2 affirmative defense for the use of defensive force for the
3 protection or defense of nuclear facilities; providing 4 definitions; establishing an offense of trespass on
5 commercial nuclear generating facilities; specifying

9
10 Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Wyoming:

1 Section 1. W.S. 6-2-604 and 6-3-308 are created to
2 read:

3

4 6-2-604. Use of force in defense of nuclear
5 facilities; definitions; detention authority.

6

7 (a) As used in this section:

8

9 (i) "Armed nuclear security guard" means a person
10 who is:

11

12 (A) Employed by or contracted with a nuclear 13 power reactor that is licensed by the United States nuclear 14 regulatory commission and is located at a commercial
15 nuclear generating station; and 16

17 (B) Employed or contracted as part of the 18 security plan approved by the United States nuclear
19 regulatory commission and who meets the requirements
20 mandated by the commission for carrying a firearm.

21

22 (ii) "Commercial nuclear generating station"
23 means a facility that is owned by any person except for the

1 United States nuclear regulatory commission and that
2 produces electricity by means of a nuclear reactor under a
3 license issued by the United States nuclear regulatory
4 commission. "Commercial nuclear generating station"
5 includes the property on which the generating station is 6 located and any other structure and fencing associated with 7 the generating station;

8
9 (iii) "Enter" means the intrusion of any part of 10 any instrument or any part of a person's body, no matter

23 STAFF COMMENT
24

1 -The Committee may wish to consider whether a definition of
2 "enter" or "enter or remaining unlawfully" is necessary.
3 Generally, the Wyoming Supreme Court would interpret
4 "enter" based on its plain-language meaning. See Anderson
5 v. State, 2023 WY 65, ¶ 12, 531 P.3d 912, 915 (Wyo. 2023).
6

7 The term "enters" is used in both Wyoming's burglary and 8 criminal entry statutes. W.S. 6-3-301 and 6-3-302. In both
9 instances, the term is not defined.

10
11 -The Committee may also wish to consider defining "deadly
12 force" for purposes of this section; that term is already
13 defined in Wyoming's self-defense law:
14

15 6-2-602. Use of force in self defense; no duty to 16 retreat.
17

18 (g) As used in this section:
19

20 (iii) "Deadly force" means force that is
21 intended or likely to cause death or serious bodily injury.

25

26 (v) "Exclusion area" means the area of a
27 commercial nuclear generating station in which a United 28 States nuclear regulatory commission licensee has the 29 authority to determine all activities, including the 30 exclusion or removal of property and personnel from the 31 area;
32

33 (vi) "Protected area" means the area of a
34 commercial nuclear generating station within the exclusion
35 area that is encompassed by physical barriers;

1

2 (vii) "Structure and fencing" means any
3 structure, fenced yard, wall, building or other similar
4 barrier or combination thereof that surrounds a commercial
5 nuclear generating station and that is posted with signage
6 stating that it is a felony to trespass at the commercial
7 nuclear generating station.

11 STAFF COMMENT

12

13 The language provided to the Committee at the May meeting
14 uses the term "physical force" when describing the force an 15 armed guard at a nuclear generation facility may use. To be 16 consistent with Wyoming's law governing self-defense, the 17 term "defensive force" is used throughout this bill draft.

18

19 Similarly, the term "privileged" has been used elsewhere in 20 Wyoming law concerning the use of defensive force; that
21 term is used in this bill draft instead of the term
22 "justified."

26

27 (b) An armed nuclear security guard is privileged to 28 use defensive force against another person at a commercial
29 nuclear generating station if the guard reasonably believes
30 that the defensive force is necessary to prevent or 31 terminate the commission of a burglary under W.S. 6-3-301,

1 criminal entry under W.S. 6-3-302, criminal trespass under
2 W.S. 6-3-303 or criminal trespass at a commercial nuclear
3 generating station under 6-3-308 within or upon a protected
4 area.

5

6 (c) An armed nuclear security guard is privileged to 7 use defensive force, including deadly force, against
8 another person at a commercial nuclear generating station
9 if the guard reasonably believes that defensive force or 10 deadly force is necessary to:

11

12 (i) Prevent the commission of a manslaughter,
13 murder, aggravated assault, kidnapping, burglary, criminal
14 entry, arson or robbery within or upon a protected area;

15

16 (ii) Prevent acts of radiological sabotage or the 17 theft or diversion of special nuclear material within or 18 upon a protected area under a security plan approved by the 19 United States nuclear regulatory commission;

20

21 (iii) Defend against the use or imminent use of 22 deadly force against the guard or other person within or 23 upon a protected area.

1

2 (d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this
3 section, an armed nuclear security guard is privileged to 4 threaten to use defensive force, including deadly force, if
5 and to the extent that a reasonable armed nuclear security
6 guard believes that the force is necessary to protect the 7 guard or others against another person's potential use of 8 force or deadly force within or upon a protected area.

9

10 (e) An armed nuclear security guard using defensive
11 force, including deadly force, in accordance with this 12 section shall not be liable under civil or criminal law for 13 engaging in conduct that is privileged under this section.

16
17 (g) For purposes of subsection (f) of this section, an

23 generating facility where the guard was employed for false
24 arrest, false imprisonment, unlawful imprisonment or 25 unlawful detention.

STAFF COMMENT

The Committee may wish to consider modeling the language of subsections (f) and (g) above on W.S. 6-3-405, which provides the process by which persons suspected of shoplifting may be detained and the defense to liability available to those detaining suspected shoplifters.

6-3-405. Reasonable detention and interrogation of persons suspected of shoplifting or altering price tag; defense in civil or criminal action.

(a) A peace officer, merchant or merchant's employee who has reasonable cause to believe a person is violating W.S. 6-3-402 with regard to property offered for sale by a wholesale or retail store may detain and interrogate the person in regard to the suspected violation in a reasonable manner and for a reasonable time.

(b) In a civil or criminal action for slander, false arrest, false imprisonment, assault, battery or wrongful detention based upon a detention and interrogation pursuant to this section, it is a defense that the peace officer, merchant or merchant's employee had reasonable cause to believe the person was violating W.S. 6-3-402 with regard to property offered for sale by a wholesale or retail store and the detention and interrogation were conducted in a reasonable manner and for a reasonable time.

6-3-308. Criminal trespass at a commercial nuclear generating station.

(a) The definitions of W.S. 6-2-604 shall apply to this section.

1

2 (b) A person is guilty of criminal trespass at a
3 commercial nuclear generating station if the person
4 knowingly:

5

6 (i) Enters or remains unlawfully in or on a
7 commercial nuclear generating station; or

8

9 (ii) Enters or remains unlawfully within the 10 structure and fencing of a commercial nuclear generating 11 station.

12

13 (c) Criminal trespass at a commercial nuclear
14 generating facility is a felony punishable by imprisonment
15 for not more than five (5) years, a fine of not more than 16 one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or both.

21

22 The Committee may wish to consider whether amendments to 23 W.S. 6-1-204 (concerning immunity from civil action for the 24 justifiable use of force) and W.S. 6-2-504(b) (reckless 25 endangering) are necessary in light of the provisions of 26 this bill draft. Both sections are reproduced below:

27

1 6-1-204. Immunity from civil action for justifiable
2 use of force; attorney fees.
3

4 (a) Except as provided by W.S. 6-1-103(a), a person
5 who uses reasonable defensive force pursuant to W.S. 6-2-
6 602 is immune from civil action for the use of the force.
7

8 (b) In a civil action filed against a person related
9 to the person's use of defensive force, the person may file
10 a motion with the court asserting that the person used
11 reasonable defensive force under W.S. 6-2-602. Upon the 12 filing of the motion the court shall hold a hearing prior 13 to trial and shall grant the person's motion if he proves
14 by a preponderance of the evidence that he used reasonable
15 defensive force under W.S. 6-2-602.
16

17 (c) A court shall award reasonable attorney fees,
18 court costs, compensation for any loss of income and all
19 other expenses incurred by a person in defense of any civil 20 action arising from the person's use of reasonable
21 defensive force pursuant to W.S. 6-2-602 if the court finds
22 that the defendant is immune from civil action under
23 subsection (a) of this section.
24

25 6-2-504. Reckless endangering; penalty.
26

27 (a) A person is guilty of reckless endangering if he
28 recklessly engages in conduct which places another person
29 in danger of death or serious bodily injury.
30

31 (b) Any person who knowingly points a firearm at or
32 in the direction of another, whether or not the person
33 believes the firearm is loaded, is guilty of reckless 34 endangering unless reasonably necessary in defense of his 35 person, property or abode or to prevent serious bodily
36 injury to another or as provided for under W.S. 6-2-602.
37

38 (c) Reckless endangering is a misdemeanor punishable
39 by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year.
