8 (b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c) of 9 this section, grants under the forest health grant program 10 shall pay for not more than seventy-five percent (75%) of 11 the cost of an eligible forest health project as specified 12 in this subsection. Any other source of funds, cash or 13 in-kind contributions may be used as matching funds to 14 cover the remainder of a project's costs and the state 15 forester may require that matching funds be obligated to 16 pay for a portion of any project. Forest health projects
17 eligible for grant funding under this section shall be 18 conducted on state, federal government, local government or 19 private land, shall be necessary in the public interest and

17 percent (50%) of the cost of an eligible forest health
18 project as specified under subsection (b) of this section.
19 Any other source of funds, cash or in-kind contributions
20 may be used as matching funds to cover the remainder of a 21 project's costs and the state forester may require that 22 matching funds be obligated to pay for a portion of any 23 project. If a forest health project is conducted through

1 good neighbor authority, receipts collected through
2 implementation of the project may be used as matching funds
3 under this subsection.

6 section without the written opinion of the attorney general
7 certifying the legality of the grant and all documents
8 connected with the grant and project.

11 account. The account shall consist of those funds
12 designated to the account by law. Funds in the account 13 shall be used for grants authorized to be made under this 14 section. Any person may also grant, give, transfer, bequest 15 or donate funds to the account. Funds in the account shall 16 be invested as provided by law. Any funds remaining in the 10 remaining in the forest health grant program account on 11 July 1, 2030 shall:

12

13 (i) If the source of the funds were not state 14 funds, be returned, without interest or other earnings, to 15 the person that granted, gave, transferred, bequeathed or 16 donated the funds pursuant to subsection (d) of this 17 section. If there are multiple sources of funds that are 18 not state funds, the funds may be provided on a pro rata
19 basis using the amount of funds available in the account
