier and his team, we have harvested another $250 million in investment income since I released my budget recommendation. Income, as you know, that is not profiled on the Consensus Revenue Estimating Group. Which is why I now turn to talk about savings.

In 1974, the people of this state amended their Constitution to create the Permanent Mineral Trust Fund (PMTF). They understood that resources beneath the ground are not endless, and the prosperity they bring forth should serve generations yet unborn. By placing a portion of those revenues in a trust, Wyoming chose prudence and discipline over political impulse and indulgence.

That decision bears fruit today. Last year, the PMTF and her sister trust produced $913M, now the largest single source of state income. What we do today builds our future one way or the other.

I therefore ask you to restore my original budget recommendation and place $250M of the surplus into the permanent savings this year, beyond the reach of current temptation. So far, Wyoming has benefitted from the spirit of previous generations of truly conservative leaders who understood that discipline and restraint built the future.

ENERGY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Wyoming is grateful for the wealth our energy and mineral industries have generated. Minerals like trona and bentonite stand alongside coal, oil, gas, and uranium to build our towns, fund our schools, and fuel our investments.

Thankfully, our national government is currently out of the business of throwing up energy and mineral development roadblocks. Nevertheless, we must be vigilant in defending our interests and growing our markets. Everyone should know this; Wyoming will stop at nothing to defend our right to reach markets eager to use the quality products only Wyoming can provide.

Over just my time as Governor, we, with legislative support, successfully defended Wyoming's interests against President Biden's federal overreach, and worked with the Trump Administration to compel the Department of Interior to offer coal, oil, and gas leases and extend the life of the Wyodak, Jim Bridger, and Dave Johnston power plants. We resuscitated a moribund domestic nuclear industry and rekindled the uranium market by facilitating the nation's newest and safest nuclear reactor. We supported technological advances in rare earth elements and CO2 capture for enhanced oil recovery, as well as expanding use of coal through coal pyrolysis research in Gillette.

I'm proud that we took action to assure more dependable ownership of our mines when they entered bankruptcy, that we stood alongside our miners to make sure they still had jobs, and that we worked with our counties to secure overdue tax obligations. We have been there to help our mines with bonding, and reclamation.

Through the energy matching funds, we assisted Wyoming industries to seize opportunities for our core industries, advanced manufacturing, and emerging technologies to draw upon our abundant energy and grow our economy. This program used millions to create billions in capital spending and increased revenue. "The chief business of the American people is business. They are profoundly concerned with producing, buying, selling, investing and prospering in the world." That is how Calvin Coolidge put it.

Wyoming's gumption demonstrated through some 70 pieces of legislation over the last decade, proved our capacity for responsible innovation and sensible digital asset regulation. I am delighted to report, Wyoming launched her own fully reserved dollar backed stable token, the first of its kind... And the world took notice, thanks to Wyoming Stable Token Commission Executive Director Anthony Apollo and others who put in a whole lot of work to ensure Wyoming is now a national leader in digital assets and their regulation.

Using "no" as a club is not how America became great. Today we are presented with an amazing range of opportunities that, if done well, will inspire our children to stay in Wyoming, and allow them to make a good wage and raise families. Here is the challenge we face. We are in real competition with other states and nations, and we need to fully understand that growth expands our choices but does not need to erase our character. The aim of crafting policy is to do just that.

Which is why I am calling on the legislature to work with me to rejuvenate, renovate, and reimagine the Wyoming Business Council. A task force seems an appropriate way to seek the reform desired. In the end, the talk of killing the Business Council has already put a chill in the air - a Closed for Business sign if you will - our competitive neighbors are already salivating. Let's not feed their ambition.

AGRICULTURE

Wyoming agriculture continues to develop markets in Asia - especially Taiwan. We export beef, alcohol, cosmetics, technology, and products born in Laramie and Powell just to name a few. Simply put, we must do more. Energy and agriculture are poised to supply Asia. I ask that you fully fund the Asian trade office so that we can expand our market for our businesses.

I have been in agriculture my entire life. I grew up on our family ranch and bought my own when becoming a new parent. When I started, I was thrilled to be below the average age of farmers and ranchers. Today that average age has advanced by almost a decade. Sadly, I am no longer below the average age. Our ranchers and farmers are getting older and younger ones are having a devil of a time getting started. That is why I created the Cowboy State Agriculture Initiative and organized it around members with hands-on experience who represent our agriculture industry at all levels.

I've charged this committed group to focus on three things. Strengthening agriculture, helping younger farmers and ranchers start or maintain family operations, and expanding markets for our products. The Ag Initiative is doing good work, and I am thrilled that legislation from Senator Boner and Representative Strock is a result of their efforts. I urge your support.

Jennie and I are ranchers. As always, First Lady Gordon is well ahead of the curve. Agriculture is about feeding our nation. Her Hunger Initiative, coupled with the Wyoming Business Council and the Wyoming Department of Ag, through the fine work of Director Doug Miyamoto, targeted federal CARES Act dollars that helped stimulate local agriculture programs such as domestic meat processing in Wyoming.

Privately funded programs under the First Lady's initiative include Food from the Farm and Ranch, From Fair to Fork, Grow a Little Extra, and Food from the Field. These efforts have been vital in helping feed our kids, veterans, seniors, and those less fortunate. These efforts have also supported FFA and 4H, engaged farmers and ranchers, and rekindled an ethic for hunters hoping to feed those in need.

What better lesson can we leave our kids with than the example my beloved Jennie has set?

What kind of people are we if we won't feed our kids?

Why wouldn't we do this?

Which is why I am asking you to restore my recommendation for the Summer feeding program, you know it as SUNBucks.

I am pleased to report Tourism continues to thrive, contributing $4.9 billion in direct spending to Wyoming's economy in 2024, making it our second-most-important revenue-generating sector and our largest employer. Our future is bright. We have the opportunity to add to it with the potential relocation of the Pro-Rodeo Hall of Fame out of Colorado Springs. Wyoming truly is the Rodeo state. Rodeo has been a part of Wyoming before we were a state. It is part of our DNA.

NATURAL RESOURCES

As Wyoming approaches 30 years of drought, we all know we have a significant water crisis on our hands. From the Snake, Tongue, North Platte, and Colorado; Wyoming faces growing demands and greater scrutiny on our water. Whether it be La Prelle, Fontenelle, or Flaming Gorge, Wyoming is faced with more significant legal threats, and engineering challenges. We must make sure we have the resources to address these issues.

We are exceedingly grateful that the Trump Administration brings improved perspectives to our natural resource management strategies; but we are still engaged in numerous challenges due to past oppressive federal regulation. Furthermore, we need to continue to vigorously defend new Wyoming-friendly policies from attack.

We are out-manned and out-gunned by virtually every other state on the Colorado River. Just over a week ago, along with my fellow Governors of several western states, I was called to Washington, DC to discuss the fate of this river that has been over appropriated for decades and is facing 52% below normal snow pack today. I am pleased to report small, positive movement forward in that meeting. But we are not out of the woods.

Which is why I recommend funding to shore up our State Engineer's Office, in concert with additional funding for contracts through the Office of the Attorney General, to protect Wyoming's water use in all basins where water flows out of our state. I also ask for your favorable consideration of adding two natural resource issue specific attorneys to the Attorney General's staff.

There is another arduous task before you, which is to address the issue of abortion. Protecting life is among the most serious responsibilities entrusted to government. The question of abortion deserves careful deliberation. I urge the Legislature to take up this issue earnestly and put forward a genuine solution to the voters of Wyoming, that provides a clear, irrefutable, durable, and morally sound resolution to this fraught issue. Life is sacred.

HEALTH

Turning now to health. And I am also saddened as Governor and angry as a husband, father, and grandfather to report expectant Wyoming mothers and families are finding fewer and fewer places that offer experienced obstetrics care. Too often they must travel great distances or even out of state - on winter roads to receive care. It's unacceptable. Wyoming is a strong pro-life state, and what better way to put our money where our mouth is than through filling Wyoming's hospitals across the state with maternity wards for our expectant mothers?

Wyoming moms and babies deserve nothing less. I recommend an increase in ongoing Medicaid funding to providers of OB services, behavioral health, and in-home health providers to retain and attract medical workers here in Wyoming and to provide appropriate care for our citizens.

Wyoming must be innovative in providing essential healthcare across our vast rural areas. Through President Trump's Rural Health Transformation Program, the state is making significant strides in advancing both sustainability and innovation in this critical sector.

We are among the first to be accepted largely due to our application's focus on adequate access to obstetric labor and delivery services, workforce development initiatives, sustainability, and Emergency Management Services. I thank the Department of Health, Director Johansson, and all those who participated in the stakeholder meetings and workshops to pull this effort together for Wyoming.

The need is real. Emergency Services struggle to keep volunteers and attract new personnel willing to put in the long hours and time it takes to cover our rural state. I can say with confidence that we all want medical care close to home and work. Not a bad thought but seemingly hard to imagine unless we do something about it.

Wyoming has seized this opportunity to be truly innovative, truly transformational and seek to keep care close to home for our families and aging populations.

I want to take a moment here to thank our federal delegation, Senators John Barrasso and Cynthia Lummis and Representative Harriett Hageman, for their work to ensure we received our fair share of federal funds to fundamentally change health care delivery in rural areas.

I would appreciate your continued support in ensuring it's a durable Wyoming solution. And not a Washington, D.C. inspired spend and hope program.

VETERANS

Wyoming is filled with patriotism for the men and women who have served this great nation of ours. One of those patriots-who goes above and beyond for our veterans-is with us here today. Dr. Ilene Choal is a dentist in Albany County and the South Central District Director of the Wyoming Dental Association. Due to her leadership, over 100 Wyoming veterans received over $67,000 worth of donated dental services this past Veterans Day.

Dr. Choal, please stand. Please join me in thanking Dr. Choal for her commitment to care for those whom we honor most.

Unfortunately, that same spirit of commitment has failed at the federal and state level for our Veterans Home in Buffalo. I have recommended to the Legislature that the state front the cost, expediting the project and saving money. Costs to be reimbursed by the federal government at a later date. It is past time we met the commitment to our service members, veterans, and their families by updating the Wyoming Veterans Home.

And you know, our veterans are still there for us.

About a year ago, the entire state mourned a tragic loss in Byron. I visited Byron and listened to their concerns, mourned the loss, and shared their grief. Folks came from far and wide. That's what we do in Wyoming.

One organization in particular surprised me when they came. Downrange Warriors has a single mission to help veterans, yet they saw the need in Byron and they stepped up.

Recognizing the need for trauma-informed care, Downrange Warriors and Veterans Talking to Veterans coaches from across the state travelled to Byron to support our law enforcement, first responders and a grieving community.

Today in the Gallery is a man I admire for his courage, compassion, and sense of mission. A member of Downrange Warriors, Todd Bray.

Todd, please stand and be recognized for your service to our Nation and for your service to your fellow man, our veterans and our Wyoming citizens.

This is the Wyoming I know. The Wyoming I love.

GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY

Wyoming's government must be efficient. Some may believe there is never a good time to bolster state employees. Those may be the same people who love to criticize them for working for the government. But let me tell you, they are wrong. Our state employees are in large part good neighbors, a dedicated workforce, an important bulwark against wasteful spending and a treasured resource. Let me tell you about a few of them. I am asking them to remain seated and you to hold your applause until I share their stories.

Here are some of Wyoming's DOGE numbers. Wyoming's current Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) error rate is 3.73%, the third lowest in the nation. Well below the threshold set by the Trump Administration. That error rate is the direct result of the work of only two Wyoming State Employees.

Wyoming's Medicaid payment error was only $400 and the Children's Health Insurance Program's error was - get this - only $13. The total budget for those two programs is close to three-quarters of a billion dollars per year. Not bad! I imagine other states would give their eyeteeth to only have to adjust their Medicaid payment error by just $413. Paying competitive wages to competent and dedicated state employees and investing in solid and secure systems is the best and most cost efficient way to prevent fraud, waste and abuse.

Here with us today is the State Medicaid Agent, Jesse Springer of the Department of Health.

These error rate accomplishments would not be possible without our dedicated employees and because of the wise use of and investment in technology. This is why the Department of Family Services's data enterprise system must be upgraded to keep this high level of service and avoid costly penalties for increased errors that will only cost the taxpayer. I ask the legislature to reinstate my request for this technology upgrade as well as meet the software requests for all state agencies.

Whenever a person visits the Department of Education, they are greeted by a person who makes you feel right at home, who lets you know you matter, and who is second to none for her kindness, her name is Rita Watson. She has served the people of this state for 56 years under 14 Superintendents. She's certainly seen them come. And she's certainly seen them go. She is the first person you meet when you walk into the Superintendent's Office. Superintendent Degenfelder, I tried to steal her, but her allegiance to that office is absolute.

People like Rita Watson, and Jesse Springer are so important to the efficiency and effectiveness of Wyoming's government. Would you two please stand and be recognized.

Wyoming is also no stranger to extraordinary acts of heroism by state employees. Last year three people tragically lost their lives in a terrible crash at the Green River Tunnel. There could have been more fatalities without Trooper Howell's heroic actions to help others.

Though off-duty and travelling with his family, he acted without hesitation and bravely, retrieving and guiding many out of the tunnel to safety. We honor Trooper Howell, and all the first responders, who demonstrate what President Calvin Coolidge said, "Heroism is not only in the man, but in the occasion." Wyoming people rise to occasion, Trooper Howell, please rise and be honored.

Turnover, retraining, and chronic high vacancy rates in our agencies are harmful to efficiency, and problematic to our constituents and expensive. That is why this budget includes funds to bring the salaries of our state employees from a comparable market value in 2022 to a comparable market value in 2024.

Let us remember more than half of Wyoming's state employees work outside of Cheyenne, they are your neighbors, serving families, protecting livestock, keeping our parks and communities running. If we fail to remain competitive, we risk losing experienced and talented workers to surrounding states; weakening services for Wyoming citizens. The 2024 market value is a reasonable and responsible standard, and I urge you to do the right thing for your neighbors.

EDUCATION

And finally, I want to take just a minute to reflect on some of the amazing work Wyoming achieved over the past several years in education. I am excited Wyoming opted for school choice. We know competition ups everyone's game. Thus, it is appropriate to take a moment to savor our leadership here. We can also take enormous pride in how we have approached reforming "traditional" public education.

At a post-secondary level, the Wyoming Innovation Partnership, otherwise known as WIP-an alignment between the University of Wyoming, community colleges and private business - is a proven success.

The Reimagining and Innovating the Delivery of Education initiative (RIDE) provides Charter-like prerogatives to our established Wyoming Schools, resulting in improved student engagement and deeper academic understanding.

It takes exceptional teachers like Wyoming's Teacher of the Year Michelle Roundy, from Jackson Hole High School, who incidentally teaches at a RIDE School to make this all work and succeed. Michelle is an English Language Arts teacher with a deep passion for cultivating genuine curiosity within her students. She is a tremendous example of why Wyoming has the best educators in the nation. Join me in recognizing Michelle for being named Wyoming's Teacher of the Year. Michelle, stand and be recognized.

I take just a moment to talk about the future of RIDE and WIP. My intention has always been for WIP to be a Wyoming business directed and funded educational program that benefits students and employers. That transition to the Wyoming Business Alliance is already underway. I am pleased to see these programs integrated more into the business and education community.

Wyoming's positive destiny rooted in our families and our educational system is critical to that mission. Reflecting that belief, I asked a few students to be here today and I would like to introduce them and then all stand as a group.

Hailing from Powell, Cambree Dicks is a junior at Powell High school, and Dawson George is a senior. Both are enrolled in the Career and Technical Education program. In addition to their normal classwork, students like Cambree and Dawson also took CAD, Woodshop, Welding, Graphics and even Taxidermy to explore careers using real world problem solving.

Halle Nessland is registered in Adult Echocardiography through the American Registry for Diagnostic Medical Sonography, and attended Laramie County Community College as a WIP participant. She is employed at the VA Clinic in Cheyenne.

Justin Lerwick was one of the first graduates from LCCC's CDL program in spring 2021. She was also a CLIMB Wyoming client. After graduating, she started a trucking business and now owns 3 trucks and 7 trailers.

Cambree, Dawson, Halle, Justin, Would you all please rise and be recognized?

Finally, our University contributes to growing our economy. The revitalized College of Agriculture supports the Ag Initiative. The School of Energy Resources keeps our fossil fuel industries relevant. The Schools of Computing and Engineering are leaders in various fields. The College of Education and Community Colleges lead the essential work in education and CTE.

Now is not the time to ignore the vision set forth in our Wyoming Constitution regarding our land-grant University. This is a case where simply cutting a budget won't lead to improvement, but a dialogue could. I encourage you to restore my recommendation.

CLOSING REMARKS: COURAGE

Our obligation today is to leave our state and her people better positioned to meet the challenges of an increasingly complex, challenging yet bright, future. This budget is a roadmap to the future, emphasizing the essential principles necessary to keep our families strong, promote a solid economy, support strong communities, maintain educational excellence, develop our natural resources responsibly, and care for all of our citizens.

Our founders taught us that freedom depends on balance, on neighbors helping neighbors, on leaders who remember they are temporary caretakers, not owners of a place. They believed prosperity grows from steady hands, not quick applause. We would do well to keep their counsel.

And if we do that, the story told about this Legislature will not be one of what we tore down, but of what we had the courage to build together.

And years from now, when another governor stands in this chamber, those in the audience will be able to say what every generation hopes is said about them, that Wyoming is stronger because we were here. Wyoming's future is brighter because of our decisions.

We are accountable to the people in this chamber, and to those watching across Wyoming, but most of all to the generation that will live with the consequences of what we decide here. We do not owe them promises or platitudes. We owe them a future built on the opportunity to learn, to work, to build a business, to raise a family, and to grow old with dignity in the communities they call home. The choices we make today will either widen that horizon or close it off.

To the young people of Wyoming: watch us closely. Measure our words against our actions, and hold every one of us in this room accountable. This is your future.

Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, in this 250th year of our nation's history and the 136th year of Wyoming statehood, I have asked the First Lady to help me present to each chamber a United States flag with 44 stars representing Wyoming's admission as the 44th state to the Union.

These flags are similar to the one Esther Hobart Morris gave to Governor Warren in 1890.

I do this as a reminder of the courage it took to build this state and the responsibility we carry to preserve it.

Wyoming was built by people who valued independence, responsibility, and self-government If we are worthy of their legacy, we will govern with the same resolve. We are a proud and independent people, let's prove it, and let's keep it that way.

Thank you.

God Bless Wyoming and the United States of America. Ride for the Brand!

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
KATE FOX, CHIEF JUSTICE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Governor and First Lady, members of the 68th Legislature, elected officials, and citizens of Wyoming—thank you for the honor and opportunity to address you for the first time as Chief Justice. I stand before you as the representative of 340 public servants who keep 72 Wyoming courtrooms open each day. We are the Wyoming Judicial Branch – a coequal branch of government – committed to making sure that well-qualified and unbiased judges resolve the people's legal disputes fairly and quickly.

My message today is simple: The strength of your judicial branch is measured by: (1) the trust we share within the Branch, (2) the public confidence we earn, and (3) the working relationships we maintain with the other two branches of government. I'd like to tell you about our strengths and where we can improve.

The Judicial Branch continues to grow in collaboration and effectiveness. Under strong leadership, including former Chief Justice Kate Fox and retired trial court judge John Perry, your Judicial Branch has focused its management efforts on Excellence and Innovation, Public Trust, Stable and Predictable Funding, and Accessible Justice. Because these are the goals that focus our attention and use of resources, I encourage you to learn more about them by going to our website and looking at our strategic plan.

Focus and collaboration are important because each day our judges make thousands of decisions that affect the lives of ordinary Wyoming citizens – decisions ranging from minor traffic citations and landlord tenant disputes, to drug distribution and murder trials; and from major business disputes to gut wrenching decisions about which parent gets custody of a child in a divorce. And this just scratches the surface.

Allow me to share a little bit about the ordinary people who have the extraordinary responsibility of making these decisions and keeping your courts accessible, efficient, and fair. First, I would like to introduce District Court Judge Dawnessa Snyder, from Rawlins, and Circuit Court Judge Sean Chambers, from Cheyenne. I serve with these talented judges on the executive committee to the Wyoming Judicial Council—the governing body of the Wyoming Judicial Branch. We are always available to you should you have any questions about Branch operations.

Our Administrative Office of the Courts, led by Court Administrator Elisa Butler, makes sure that the circuit courts, district courts, chancery court, and Supreme Court have the technology and support needed to deliver timely, fair, and impartial decisions. The workload for all our courts is heavy, but our judges and staff face each day with professionalism, intellect, and integrity.

Last year, the Wyoming Supreme Court decided more than 500 new matters, including appeals from the decisions of your Wyoming trial courts—the circuit courts, district courts, and chancery court.

We call our circuit courts the "people's court" because that is where most folks will interact with our justice system to resolve traffic citations, misdemeanor criminal cases, and small claims cases. Last year, our circuit courts managed over 106,000 new cases. Representing the circuit courts here today are: Amy Knotts, chief clerk in Sublette County Circuit Court and the current president of the Chief Clerk's association, together with Judges Sean Chambers, Toni Williams (Cheyenne), Paul Phillips (Gillette), and Susan Stipe (Rawlins). If you don't know the circuit court judge (or judges) in your community, I encourage you to stop by their courtrooms and meet them!

At the center of the Wyoming judicial system are the district courts, which manage all felony criminal cases and civil trials with damages greater than $50,000. The district courts handled almost 13,000 new cases last year. Representing those courts here today are Mara Sanger, Carbon County Clerk of District Court and President of the Wyoming Clerk of District Court Association, and Judges Dawnessa Snyder, Suzannah Robinson (Green River), and Darci Phillips (Sheridan). Again, if you haven't yet met the district court judge (or judges) in your community, I hope you'll try to do so.

In 2019, the Wyoming Legislature directed the creation of the Wyoming Chancery Court—a special business court to quickly resolve commercial and trust cases. Last January, Judge Ben Burningham was seated as the first full-time chancery court judge. He has been working hard to tell lawyers and Wyoming businesses about his court, and I'm pleased to report that since accepting its first case in December 2021, the Chancery Court has seen a steady and significant increase in new filings. Even with this growing caseload, Judge Burningham is still resolving cases in an average of 116 days.

This past year we've seen several experienced judges leave the bench, and talented new judges take their place. We said thank you and goodbye to Chief Justice Kate Fox and welcomed our newest colleague, Justice Bridget Hill, at the end of May. At the circuit court level, we said goodbye and expressed our gratitude to retiring judges Brian Christiansen, Wendy Bartlett, and Greg Corpening, and welcomed new judges Cindy Sweet, Greg Steward, Jackie Brown and Tom Deering.

At the district court level we said thank you to retiring district court judge Steve Sharpe and welcomed former circuit court Judge Nate Hibben to Cheyenne to fill that vacancy. Sadly, we'll soon be saying goodbye to Judge Rick Lavery who presides in Green River. Judge Lavery, I'd like you to stand and be recognized for your outstanding service.

Public trust in these courts remains strong. National polling shows that state courts have a 62% public confidence rating, well above that of the federal courts. A University of Wyoming survey showed state judiciary approval ratings three times higher than disapproval ratings. But we can't be complacent. Public trust must be earned daily, through transparency, impartial judgment, and outreach.

When Judge Lavery wrote to me to acknowledge his upcoming mandatory retirement, he said:

> People frequently ask me what I do. Often, I say I'm a professional listener, but most don't want to hear what I hear. I hear, and hopefully use my knowledge and wisdom, to resolve disputes. I hear strength and resilience, pain and suffering, anger and hostility, and occasionally love and tolerance. Trial judges have a front row seat for so many of our human conditions. It is a hard job, but I wouldn't have wanted to sit anywhere else.

These wise words so eloquently explain why judges do what they do and why the most effective way to show the public who we are and how we serve them is to have them come into the courtroom to watch us work.

Our message to legislators and the people of Wyoming remains the same: please come in and watch justice be done. Serving on a jury, visiting a courtroom, or attending an argument will show you exactly what judges do and why it matters.

Two groups, independent from the judicial branch, safeguard the public's interest in selecting qualified and impartial judges, and in making sure that judges behave ethically. The Judicial Nominating Commission reviews the voluminous materials submitted by each lawyer who applies to be a judge and, following interviews, forwards the names of the three most qualified applicants to the Governor. Because this constitutional process is merit-based, the Commission focuses on each candidate's relevant experience, work ethic, communication skills, impartial temperament, critical thinking and decision-making skills, commitment to service, and reputation for fairness, integrity and leadership. Political connection is not relevant nor discussed. Wyoming voters ultimately decide whether the Judicial Nominating Commission and the Governor chose well when they cast their ballots to retain or unseat judges at each general election.

The Judicial Nominating Commission recognizes the importance of transparency and is exploring ways to share more information with the public and the Wyoming State Bar. The Commission is cautious, however, about making changes that might reduce the number and/or quality of judicial applicants. We need more lawyers with diverse experience to apply. A recent survey of Wyoming lawyers showed that keeping the names of applicants confidential is important, and that salary, workload, and the isolation of the job are key factors that discourage lawyers from applying to be judges. We need to work on that.

I would like to recognize Devon O'Connell, a Laramie attorney who is completing her four-year term at the end of this month. Mr. Jason Neville from Casper will be taking her place. The Judicial Nominating Commission is equal part citizens and attorneys. The other Nominating Commission volunteers are Rick Fagnant, an accountant from Lander, Lisa Anderson, a retired teacher from Shell, Rocco O'Neill, a community development director from Evanston, and attorneys Clint Langer from Sheridan, and Mandy Good from Cheyenne. I serve as the seventh JNC member and vote only if there is a tie, which rarely occurs.

The Commission on Judicial Conduct and Ethics describes itself as the "quiet guardian" of judicial accountability. It consists of twelve volunteers: three trial court judges chosen by their colleagues, three attorneys appointed by the Wyoming State Bar, and six Wyoming citizens appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the State Senate. The citizen volunteers include several educators, a retired social service provider, a retired doctor, and an oil and gas professional.

This Commission investigates and decides complaints from citizens, attorneys, and judges who report judicial misconduct, criminal wrongdoing, or disability. The Commission then recommends disciplinary action, as appropriate, and reassures the public that its judges are complying with their very strict ethical rules. I would like to recognize the Executive Director of the Commission on Judicial Conduct and Ethics, Wendy Soto. Wendy will be retiring at the end of July after 14 years of service to the Commission and 27 years as a state employee.

Wyoming judges take seriously their obligation to conduct themselves, both in and outside the courtroom, in accordance with the Code of Judicial Conduct. What citizens may not realize is that those same ethical rules prohibit judges from publicly discussing or defending their decisions. Remember, Judges don't get to pick and choose their cases. We take all comers. We decide the issues as they are presented—issues that are difficult, emotional, and fraught with all the failings of human beings. We do our best to consistently apply the law to the facts of each case and to provide well-reasoned decisions, but we cannot use television or social media to debate or explain why we decided a case the way we did. We may not like the outcome the law demands. But whether we like the result or not, we can sleep at night because we follow the oath we took to uphold the law, including the United States and Wyoming constitutions.

This is the only way the system can guarantee that every citizen who enters the courtroom will be treated the same and be subject to the same law as their neighbors, regardless of their politics, or the politics in the Governor's office or the Wyoming State Legislature. This is the Rule of Law, the load bearing wall that supports all three branches of government.

Historically, Wyoming's three branches have worked well together. Legislative support has strengthened statewide judicial operations, especially technology, which is now essential for evidence presentation, remote participation, and access to justice for those who have disabilities or who live in rural communities. Our budget request this session reflects the modest, necessary investments to maintain that progress and to keep all those who participate in the courtroom safe from harm.

I would feel cowardly and complicit if, at this point, I didn't address an uncomfortable reality. Recently the public has heard rhetoric suggesting retaliation or defunding of courts because of the outcome in one high-profile case. There is no greater threat to a stable system of government than weakening the Judicial Branch for political gain.

Wyoming's Constitution, art. 2, § 1, could not be clearer: The powers of government are divided into three branches, and NO branch may exercise the powers of another. Judges are not threatened by efforts to undermine judicial independence, but citizens who rely on fair and impartial courts should be. Healthy tension between branches of government is useful and expected. Efforts to punish or politicize the courts are not.

Jobs that require making tough decisions invite criticism. But our founding fathers understood that anything less than mutual respect for each branch's decision-making roles, and the defense of those constitutional roles in the face of uninformed, or worse, spiteful detractors, will, in the end, hurt those who choose to live and work in Wyoming.

As we mark the 250th anniversary of our Nation's founding, I ask everyone in this room to recommit to constitutional respect. Toward that end, let us:

- Listen with open minds
- Honor the distinct roles of each branch
- Debate vigorously, yet respectfully
- Recognize that the people bring cases, issues, and evidence to the courts; judges do not choose them
- Understand that judicial decisions are not political statements
- Avoid demonizing judges for unpopular rulings
- And finally, celebrate that the Legislature has the last word. If a court has reached a result that is unpopular, the Legislature can make new law, amend existing law, or propose a constitutional amendment to the people. Therein lies the intended checks and balances between co-equal branches.

When we leave this room and continue the people's work, I hope each of us will look up in the rotunda and see the Four Sisters: Truth, Justice, Courage, and Hope. These are the virtues that reflect the values our State holds dear, and to which all public servants should aspire.

By these measures, your Wyoming judiciary is cohesive and strong. The justice we administer is guided by the pursuit of truth in the law, courage in our convictions to find that truth, and hope that we may foster confidence in all Wyoming citizens that the Judicial, Executive, and Legislative branches are working together, for them.

Thank you again for your service, your attention, your support of the Judicial Branch, and your commitment to the people of Wyoming. May God bless your work in this session and beyond.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE
CHIP NEIMAN

Welcome, to you and to my Joni, my lovely wife of 34 years.

For some this may be your last session as a representative in this house as you move on to other stops in your life's journey. If that is the case I want to say thank you for your service now, as I may not have the opportunity later. Everyone in this room understands the time and sacrifice this responsibility holds and I want, as your Speaker to publicly let you know how much you are appreciated.

Next, I want to thank my chairmen and chairwomen for being willing to serve when asked.

As a leader I have always felt that it's my responsibility to choose dedicated, thoughtful, committed people and trust them to do the job. I've made a conscience effort that you manage your committees without me micromanaging. I believe it was my job to select good people and trust their efforts. I am thankful for you all. I look forward to your leadership for the remainder of the 68th.

Now I would like to recognize some guests I have asked to be here and share in their opening ceremony.

First, I would like to thank Miss. Kylie Wall for her willingness to fight for her, and all of our 1st amendment rights of free speech. This is foundational to our liberty and to have a young person like yourself courageously stand up for that right should inspire all of us. I am thankful for your commitment and desire to defend these rights for all our sakes. Thank you Kylie, you give me great hope for the future of our Nation. May the lord bless and protect you as you go and I look forward to all you will accomplish in your life. Thank you for making time to be here.

The next person I would like to recognize is someone who has been a source of support and inspiration throughout my legislative career. As you are all well aware Wyoming is a very prolife state as seen through its passing of multiple life offering pieces of legislation.

Life and the protection of it is a primary focus of the reason I ran for the office of Representative. I believe that our founders clearly understood that the first duty of government is to protect life. Because liberty does you little good if you don't first have life to enjoy it. So, it is with that, that I recognize Mr. Frederick Harrison. Mr. Harrison is a former member of this body, beginning in 1982 until 1992 and an attorney here in Cheyenne. Mr. Harrison is a staunch prolife advocate and has been an invaluable resource to me in the battle to reorganize the unborn humanity and right to protection. Fred, your passion and commitment to life is inspirational and I want to thank you for all you have done and will continue to do to see that those who can't speak for themselves are heard. Thank you and Lord bless you in your efforts.

As we begin this budget session of the 68th I do not believe we lack vision. I believe we see Wyoming the way it is- a tough place with great people. Wyoming is never going to be Seattle, and we thank heaven for that. I'm sure we all agree the real treasurer of Wyoming is her people. I believe the best thing we can do is remove the barriers to success, to create favorable conditions to build a business or raise a family. I don't believe the "invisible foot" of government, as Milton Friedman called it, is going to get us where we need to go. We must believe in listening to the people and doing what we tell them we are going to do.

Realizing that every 2 or 4 years, we stand in front of those people for them to judge our performance and so far, they have supported us. I believe the people of Wyoming have given us a job to do. To help it be the best Wyoming it can be and do it without a lot of artificial additions or flavorings. To welcome new businesses and industries but always remember the traditional Wyoming ways that settled this land and built these communities.

And above all, to respect and cherish the sovereignty of the people and of Wyoming as a jewel among fifty other states. To embrace what makes us different.

We have problems no doubt but so does every other state, and I would never in a million years trade our problems for theirs.

In this body, we have our differences. Even if we see some problems the same, we often see different solutions. I hope that this year, facing those tough problems, we do our best to treat each other with respect and as colleagues and not enemies.

I hope all of us will ask for wisdom and discernment from the lord and treat each other as we'd like to be treated.

The prayer of the day was given by Representative Washut representing the house.

Representative Provenza moved a Motion to Convene Investigative House Committee:

HM0001/ADOPTED
Mr. Speaker, there have been allegations that this week, a member of the public was invited onto the floor of the Wyoming House of Representatives and that person handed out checks to members of the House. This incident calls into question the ethics and impartiality of members. Mr. Speaker, I believe the integrity of the House requires that we investigate whether such an incident occurred and disclose all relevant facts about that incident to all members of the House and to all of Wyoming.

I move that the House of Representatives convene a special committee to investigate whether checks were provided to members of the House of Representatives on the floor of the House and whether that action is a violation of the Wyoming State Constitution under Article 3 Section 42 or Section 43 or constitutes legislative misconduct as defined in Joint Rule 22-1(d). The special committee would investigate all relevant facts about this matter, hold public hearings and issue a public report to the House of Representatives.

I further move that the special committee be subject to the following:

(a) Seven (7) members of the House shall be appointed by the speaker and must include at least one member of the minority party. The Speaker shall appoint a chairman of the select committee.

(b) The special committee shall hear the complaints and evidence as expeditiously as possible.

(c) All proceedings of the special committee shall be conducted in public session.

(d) Persons called before the committee may be represented by counsel and shall be afforded reasonable opportunity to be heard and to present oral argument.

(e) The committee shall provide persons called before the committee with at least forty-eight (48) hours advance notice of each meeting, hearing or other proceeding of the special committee, unless testimony is continued from day to day.

(f) The chairman of the special committee shall have the power to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents relevant to the contest, as authorized by W.S. 28-1-107 through 28-1-112. Any testimony made at any special committee hearing or before the appropriate house which purports to establish matters of fact shall be made under oath.

(g) Not later than the fourth legislative day following the date the special committee was convened, the committee shall report its findings and final recommendation to the House. PROVENZA

Statement From Chairman Washut to Hold Further Investigative Proceedings in Abeyance

Mr. Speaker,

I would like to address the House of Representatives as Chairman of the Select Investigative Committee. Members of the Investigative Committee got together on Friday, February 13 at noon recess to outline a plan for conducting the Committee's work. Committee staff were directed to gather evidence and to develop a structure to contact potential witnesses. The Committee planned to send letters to witnesses inviting them to appear at a hearing early this week.

However, on Saturday, February 14th, the Laramie County Sheriff announced publicly that his Office was launching a criminal investigation into the exact allegations this Committee was tasked with investigating. With that announcement, the Investigative Committee has unanimously decided to pause its investigation pending the outcome of the Laramie County Sheriff's investigation.

Mr. Speaker, all notions of justice and fairness require that the House's investigation be delayed so that those persons under potential criminal investigation may be afforded all the legal protections available to them throughout that investigation. Remember, in a criminal proceeding, all are presumed innocent until proven guilty. The members of the Investigative Committee believe that it is vitally important to protect the principle that every individual is entitled to equal treatment under the law and guaranteed the right to a fair and impartial investigation.

The Joint Rule of the Senate and House of Representative 22-1(k)(vi), which controls investigates of ethical complaints against a legislator states, that if the subcommittee of management council tasked with deciding whether there is probable cause to believe legislative misconduct occurred, "determines that the complaint alleges criminal activity, the subcommittee may recommend that further proceedings under this rule be held in abeyance pending completion of any criminal investigation." While this Investigative Committee was created outside of the Joint Rule process, it is even more imperative in this circumstance when this Committee's public hearings could inadvertently affect the collection of evidence or interfere with the integrity of the criminal investigation.

If the criminal matter is not resolved until the conclusion of this legislative session, Management Council can reappoint this Investigative Committee or another committee to review the Laramie County Sheriff's findings, conduct any additional necessary investigations, determine whether any rules of the House or standards of conduct expected of members were violated, and provide recommendations based on those findings.

Mr. Speaker, absent direction to the contrary from this House, the Select Investigative Committee will hold its work in abeyance pending a final determination of any criminal investigation or criminal proceedings in this matter.

The vote on this Motion was held on the Eighth Day, February 18, 2026.

[RETIREMENT – ADDITIONAL PAYMENTS]

Section 329.

(a) One (1) additional payment shall be made on July 1, 2026 to each eligible person receiving a service pension, survivor's pension, retirement benefit, survivor benefit, death benefit or disability pension or benefit under a retirement plan. Each additional payment under this section shall be limited to persons who first began receiving benefits prior to July 1, 2024, either alone or in combination with a member or retired or disabled employee if the person is a survivor. If the person is a survivor, the date shall be based on the initial retirement or disability benefit of the applicable employee. Each payment to an eligible person shall be in an amount calculated by multiplying the eligible person's existing annual benefit by one percent (1.0%). The additional payment under this section shall not be ongoing, cumulative or in any way affect any future benefits paid to any person.

(b) There is appropriated eight million seven hundred eighty thousand four hundred five dollars ($8,780,405.00) from the general fund to the board of the Wyoming retirement system for the purpose of making the payment as provided in subsection (a) of this section. This amount shall be allocated to each retirement plan on a proportional basis using the amount of payments calculated under subsection (a) of this section. To the extent there are insufficient funds under this section, the Wyoming retirement system shall reduce payments proportionately. This appropriation shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2028. It is the intent of the legislature that this appropriation not be included in the board's standard budget for the immediately succeeding fiscal biennium.

(c) Notwithstanding W.S. 9-3-454, any amount required to make the payment as provided in subsection (a) of this section in addition to the appropriation provided under subsection (b) of this section shall be provided from amounts within the applicable retirement plans and then only in the amount necessary to make payments applicable to persons who receive benefits from the retirement plan from which the money is drawn.

(d) As used in this section, "retirement plan" includes all retirement plans administered by the Wyoming retirement board, including the volunteer firefighter, EMT and search and rescue pension plan under W.S. 35-9-616 through 35-9-628. "Retirement plan" shall not include the paid firemen plan A administered by the Wyoming retirement board under W.S. 15-5-201 through 15-5-209.

"Section 2.

(a) The Wyoming business council shall revert all unexpended, unobligated funds held in the business ready community account to the general fund.

(b) There is appropriated fifty-four million nine hundred thousand dollars ($54,900,000.00) from the general fund to the office of state lands and investments for the purpose set forth in subsection (c) of this section. This appropriation shall be reduced by one (1) dollar for every one (1) dollar appropriated for this purpose by 2026 Senate File 001.

(c) The appropriation in subsection (b) shall be for the purpose of grants distributed by the office of state lands and investments for capital improvement projects and, subject to subsection (d) of this section, shall be allocated for each county as follows:

(i) To each county an amount equal to the amount allocated in this subsection multiplied by eighty percent (80%) divided by the three (3) year rolling average of the total estimated state population multiplied by the three (3) year rolling average of the county's estimated population; plus

(ii) To each county, an amount equal to the remainder of the amount allocated in this subsection multiplied by each county's inverse per capita assessed valuation factor computed as follows:

(A) Divide each county's tax year 2025 assessed valuation by that county's population to compute county assessed valuation per capita and the total state 2025 assessed valuation by the total state population to compute state assessed valuation per capita;

(B) Divide the state assessed valuation per capita by each county's assessed valuation per capita to compute an inverse ratio for each county;

(C) Sum all the county inverse ratios computed in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph for a state total inverse ratio;

(D) Divide each county's inverse ratio by the state total inverse ratio to compute each county's inverse per capita assessed valuation factor.

(d) Funds subject to subsection (b) of this section shall not be distributed until after July 1, 2026 and shall only be expended for capital projects and major maintenance and repair of existing public facilities and infrastructure, including projects undertaken by special districts. To be eligible for the grants issued by the office of state lands and investments, the board of county commissioners and the governing bodies of at least fifty percent (50%) of the incorporated municipalities within the county shall certify to the state loan and investment board that they have reached agreement on the projects for which the funds will be used.

(e) For purposes of this section, estimated population of a city, town or county shall be determined by resort to the most recently completed federal census population estimates as reported by the economic analysis division within the department of administration.

(f) The appropriation in subsection (b) of this section shall not be transferred or expended for any other purpose and any unexpended, unobligated funds remaining from this appropriation shall revert as provided by law on June 30, 2030, except as provided in subsection (g) of this section.

(g) Amounts granted for capital project funding under this section which are in excess of final project costs shall not revert upon project completion but may be applied by the recipient governing bodies to any remaining project agreed upon in the consensus process at the county level as determined by the governing bodies. To the extent excess funds are not sufficient to complete an additional project, those funds may be held by the county treasurer for future project use as authorized in this subsection. As determined by the governing body in each county, amounts granted by the office of state lands and investments applied to a recipient governing body for a future project for which the funds will not be formally encumbered during the period beginning July 1, 2026 and ending June 30, 2030, shall not revert.

(h) This section is effective immediately.".

"Section 5.

(a) If needed to reach or implement an agreement with the federal government to enable Wyoming to receive federal rural health transformation funds, the governor may authorize deviations from the percentages, shares, allocations and distributions set forth in W.S. 35-25-702, 35-25-704, 35-25-706 and 35-25-707, as created by section 1 of this act, and section 4 of this act. The department of health shall, within thirty (30) days of any adjustment of percentages under this subsection, notify the legislative service office and the joint labor, health and social services interim committee of the adjustment.

(b) In authorizing deviations pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the governor shall give special consideration to whether the proposed agreement with the federal government that makes the deviations necessary meaningfully aids Wyoming in addressing the long-term problems created by high fixed costs for health care related services.

(c) The governor may, and if an agreement with the federal government cannot be reached pursuant to this act, the governor shall, in consultation with the attorney general, cause a legal analysis to be performed that considers whether reimbursement for Medicare, Medicaid and other services paid by the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services is illegally discriminatory against Wyoming providers. The analysis shall analyze any inadequate consideration given to Wyoming's high fixed costs due to Wyoming's low population and large distances and the impact of low case volumes on fixed costs. For private Wyoming providers, the analysis shall include consideration of whether the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services is behaving like a utility regulator but engaging in the illegal taking of private property by preventing providers from realizing an adequate recovery of costs and an adequate rate of return.".

"(ii) Article 1, section 2 of the Wyoming constitution recognizes that all members of the human race have an equal right to life. Unborn children are members of the human race. The general welfare of the state of Wyoming and its people necessary includes the preservation of life. In State v. Johnson,

2026 WY 1, the Wyoming supreme court acknowledged that the state has an interest "in protecting the life that an abortion would end." The legislature finds that a right to life is the most fundamental of all rights, and the state has a compelling interest in protecting that life;

(iii) Protecting the general welfare of the state of Wyoming and its people necessarily includes the obligation of the state to act in parens patriae, protecting those who cannot protect themselves. The state has a compelling interest in protecting the life of unborn members of the human race who cannot protect themselves;

(iv) Protecting the general welfare of the state of Wyoming and its people necessarily includes the obligation to support and encourage childbirth as an essential element in the future stability of our societal and economic structures. The state asserts a compelling interest in providing for the state's future population and societal and economic security by promoting childbirth;

(v) Medical evidence shows a fetal heartbeat is a key indicator that an unborn child is alive and will reach live birth. The state has a compelling interest, beginning at least at the time a fetal heartbeat is detected, in protecting the life of the unborn child.".

(a) As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(i) "Abortion" means an act, procedure, device or prescription administered to or prescribed for a pregnant woman by any person with knowledge of the pregnancy, including the pregnant woman herself, with the intent of producing the premature expulsion, removal or termination of a human embryo or fetus, except that in cases in which the viability of the embryo or fetus is threatened by continuation of the pregnancy, early delivery after viability by commonly accepted obstetrical practices shall not be construed as an abortion;

(ii) "Accepted medical procedures" means procedures of the type and performed in a manner and in a facility that is equipped with surgical, anesthetic, resuscitation and laboratory equipment sufficient to meet the standards of medical care that physicians engaged in the same or similar lines of work in the community would ordinarily exercise and devote to the benefit of their patients;

(iii) "Conception" means the fecundation of the ovum by the spermatozoa;

(iv) "Hospital" means those institutions licensed by the state department of health as hospitals;

(viii) "Pregnant" means that condition of a woman who has a human embryo or fetus within her as the result of conception;

(ix) "Viability" means that state of human development when the embryo or fetus is able to live by natural or life-supportive systems outside the womb of the mother, according to appropriate medical judgment;

(x) "Woman" means any female person.

(b) The singular, where used in this article, includes the plural, the plural includes the singular and the masculine gender includes the feminine or neuter genders, when consistent with the intent of this article and when necessary to effectuate its purpose.

35-6-502. No abortion after viability; exception.

An abortion shall not be performed after the embryo or fetus has reached viability, except when necessary to preserve the woman from an imminent peril that substantially endangers her life or health, according to appropriate medical judgment.

35-6-503. Viability not affected by abortion.

A physician who performs an abortion procedure employed pursuant to W.S. 35-6-502 shall not intentionally terminate the viability of the unborn infant prior to, during or following the procedure.

35-6-504. Means of treatment for viable abortion.

The commonly accepted means of care that would be rendered to any other infant born alive shall be employed in the treatment of any viable infant who survives an abortion or attempted abortion. Any physician performing an abortion shall take medically appropriate and reasonable steps to preserve the life and health of an infant born alive.

35-6-506. Penalty for a person other than a physician to perform abortion.

Any person other than a licensed physician who performs an abortion is guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one (1) year and not more than fourteen (14) years.

35-6-507. Procedure governing abortion performed upon minor.

(a) An abortion shall not be performed upon a minor unless at least one (1) of the minor's parents or her guardian are notified in writing at least forty-eight (48) hours before the abortion, and the attending physician has obtained the written consent of the minor and at least one (1) parent or guardian of the minor, unless:

(i) The minor, in a closed hearing, is granted the right to self-consent to an abortion by court order pursuant to subparagraph (b)(v)(B) of this section and the attending physician receives a certified copy of the court order and the written consent of the minor; or

(ii) The abortion is authorized by court order pursuant to subparagraph (b)(v)(C) of this section and the attending physician receives a certified copy of the court order.

(b) A juvenile court of competent jurisdiction may grant the right of a minor to self-consent to an abortion or may authorize an abortion upon a minor, in accordance with the following procedure:

(i) The minor shall apply to the juvenile court for assistance, either in person or through an adult of the minor's choice. The court shall assist the minor in preparing the petition and notices required under this section;

(ii) Notwithstanding W.S. 14-6-212, the minor or an adult of the minor's choice shall file a petition with the court, signed by the minor and setting forth:

(A) The initials of the minor and the minor's date of birth;

(B) The names and addresses, if known, of the minor's parents, guardian, custodian or, if the minor's parents are deceased and a guardian or custodian has not been appointed, any other person standing in loco parentis of the minor;

(E) Facts indicating why an abortion is in the best interest of the minor.

(iii) The court may appoint a guardian ad litem of the minor and may appoint legal counsel for the minor;

(iv) Not later than five (5) days after the petition is filed under paragraph (ii) of this subsection, a hearing on the merits of the petition shall be held on the record. Any appointed counsel shall be appointed and notified by the court at least forty-eight (48) hours before the time set for the hearing. At the hearing, the court shall hear evidence relating to:

(A) The maturity and understanding of the minor;

(B) The nature of the abortion, risks and consequences of the abortion and alternatives to the abortion; and

(C) Whether an abortion is in the best interest of the minor.

(v) In its order, which shall be issued not later than twenty-four (24) hours from the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall enter findings of fact and conclusions of law, order the record of the hearing sealed and shall:

(A) Deny the petition, setting forth the grounds on which the petition is denied;

(B) Grant the minor the right to self-consent to the abortion, based upon a finding by clear and convincing evidence that the minor is sufficiently mature and adequately informed to make her own decision, in consultation with her physician, independently of the wishes of her parent or guardian; or

(C) Authorize the abortion based upon a finding by clear and convincing evidence that the abortion is in the best interest of the minor.

(vi) Any order entered under paragraph (v) of this subsection may be appealed to the supreme court in accordance with the Wyoming Rules of Appellate Procedure. Notwithstanding W.S. 14-6-233, the supreme court shall, by rule, provide for expedited appellate review of appeals under this paragraph.

(c) This section shall not apply in an emergency medical situation when, to a reasonable degree of medical probability, the attending physician determines that an abortion is necessary to preserve the minor from an imminent peril that substantially endangers her life, and so certifies in the minor's medical record.

(d) The written notifications required under this section shall be delivered:

(i) Personally by the minor, attending physician or an agent; or

(ii) By certified mail addressed to the parent at the usual place of abode of the parent with return receipt requested and restricted delivery to the addressee.

(e) No parent, guardian or spouse shall require a minor to submit to an abortion against her wishes.

(f) Any physician or other person who knowingly performs an abortion on a minor in violation of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or both.

35-6-508. Information provided to patient; exceptions.

(a) Except in a case of medical emergency, the physician performing the abortion on the patient, the referring physician or a person designated by either physician shall inform the patient of the opportunity to view an active ultrasound of the unborn child and hear the heartbeat of the unborn child if the heartbeat is audible. The active ultrasound image and auscultation of the fetal heart tone shall be of a quality consistent with standard medical practice in the community.

(b) This section shall not apply to a procedure performed with the intent to:

(i) Save the life of the patient;

(ii) Ameliorate a serious risk of causing the patient substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function;

(iii) Preserve the health of the unborn child;

(iv) Remove a dead unborn child; or

(v) Remove an ectopic pregnancy.

35-6-509. Applicability; intent.

(a) It is the intent of the legislature that, subject to W.S. 35-6-510:

(i) The abortion regulations that existed in Wyoming before the United States supreme court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, 597 U.S. 2015 (2022) be in effect;

(ii) In light of the Wyoming supreme court's decision in State v. Johnson, 2026 WY 1, the abortion regulations that existed before the enactment of the Life is a Human Right Act be in effect so that abortion in Wyoming is regulated as it was before the United States Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs and the enactment of the Life is a Human Right Act and any subsequent enacted law regulating abortion in the state.

35-6-510. Whether article is effective.

(a) This article shall be effective only if a court has enjoined the enforcement or applicability of W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 or has held that W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 violates the Wyoming constitution or the United States constitution.

(b) The attorney general shall review the decisions of any court that challenges W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 to determine whether W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 are enforceable. If the attorney general determines that W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 are not enforceable or cannot take effect, the attorney general shall, within thirty (30) days of the date of the decision, report that fact to the governor, the joint judiciary interim committee and the governor, who may certify the effectiveness of this article to the secretary of state.

(c) After receiving certification from the governor that this article is effective, the secretary of state shall report that fact to the management council of the legislature, the joint judiciary interim committee and the Wyoming state board of medicine and shall immediately publish the effective date of this article on the website of the secretary of state, which effective date shall be five (5) days after the secretary of state receives certification under subsection (b) of this section.

(d) To the extent that W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 are enjoined but later determined to be legal, constitutional or enforceable after this article has taken effect, the provisions of W.S. 35-6-401 through 35-6-404 shall control and take precedence over this article.

Section 5. W.S. 5-8-102(a) by creating a new paragraph (vii) is amended to read:

5-8-102. Jurisdiction.

(a) The juvenile court has general jurisdiction in all matters and proceedings commenced therein or transferred to it by order of the district court concerning:

(vii) Procedures governing abortions performed on minors as provided under W.S. 35-6-507, subject to W.S 35-6-510. For proceedings under this paragraph, "minor" shall mean as defined in W.S. 35-6-501(a)(v).".

House Investigative Committee
Final Report

DATE March 4, 2026
TO Members, 68th Wyoming State Legislature
FROM House Special Investigative Committee
SUBJECT Findings and Recommendations

BACKGROUND

On February 12, 2026 the Wyoming House of Representatives voted unanimously to convene a special Committee to investigate whether checks were provided to members of the House of Representatives on the floor of the House of Representatives on February 9, 2026 and whether that action is a violation of the Wyoming State Constitution under Article 3, Section 42 or Section 43 or constitutes legislative misconduct as defined in Joint Rule 22-1(d). See Appendix 1.

On Saturday, February 14, the Laramie County Sheriff publicly announced that his office was launching a criminal investigation into the same allegations the 2026 Special Investigative Committee of the Wyoming House of Representatives (Committee) had been tasked with investigating.

On February 18, the House of Representatives considered this Committee's motion to hold these proceedings in abeyance pending the outcome of any criminal investigation or criminal proceeding. See Appendix 2. Twenty-one members voted in favor of abeyance. Thirty-seven voted to continue, and four were excused. Thus, the House directed this Committee to proceed.

Article 3, Section 12 of the Wyoming Constitution grants the House of Representatives the power to establish rules for its proceedings to protect its members against offers of bribes or private solicitation and punish or expel its members and other persons for corruption, contempt, and disorderly behavior in its presence.

Implied within that authority is the power of the House of Representatives to conduct investigations into matters for which discipline or other action may be warranted. Although such investigations are rare in Wyoming, when serious questions arise concerning the conduct of elected representatives, an inquiry of this nature becomes necessary.

The Committee convened for the purpose of fulfilling its responsibilities at the behest of the members of the House on February 26 at 3:00 PM. See Appendix 3.

At the beginning of the Committee's investigative hearing, the following remarks were read by the chairman:

> "It is important to remember what these hearings are, and what they are not. They are not a trial. It is not a criminal proceeding, a civil proceeding, or any other adversarial proceeding. It is a legislative fact-finding inquiry. The Committee is not adjudicating guilt and is not functioning as a judicial tribunal. The procedural safeguards required in courts do not apply here.
> This is also a legislative investigation of colleagues. Members serve alongside one another and inevitably bring prior impressions of the events, personal relationships, public information, and constituent concerns into this room. That reality does not prevent us from fulfilling our duty. I believe the Wyoming Constitution anticipated this very dynamic. Our duty is to come together today with open minds, to ask careful questions, and to determine the facts based on the evidence presented here."

This investigation was constrained by the motion (Appendix 1) which created procedural restrictions and time frames that limited the scope and depth of the Committee's work. For example, the investigation was to be conducted in public and broadcast. Further, the Committee was to conduct an "expeditious" investigation and file its report within four legislative days of convening. Because of these constraints, the Committee did not retain an outside law firm nor hire private investigators to conduct this work. A coexistent criminal investigation further complicated the efforts of the Committee. The criminal investigation was expected to last about four weeks and involve five detectives, according to information provided by the Laramie County Sheriffs Office. Despite these constraints, the Committee endeavored to bring forth and share, with not only the House of Representatives but also the people of Wyoming, the relevant facts and information in an orderly fashion.

EXHIBITS

A significant amount of information is already in the public record. In the past two weeks there has been a substantial volume of public reporting and commentary. The Committee, assisted by Legislative Service Office (LSO) staff, sought to bring order to that virtual blizzard of information, provide context, and present a clear and cohesive factual record to the House.

Prior to convening, the Committee, with the vital assistance of our LSO staff, collected and cataloged 47 exhibits that were submitted voluntarily by individuals involved. In addition, with the assistance of LSO staff, the Committee collected 31 open-source documents, including news articles, other media publications, and security videos from public records requests. Please see Appendix 8 for a complete list of exhibits reviewed by the Committee.

Consistent with our mandate, these documents were posted on a public facing page online.

WITNESS ADVISEMENT

All witnesses were notified of the following:

> W1. That their testimony would be included in the Committee's investigation.
> W2. The information provided will not be treated as confidential and may be used in future legislative, executive, or judicial proceedings.

W3. Each witness has the right to appear with legal counsel and to assert any privilege recognized under the United States Constitution or the Constitution of the State of Wyoming.

W4. No witness is being granted or purported to be granted immunity for testimony given here.

W5. No person is compelled to appear, to testify, or to produce materials. Participation in this proceeding is voluntary.

See Appendix 6 for the Witness Oath and Advisement.

COMMITTEE FINDINGS

The Committee finds the following:

F1. Representative Nina Webber escorted Rebecca Bextel onto the House Floor and pointed in the direction of the Representatives who would subsequently receive checks.

F2. Campaign contribution checks were handed out on the Floor of the House on February 9, 2026 on or about 5:20 PM after the chamber had adjourned for the day and that Rebecca Bextel was the person who handed out those checks. Representatives Joe Webb, Marlene Brady, Darin McCann and Chris Kanpp each received one of those checks. Those checks were from Don Grasso, and each was in the amount of $1,500. The checks to Joe Webb, Marlene Brady, and Darin McCann were made payable to the campaign accounts of the representatives. The check given to Representative Chris Knapp was made payable to him. None of the checks bore a notation of purpose.

F3. Dissemination and receipt of campaign contributions on the floor of the House is highly unusual and perhaps unprecedented in the history of the state.

F4. Were it not for the actions of Rebecca Bextel on the House Floor, the subsequent disruptions of the House calendar and public uproar would not have occurred.

F5. Under certain statutorily defined circumstances, a campaign contribution may constitute bribery.

F6. Taken together, the evidence collected and testimony given did not reveal a violation of Article 3, Sections 42 or 43 of the Wyoming Constitution.

F7. Taken together, the evidence collected and the testimony given did not reveal an explicit violation of any specific Rule of the House of Representatives or Joint Rule of the Senate and House of Representatives.

F8. Despite findings F6 and F7, the Committee recognizes that the conduct that occurred on the House Floor was undesirable and must never occur again.

F9. Existing rules, while not specific to the conduct investigated by the Committee, when taken as a whole, recognize that the Floor of the House of Representatives is a specially designated place unlike most others. It is an area deserving of particular reverence and respect. Campaign activity on the House Floor, even if de minimis or otherwise lawful, may attract heightened scrutiny because of the chamber's institutional and historical significance. The chamber is the designated forum in which the House exercises its constitutional legislative authority. "The bar" marks the boundary separating members' space from non-members, particularly while the House is in session but also when recessed. Private electoral conduct on the chamber floor may also create the perception, fairly or not, that financial support provided in the chamber by individuals with political interests is intertwined with the lawmaking process.

The Wyoming Constitution charges each house with the power "to protect its members against ... offers of bribes or private solicitation." Wyo. Const. Art. 3, Sec. 12. That charge may be reflected in restrictions the Legislature has adopted to limit lobbying and efforts to influence legislation within spaces reserved for the exercise of official authority. The following House Rules reflect those principles:

- H.R. 15-1(a) limits who may enter within the bar of the House to members, certain officials and employees, invited guests, and those approved by a majority of the House;
- H.R. 15-1(a) further provides that, except for members, no person may influence the passage or defeat of legislation in the House chamber;
- H.R. 15-1(b) denies floor privileges during session to any former member who is registered as a lobbyist.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Committee recommends the following:

Generally
Management Council is urged to consider additional signage at the entry to the Floor of the House of Representatives detailing expectations and guidance to visitors.

Rule Changes
When a Representative escorts any member of the public onto the Floor of the House of Representatives, that member is personally responsible for the behavior of that person while on the Floor of the House of Representatives.

Management Council is urged to review the rules of legislatures in neighboring states concerning political campaign activities during the legislative session and especially on the floor of the legislature and related ethical considerations to determine if further rule changes may be appropriate to ensure against similar conduct in the future.

Legislator Training
Existent rules reflect that a history and tradition regarding the Floor of the House of Representatives exists, Violations of this history and tradition should result in some level of condemnation. Adoption of a specific rule in response to this incident is an acknowledgement of the special nature of the House Floor. All of us can likely think of non-criminal conduct that we would not want to see on the House Floor. Even so, drafting specific rules regarding such conduct seems unwarranted given the number of topics which may need to be addressed.

Rather, the Committee recommends the development of a lesson on the institution, the need to avoid appearances of impropriety and the rationale behind the existing rules that denote the Floor of the House of Representatives as a special place. This lesson should be included as a block of instruction in the required training provided to legislators.

A summary of the training provided as described above will be included in new editions of the Legislative Handbook.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the Committee has fulfilled its responsibilities. The facts, exhibits, and statements received by the Committee are all available for the members of the House and the people of Wyoming to review and evaluate.

Speaker Pro Tempore Haroldson gave the following report to the House:

Journal Entry, March 11, 2026

Speaker Pro Tempore Jeremy Haroldson explained that over the last week, he served as Chairman of a committee that reviewed ethics complaints under Joint Rule 22-1 regarding two members arising from an incident on February 9, 2026. The JR22-1 complaint process is confidential until the complaints are dismissed. This incident was of such a public nature that Speaker Pro Tempore Haroldson believed this discussion needed to happen before the House.

By way of background, Speaker Pro Tempore Haroldson explained that a Special Investigative Committee of the House was convened and reviewed sworn testimony establishing that, following adjournment on February 9, a private citizen was escorted onto the House floor and delivered legal campaign contributions to four Representatives. Testimony further established that Representative Karlee Provenza photographed the interaction, provided the photograph to members of the media, and did not report the matter to House Leadership. The Special Investigative Committee determined that neither the actions of the private citizen nor those of the involved Representatives constituted a violation of Article 3, Sections 42 or 43 of the Wyoming Constitution or any legislative rule.

Representative Haroldson further reported that, on February 11, 2026, during debate on House Bill 141, Representative Mike Yin referenced the incident on the House floor. The photograph taken by Representative Provenza was subsequently published by multiple media outlets. Multiple ethics complaints were received by House Leadership against Representatives Yin and Provenza.

Upon review, Representative Haroldson and the Committee reviewing ethics complaints found that Representative Yin's statements during floor debate did not allege criminal or unethical conduct and did not constitute a violation of Joint Rule 22-1; therefore, all complaints against Representative Yin were dismissed.

With respect to Representative Provenza, the Committee reviewing ethics complaints found no legislative misconduct and dismissed all complaints against her. The Committee found that Representative Provenza acted within her constitutionally protected right when she provided photos of members receiving checks on the floor to the media. However, the Committee concluded that her actions subjected members to public animadversion and adversely affected the integrity and order of the House.

Representative Haroldson emphasized the constitutional authority of the House to preserve order and decorum and encouraged all members to exercise their rights in a manner that upholds the integrity of the institution.

Majority Floor Leader Heiner: Mr. Speaker, I move that bills currently pending before this body in the 68th Wyoming State Legislature, 2026 Budget Session, be indefinitely postponed.

Minority Floor Leader Yin: Mr. Speaker I second the motion of the Majority Floor Leader.

Speaker Neiman: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' By your vote the motion has passed the House.

Majority Floor Leader Heiner: Mr. Speaker, I move that the Senate be informed that the House of Representatives, of the 68th Wyoming State Legislature, 2026 Budget Session, has completed its business and is ready to adjourn.

Majority Floor Leader Heiner: Mr. Speaker, I move that a committee of two be appointed to inform the Governor that the House has completed its business and is ready to adjourn; and to escort His Excellency, the Governor, to the House Chamber.

Speaker Neiman: You have heard the motion; all those in favor say 'Aye,' opposed, 'No.' The motion carried. Representative Heiner and Representative Yin, please inform the Governor that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is ready to adjourn and escort His Excellency, Governor Gordon, to the House Chamber. The House of Representatives will stand at ease until the sound of the gavel.

Speaker Neiman: The House will come to order. All rise, please.

Sergeant-at-Arms Keslar: Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure to announce, His Excellency, the Governor of Wyoming, Mark Gordon.

Speaker Neiman: Governor Gordon, we welcome you to the House of Representatives.

Governor Gordon gave closing remarks to the members of the House.

Speaker Neiman: Governor Gordon, on behalf of the members of the House of Representatives, I thank you for your closing remarks to us.

Representative Heiner and Representative Yin please escort His Excellency, the Governor from the House Chamber.

Speaker Neiman: We are now at that order of business, the Reading, Correction and Approval of the Journal.

Representative Jarvis: Mr. Speaker, your Journal Committee reports that the Journal of March 11, 2026 has been read and recommends that it be approved.

Speaker Neiman: There being no objection, the report is adopted.

CLOSING OF SESSION

Majority Floor Leader Heiner moved the following:

Benediction by Representative Hoeft.
