RE: Emergency Rules and Regulations
State Loan and Investment Board
Chapter 14 – Fees for Administrative Services and Interest Rates
Chapter 38 – Capital Construction Loans

On June 3, 2021, the State Loan and Investment Board (Board) authorized the adoption of emergency rules for the timely awarding of funding to urgent projects under the Capital Construction Loan Program. The emergency Rules and Regulations adopted by the Board are Chapter 14 – Fees for Administrative Services and Interest Rates and Chapter 38 – Capital Construction Loans (Board Matter C-3).

The Board authorized emergency rules for Chapters 14 and 38 of its rules to implement changes to the Capital Construction Loan program created by legislation passed during the 2021 General Session of the Wyoming Legislature. (HEA0071/HB0188, amending W.S. § 16-1-111). The legislation authorizes loans to irrigation and water conservation districts through the Board's Capital Construction Loan program. The adopted emergency rules will allow the Board to award a loan to urgent irrigation projects, which will allow applicants to take advantage of the 2021 construction season.

The Board authorized emergency rules to Chapter 14 define the interest rate for irrigation district loans in accordance with the new legislation. Additional changes provide clarifying language related to the newly established tiered interest rates for the Clean Water and Drinking Water State Revolving Loan programs. The language provides guidance for the instances when principal forgiveness is available, but insufficient to provide the full amount an entity is eligible to receive.

The Board authorized emergency rules to Chapter 38 put in place the necessary administrative framework to add irrigation and water conservation districts to the Loan Program. Specifically, the rules expand program eligibility to include the newly eligible entities and to define eligible water project types and uses of funds. In addition to the amendments to address legislative changes, the proposed changes also amend the sections governing disbursements by eliminating the requirement for a direct deposit account and expanding the section governing refinancing to allow the Board more options to refinance troubled loans. Both of these changes are intended to better steward the State's financial resources and protect the Permanent Mineral Trust Fund.

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPAL REASONS FOR ADOPTION OF RULES

The State Loan and Investment Board is amending Chapters 14 and 38 of its rules to implement changes to the Capital Construction Loan program created by legislation passed during the 2021 General Session of the Wyoming Legislature. (HEA0071/HB0188, amending W.S. § 16-1-111). The legislation authorizes loans to irrigation and water conservation districts through the Board's Capital Construction Loan program. The Board is promulgating these rules as emergency rules to allow the Board to award a loan to an urgent irrigation project, which will allow the applicant to take advantage of the 2021 construction season.

The proposed amendments to Chapter 14 define the interest rate for irrigation district loans in accordance with the new legislation. Additional changes provide clarifying language related to the newly established tiered interest rates for the Clean Water and Drinking Water State Revolving Loan programs. The language provides guidance for the instances when principal forgiveness is available, but insufficient to provide the full amount an entity is eligible to receive.

The proposed amendments to Chapter 38 put in place the necessary administrative framework to add irrigation and water conservation districts to the Loan Program. Specifically, the rules expand program eligibility to include the newly eligible entities and to define eligible water project types and uses of funds. In addition to the amendments to address legislative changes, the proposed changes also amend the sections governing disbursements by eliminating the requirement for a direct deposit account and expanding the section governing refinancing to allow the Board more options to refinance troubled loans. Both of these changes are intended to better steward the State's financial resources and protect the Permanent Mineral Trust Fund.
