June 23, 2023

Greetings Wyoming Legislatures.

This Petition is in support of the residents of Wyoming who want an acquisition value to remedy the real property tax issue that affects us statewide. These issues are not going to be resolved themselves without changes made by all of you as our representatives. Band-Aid fixes, undelivered promises, and misunderstanding how property values are calculated aren't going to get the job done either. We need a solution in the immediate future. A guarantee for the future of the residents, in which they have labored for and attained, those who provide for your very foundation as well. We want to see the acquisition value appear on the next ballot not just the 4th proposed separate class which will not be effective when the Neighborhood Assessment is increased.

In light of the length of time we've experienced these effects and the seriousness of this issue, it warrants you knowing too that this collection of signatures was gathered mainly from one County by in the majority part, by one individual. Consider what the result would have been with more participation. Also, know that we have united beliefs in what we want from around the State. We all want this issue taken seriously, as it weighs very heavily on our minds and hearts, the people you've been elected to represent. We the people are speaking, so we do not wish this to be taken lightly and wish for the weight of this petition to be taken seriously. Again, this is a very real and serious issue. The 1,825 Signatures Attached are from residents around the State of Wyoming in support of an Acquisition Value for Wyoming Property Taxes.

Respectfully Submitted,

Rozmaring Czaban

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

"There's going to be a time in America where it doesn't pay to own a damn thing." - Marvin Bishop the 1st.

The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.

2022 State of Wyoming Petition for Needed Change

The people of Wyoming identify the following deficiencies within our elected leadership, and we call for its immediate change and attention.

Our property taxes have been on the increase for the last three years and this year they are out of control! Having them being based off of speculation and artificially inflated values with entity's applying Mill Levy's at maximum tax rates is straining all our residents and especially detrimental to our senior population. We want a referendum to our state laws. We want reform to the way property taxes currently stand, and we want legislation to implement an acquisition valuation for our property taxes. Revenue would be equitable, more favorable to the tax payers and provide for a consistent stable budget for the state.

Accountability, transparency, and the needs of the public are first before the self-interests of those we elect. The people we have elected are to be committed and dedicated to the job, working full time as they are collecting a full-time salary. More public interaction, engagement, and feedback should be a high priority and is necessary to a better future.

Again, to our elected officials - balance the budget! Our needs are first and wants are second. This includes your pay raises.
